Modern Language Of Architecture By Zevi Bruno:

The Modern Language of Architecture Bruno Zevi, 1978-05-01 Frank Lloyd Wright called Bruno Zevi the most penetrating architectural critic of our time and one could ask for no better proof than Zevi's masterpiece The Modern Language of Architecture. In it The Historiography of Modern Architecture Panayotis Tournikiotis, 2001-02-27 The history of modern architecture as constructed by historians and key texts Writing according to Panayotis Tournikiotis has always exerted a powerful influence on architecture. Indeed the study of modern architecture cannot be separated from a fascination with the texts that have tried to explain the idea of a new architecture in a new society. During the last forty years the question of the relationship of architecture to its history of buildings to books has been one of the most important themes in debates about the course of modern architecture. Tournikiotis argues that the history of modern architecture tends to be written from the present projecting back onto the past our current concerns so that the beginning of the story really functions as a representation of its end. In this book the buildings are the quotations while the texts are the structure. Tournikiotis focuses on a group of books by major historians of the twentieth century Nikolaus Pevsner, Emil Kaufmann, Sigfried Giedion, Bruno Zevi, Leonardo Benevolo, Henry Russell Hitchcock, Reynier Banham, Peter Collins and Manfredo Tafuri. In examining these writers' thoughts he draws on concepts from critical theory relating architecture to broader historical models. The Oxford Dictionary of Architecture James Stevens Curl, Susan Wilson, 2015 With over 6 000 entries this is the most authoritative dictionary of architectural history available. Contemporary Perspectives on Architectural Organicism Gary Huafan He, Skender Luarasi, 2023-06-07 This project is born out of similar questions and discussions on the topic of organicism emergent from two critical strands regarding the discourse of organic self-generation: one dealing with the problem of stopping in the design processes in history and the other with the organic legacy of style in the nineteenth century as a preeminent form of aesthetic ideology. The epistemologies of self-generation outlined by enlightenment and critical philosophy provided the model for the discursive formations of modern urban planning and architecture. The form of the organism was thought to calibrate modernism's infinite extension. The architectural organicism of today does not take on the language of the biological sciences as they did in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries but rather the image of complex systems be they computational, informational, geo-ecological or even ontological aesthetic networks. What is retained from the modernity of yesterday is the ideology of endless self-generation. Revisiting such a topic feels relevant now in a time when the idea of endless generation is rendered more suspect than ever amid an ever-increasing speed and complexity of artificial intelligence AI networks. The essays collected in this book offer a variety of critiques of the modernist idea of endless growth in the fields of architecture, literature, philosophy and the history of science. They range in scope from theoretical and speculative to analytic and critical and from studies of the history of modernity to reflections of our contemporary world. Far from advocating a return to the romantic forms of nineteenth-century naturphilosophie, this project focuses on probing organicism for new forms of critique and emergent subjectivities in a contemporary post pandemic constellation of neo naturalism in design climate change complex systems and information networks This book will be of interest to a broad range of researchers and professionals in architecture and art history historians of science visual artists and scholars in the humanities more generally The Autopoiesis of Architecture, Volume II Patrik Schumacher,2012-04-24 This is the second part of a major theoretical work by Patrik Schumacher which outlines how the discipline of architecture should be understood as its own distinct system of communication Autopoeisis comes from the Greek and means literally self production it was first adopted in biology in the 1970s to describe the essential characteristics of life as a circular self organizing system and has since been transposed into a theory of social systems This new approach offers architecture an arsenal of general comparative concepts It allows architecture to be understood as a distinct discipline which can be analyzed in elaborate detail while at the same time offering insightful comparisons with other subject areas such as art science and political discourse On the basis of such comparisons the book insists on the necessity of disciplinary autonomy and argues for a sharp demarcation of design from both art and engineering Schumacher accordingly argues controversially that design as a discipline has its own sui generis intelligence with its own internal logic reach and limitations Whereas the first volume provides the theoretical groundwork for Schumacher s ideas focusing on architecture as an autopoietic system with its own theory history medium and its unique societal function the second volume addresses the specific contemporary challenges and tasks that architecture faces It formulates these tasks looking specifically at how architecture is seeking to organize and articulate the complexity of post fordist network society The volume explicitly addresses how current architecture can upgrade its design methodology in the face of an increasingly demanding task environment characterized by both complexity and novelty Architecture s specific role within contemporary society is explained and its relationship to politics is clarified Finally the new global style of Parametricism is introduced and theoretically grounded Decoding

