Pelerins Du Moyen Age Les Hommes Les Chemins Les Sanctuaires:

Pèlerins du Moyen Age Raymond Oursel, 1978 Wandering Women and Holy Matrons Leigh Ann Craig, 2009 This book explores women's experiences of pilgrimage in Latin Christendom between 1300 and 1500 C E Later medieval authors harbored grave doubts about women's mobility literary images of mobile women commonly accused them of lust pride greed and deceit Yet real women commonly engaged in pilgrimage in a variety of forms both physical and spiritual voluntary and compulsory and to locations nearby and distant Acting within both practical and social constraints such women helped to construct more positive interpretations of their desire to travel and of their experiences as pilgrims Regardless of how their travel was interpreted those women who succeeded in becoming pilgrims offer us a rare glimpse of ordinary women taking on extraordinary religious and social authority Wandering Monks, Virgins, and Pilgrims Maribel Dietz, 2010-11-01 Dietz finds that this period of Christianity witnessed an explosion of travel as men and women took to the roads seeking spiritual meaning in a life of itinerancy This book is essential reading for those who study the history of monasticism for it was a monastic context that religious travel first claimed an essential place within Christianity Saints and Their Cults Stephen Wilson, 1985 This is a paperback edition of a collection of ten papers by different authors on the cult of saints first published in hard covers in 1983 Six have been translated from French including a pioneering study by Robert Hertz one of Durkheim's most eminent pupils The editor provides a wide ranging general and historical introduction and a 100 page annotated bibliography covering material on the subject in all disciplines and in four main languages The Birth of Europe Jacques Le Goff, 2009-02-04 In this ground breaking new study Jacques Le Goff arguably the leading medievalist of his generation presents his view of the primacy of the Middle Ages in the development of European history A superb and necessary book This provocative assessment from a lifetime of scholarship might help us to place ourselves not just territorially but in that other precious element of history time The Guardian A book that never fails to be informative readable and provocative Le Goff has been the bravest and best of champions for medieval history This book is in every sense an inspiration BBC History Magazine Praised by prominent figures in Europe and history including Rt Hon Christopher Patten CH Former Member of the European Commission and Neil Kinnock Vice President European Commission The Age of Pilgrimage Jonathan Sumption, 2003 We are apt to forget how much people traveled in the Middle Ages Not only merchants friars soldiers and official messengers but crowds of pilgrims were a familiar sight on the roads of Western Europe In this engaging work of history Jonathan Sumption brings alive the traditions of pilgrimage prevalent in Europe from the beginning of Christianity to the end of the fifteenth century Vividly describing such major destinations as Jerusalem Rome Santiago de Compostela and Canterbury he examines both major figures popes kings queens scholars villains and the common people of their day The Long Divergence Timur Kuran, 2012-11-11 How religious barriers stalled capitalism in the Middle East In the year 1000 the economy of the Middle East was at least as advanced as that of Europe But by 1800 the region had fallen dramatically behind in living standards technology and economic institutions In short the Middle East had failed to modernize economically as the West surged ahead What caused this long divergence And why does the Middle East remain drastically underdeveloped compared to the West In The Long Divergence one of the world's leading experts on Islamic economic institutions and the economy of the Middle East provides a new answer to these long debated questions Timur Kuran argues that what slowed the economic development of the Middle East was not colonialism or geography still less Muslim attitudes or some incompatibility between Islam and capitalism Rather starting around the tenth century Islamic legal institutions which had benefitted the Middle Eastern economy in the early centuries of Islam began to act as a drag on development by slowing or blocking the emergence of central features of modern economic life including private capital accumulation corporations large scale production and impersonal exchange By the nineteenth century modern economic institutions began to be transplanted to the Middle East but its economy has not caught up And there is no quick fix today Low trust rampant corruption and weak civil societies all characteristic of the region's economies today and all legacies of its economic history will take generations to overcome The Long Divergence opens up a frank and honest debate on a crucial issue that even some of the most ardent secularists in the Muslim world have hesitated to discuss Religion and religious institutions in the European economy, 1000-1800 Istituto internazionale di storia economica F. Datini.

Settimana di studio,2012 Pilgrimage Jonathan Sumption,2011-07-07 In a fascinating work of history Jonathan Sumption brings alive the traditions of pilgrimage prevalent in Europe from the beginning of Christianity to the end of the fifteenth century Vividly describing such major destinations as Jerusalem Rome Santiago de Compostela and Canterbury he examines both major figures popes kings queens scholars villains and the common people of their day With great sympathy he evokes their achievements and failures and addresses the question of what motivated such extraordinary quests Les pèlerins du

Devotion and Pilgrimage in the Netherlands Jan van Herwaarden,2021-10-25 This volume is divided into four sections late medieval devotion in the Netherlands medieval Christian pilgrimage the medieval cult of St James the Great and Erasmiana Variety and coherence sound the keynote in the title and the contents of the book Religious concepts and expressions of religious faith such as pilgrimages and indulgences are representative of late medieval Christianity In this book they refer specifically to the medieval cult of St James the Great while for Erasmus they were an object of his critical consideration The whole book can be read in the light of the debate about the tension between an appreciation for outward signs of faith and the inward experience of religious belief which Erasmus considered an absolute necessity Allegory of
