

1 Start by placing the oar in the water with the blade vertical.

2 Move the oar to one side and twist your wrist so that the blade ends up at around 60° to the vertical.

3 Now move the oar across the boat, rotating your wrist so the blade is twisted 60° to the other side. Repeat back and forth in a figure-of-eight movement.

4 To gain extra speed, give the blade a positive 'flick' at the end of each stroke to complete the twist: this gets maximum thrust from the blade. You should find that the movement of the oar, scything through the water, provides enough of a downward force to keep it in the notch.