Luigi Moretti's Architettura Parametrica Giuseppe Canestrino,2025-05-16 Decoding Luigi Moretti s Architettura Parametrica presents an unprecedented critical discussion of one of the earliest theoretical and practical explorations into the integration of scientific thought mathematical models and digital tools in architectural design Moretti a renowned professional who engaged in countless intellectual initiatives developed and refined his architectural vision long before parametric became synonymous with computational design His Architettura Parametrica is an unconventional inquiry of the prospects offered to design practice by digital thinking rather than by digital tools which were still immature or completely absent at the time Moretti proposed a unique and still relevant mental landscape that united his fascination with Baroque spatiality operational research informal art optics cybernetics ethics and much more This research decodes numerous facets of Architettura Parametrica from the rigid theoretical precepts to the negotiation with design praxis from the use of equations to aid the research of forms to the speculation on the meaning of architecture through abstract mathematics This book offers novel perspectives to scholars interested in the interplay between architectural design practice and theory mathematics and design methods digital and architectural culture and to the growing number of practitioners who are crafting personal narratives within the most disruptive computational techniques Chinese Experimental Architecture Or French Poststructuralist Theory Ruo Jia, 2025-11-18 Chinese Experimental Architecture Or French Poststructuralist Theory Different Patches of the Concrete starts with a paradox how the Chinese Cultural Revolution through its adaptation by French Theory and French Theory's subsequent adaptation by Chinese Experimental Architecture shaped the Chinese reformative effort to redefine itself amidst its struggle against colonial dynamics and against the Cultural Revolution Through French Poststructuralist Theory the project creates a critical narrative to access the Chinese Experimental Architecture movement of the late 1990s and early 2000s and its legacy in contemporary Chinese architecture At the same time it provides in retrospect an opportunity to approach French Theory in its rich global materiality as a production of Chinese Experimental Architecture This study thus overcomes simplistic dichotomies of dominant and subjugated reductive labels of orientalism self orientalism and nationalism as well as architectural stylistic or operative canons It opens such borders and enclosed entities in a positive way exploring collaborative inquiries where new possibilities of different materialist architectural design and socio eco political epistemological structure emerge in a field of events encounters and connections around the problematic and signifier of the concrete The Baroque in Architectural Culture, 1880-1980 Andrew Leach, John Macarthur, 2016-03-09 In his landmark volume Space Time and Architecture Sigfried Giedion paired images of two iconic spirals Tatlin's Monument to the Third International and Borromini's dome for Sant Ivo alla Sapienza The values shared between the baroque age and the modern were thus encapsulated on a single page spread As Giedion put it writing of Sant Ivo Borromini accomplished the movement of the whole pattern from the ground to the lantern without entirely ending even there And yet he merely groped towards that which could be completely effected in modern architecture achieving the transition between inner and outer space The intellectual debt of modern architecture to modernist historians who were ostensibly preoccupied with the art and architecture of earlier epochs is now widely acknowledged This volume extends this work by contributing to the dual projects of the intellectual history of modern architecture and the history of architectural historiography It considers the varied ways that historians of art and architecture have historicized modern architecture through its interaction with the baroque a term of contested historical and conceptual significance that has often seemed to shadow a greater contest over the historicity of modernism Presenting research by an international community of scholars this book explores through a series of cross sections the traffic of ideas between practice and history that has shaped modern architecture and the academic discipline of architectural history across the long twentieth century The editors use the historiography of the baroque as a lens through which to follow the path of modern ideas that draw authority from history In doing so the volume defines a role for the baroque in the history of architectural historiography and in the history of modern
