The Eastern Christian Tradition in Modern Russian Thought and Beyond Teresa Obolevitch, 2022-07-18 In The Eastern Christian Tradition in Modern Russian Thought and Beyond Teresa Obolevitch reflects on the ontology and anthropology of neo patristic synthesis and its connection to Western philosophy with a focus on the work of Georges Florovsky and Vladimir Lossky The book also examines the concept of apophaticism in Russian philosophy in neo patristic synthesis and the thought of Semyon Frank and Lev Karsavin as well as in epistemological and cosmological comparison with process theology Additionally Obolevitch's work undertakes a comparative analysis of the reception of Russian sophiology in the West especially in the work of Thomas Merton and also considers similarities between neo patristic synthesis and Zen Buddhism in the thought of Merton and Sergey Horujy

Translation and the Making of Modern Russian Literature Brian James Baer, 2015-11-19 Brian James Baer explores the central role played by translation in the construction of modern Russian literature Peter I's policy of forced Westernization resulted in translation becoming a widely discussed and highly visible practice in Russia a multi lingual empire with a polyglot elite Yet Russia's accumulation of cultural capital through translation occurred at a time when the Romantic obsession with originality was marginalizing translation as mere imitation The awareness on the part of Russian writers that their literature and by extension their cultural identity were born in translation produced a sustained and sophisticated critique of Romantic authorship and national identity that has long been obscured by the nationalist focus of traditional literary studies By offering a re reading of seminal works of the Russian literary canon that thematize translation alongside studies of the circulation and reception of specific translated texts Translation and the Making of Modern Russian Literature models the long overdue integration of translation into literary and cultural studies

Modern Russian Cinema as a Battleground in Russia's Information War Alexander Rojavin, Helen Haft, 2024-07-31 This book explores how modern Russian cinema is part of the international information war that has unfolded across a variety of battlefields including social media online news and television It outlines how Russian cinema has been instrumentalized both by the Kremlin's allies and its detractors to convey salient political and cultural messages often in subtle ways thereby becoming a tool for both critiquing and serving domestic and foreign policy objectives shaping national identity and determining cultural memory It explains how regulations legislation and funding mechanisms have rendered contemporary cinema both an essential weapon for the Kremlin and a means for more independent figures to publicly frame official government policy In addition the book employs formal cinematic analysis to highlight the dominant themes and narratives in modern Russian films of a variety of genres situating them in Russia's broader rhetorical ecosystem and explaining how they serve the objectives of the Kremlin or its opponents

Hagiography and Modern Russian Literature Margaret Ziolkowski, 2014-07-14 The heritage of medieval hagiography the diverse and voluminous literature devoted to saints was much more important in nineteenth century Russia than is often recognized Although scholars have treated examples of the influence of hagiographic writing on a few prominent Russian writers Margaret Ziolkowski is the first to describe the vast extent of its impact Some of the authors she discusses are Kondratii Ryleev Aleksandr Bestuzhev Marlinskii Fedor Dostoevsky Leo Tolstoy Nikolai Leskov Gleb Uspenskii Dmitrii Merezhkovskii and Maksimilian Voloshin Such writers were often exposed to saints lives at an early age and these stories left a deep impression to be dealt with later whether favorably or otherwise Professor Ziolkowski identifies and analyzes the most common usages of hagiographic material by Russian writers as well as the variety of purposes that inspired this exploitation of their cultural past Tolstoy for instance employed hagiographic sources to attack the organized church and the institution of monasticism Individual chapters treat the influence of hagiography on the poetry of the Decembrists reworkings of specific hagiographic legends or tales and the application of hagiographic conventions and features to contemporary characters and situations Originally published in 1988 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Mirsky,2010-12-01 Dmitry Petrovich Svyatopolk Mirsky 1890 1939 was a Russian political and literary historian who promoted the knowledge and translations of literature between Britain and the Soviet Union These works range from 1881 to 1925 Renaissance of Classical Allusions in Contemporary Russian Media Svitlana Malykhina,2014-02-27

Renaissance of Classical Allusions in Contemporary Russian Media builds on a growing body of work concerning post Soviet media culture during the last transformative decade Making sense of the literary allusions in media discourse Svitlana Malykhina reminds us that allusions can serve as a primary marker of identity national and cultural and may also be a way of negotiating the gap between what has to be reported and what can be banned by censorship Malykhina presents the changes and continuities between rhetoric strategies of Soviet style media and postcommunist Russian media identifying the key literary and historical references in public discourse which are then picked up by the media The book analyzes the political cultural and social factors at play in the development and expansion of these allusions in both official and alternative discourses Examining the rise of the Internet which has remained wholly uncensored in Russia Malykhina reveals that the Russian Internet media began to function as alternative mass media Yet the success of the Internet media has also brought complex and unintended consequences Malykhina offers an empirically rich examination of conventional classical allusions in media discourse focusing mainly on the rhetorical techniques by which subversive meanings of these references were generated

The Emergence of the Modern Russian State, 1855-81 Martin McCauley, Peter Waldron, 1988-02-23 This selection of documents for the most part never before translated into English traces the process of modernization which took place in Russia between 1856 and 1881 Political social and economic developments are dealt with in thematic sections and the documents also show the growth of the revolutionary movement and conservative attempts to quell it The great flowering of Russian literature and art during the quarter century is also reflected The documents are accompanied by individual commentaries and an extensive guide to further reading whilst the volume is prefaced by a substantial introductory essay setting the documents in context

A History of Modern Russia Mauricio Borrero, Roxanne Easley, Mark Davis Kuss, Thomas Pearson, 2020-03-16 Modern Russian History The Search for National Identity and Global Power exposes readers to the rich history of Russia emphasizing the major forces and factors that shaped its development as a nation and an empire Students are encouraged to draw connections between influential forces and factors both historical and contemporary to better understand Russia's past and current strategic goals as well as the Russian sense of identity and place in global society The opening chapter introduces key themes and factors of Russian history including the physical setting the role of the autocratic state the institution of serfdom the multinational empire and the West each of which represent challenges and opportunities the Russian people and the nation's rulers have encountered over time The book features five distinct parts which proceed in chronological order and cover late imperial Russia the 1917 Russian revolutions the creation of the USSR the Cold War and tensions with the United States and post Soviet Russia and modern events Modern Russian History is part of the Cognella History of Europe Series a collection of textbooks that help students discover the power influence and dynamic nature of European countries and their histories
