Long Poem Anthology:

Anthologizing Canadian Literature Robert Lecker, 2015-11-02 The first collection of critical essays devoted to the study of English Canadian literary anthologies brings together the work of thirteen prominent critics to investigate anthology formation in Canada and answer these key questions Why are there so many literary anthologies in Canada and how can we trace their history What role have anthologies played in the formation of Canadian literary taste How have anthologies influenced the training of students from generation to generation What literary values do the editors of various anthologies tend to support and how do these values affect canon formation in Canada How have different genres fared in the creation of literary anthologies How do Canadian anthologies transmit ideas about gender region ideology and nation Specific essays focus on anthologies as national metaphors the controversies surrounding early literary collections representations of First Nations peoples in anthologies and the ways in which various editors have understood exploration narratives In addition the collection examines the representation of women in Canadian anthologies the use of anthologies as teaching tools and the creation of some very odd Canadian anthologies along the way Writing in Our Time Pauline Butling, Susan

Rudy, 2009-10-22 Process poetics is about radical poetry poetry that challenges dominant world views values and aesthetic practices with its use of unconventional punctuation interrupted syntax variable subject positions repetition fragmentation and disjunction To trace the aesthetically and politically radical poetries in English Canada since the 1960s Pauline Butling and Susan Rudy begin with the upstart poets published in Vancouver's TISH A Poetry Newsletter and follow the trajectory of process poetics in its national and international manifestations through the 1980s and 90s The poetics explored include the works of Nicole Brossard Daphne Marlatt bpNichol George Bowering Roy Kiyooka and Frank Davey in the 1960s and 70s For the 1980-2000 period the authors include essays on Jeff Derksen Clare Harris Erin Mour and Lisa Robertson They also look at books by older authors published after 1979 including Robin Blaser Robert Kroetsch and Fred Wah A historiography of the radical poets and a roster of the little magazines small press publishers literary festivals and other such sites that have sustained poetic experimentation provide context Margin of Interest Shane Neilson, 2019-09-24 As Shane Neilson writes in Margin of Interest Maritime poetry is the sum of what's come before a unique history and yes a unique place In Margin of Interest Neilson examines representation identity power and the politics of literary history from the creative traditions of the Mi'kmaq to the work of young poets today He pays due homage to iconic Maritime writers Milton Acorn Alden Nowlan George Elliott Clarke shines a critical spotlight on lesser known masters from the region Travis Lane Wayne Clifford and provides a glimpse inside the diverse ecosystem of poets under 40 writing in or about the Maritimes Rebecca Thomas Lucas Crawford El Jones He also combats the prejudices so often applied to writers from Atlantic Canada stigma associated with mental illness rigid gendering vernacular language and even poetic form and advocates for a long overdue reappropriation of the regionalist stance as well as a proper recognition of the region's writers and their contribution to the Canadian literary landscape For as Neilson wisely asks What s the matter with taking pride in any kind of regional identity that we articulate Anthology of Kokugaku Scholars John R. Bentley,2017-12-31 Kokugaku national study is an academic field of study that spans a number of disciplines including philology poetry literature linguistics history religion and philosophy It began as a movement to recapture a sense of Japanese uniqueness by focusing on Japanese poetic and linguistic elements found in the earliest surviving texts As the movement grew there was an attempt to separate native religious elements from Buddhist elements This expanded to a vigorous attempt to weed out Confucian and by extension anything Chinese elements from native elements This began as an investigation into the earliest anthology Man yoshu which some Kokugaku scholars argued preserved a pristine picture of the true heart of the ancients Kokugaku matured under the tutelage of Kamo no Mabuchi and Motoori Norinaga and expanded to include literary linguistic and historical analysis With the death of Norinaga the philosophy of the movement fractured and under Hirata native religious elements were amplified with an advance toward nationalism This anthology contains 26 essays by 13 influential Kokugaku scholars covering roughly two centuries of thought from 1690 down to the beginning of the Meiji Restoration in 1868 The volume is arranged according to four subjects poetry literature scholarship and religion Japan as a state Keepers of the Code Robert

Lecker,2013-02-07 Keepers of the Code explores the complex network of associations and negotiations that influenced the development of literary anthologies in English Canada from 1837 to the present Lecker shows that these anthologies are deeply conflicted narratives that embody the tensions and anxieties felt by their editors when faced with the challenge of constructing or rejecting national ideals He argues that these are intensely self conscious works with their own literary mechanisms and architecture In reading the history of these anthologies he witnesses a complex narrative of nation a compelling story about the values and interests informing English Canadian literary history The Proceedings of the
