Modern Art And Modernism A Critical Anthology:

Modern Art and Modernism Francis Francina, Charles Harrison, Deirdre Paul, 1982-12-28 Modern Art and Modernism offers first hand material for the study of issues central to the development of modern art its theory and criticism The history of modern art is not simply a history of works of art it is also a history of ideas and interpretations The works of critics and theorists have not merely been influential in deciding how modern art is to be seen and understood they have also influenced the course it has taken The nature of modern art cannot be understood without some analysis of the concept of Modernism itself Modern Art and Modernism presents a selection of texts by the major contributors to debate on this subject from Baudelaire to Zola in the 19th century to Greenburg and T J Clark on our own times It offers a balanced selection of essays by contributors to the mainstream of Modernist criticism representative examples of writing on the themes of abstraction and expressionism in modern art and a number of important contributions to the discussion of aesthetics and the social role of the artist

Conversation Pieces Grant H. Kester, 2004-08-12 Grant Kester discusses the disparate network of artists collectives united by a desire to create new forms of understanding through creative dialogue that crosses boundaries of race religion culture

Critical Perspectives on Contemporary Painting Jonathan P. Harris, 2003-01-01 Comprising examples of artwork and a series of essays this collection examines and assesses the current status of painting within global contemporary art It sheds light on fine art as it is understood as a facet of a global culture and society dominated by Northern European and US power and history

Writing Back to Modern Art Jonathan Harris, 2005-10-09 Here for the first time is a full length study of the critical modernisms of the three leading art writers of the second half of the twentieth century which helps us build a better understanding of the development of modern art writing and its relation to the post modern in art and society since the 1970s Focusing on canonical modern artists such as Manet Cezanne Picasso and Pollock this book provides an important understanding of writing and criticism in modern art for all students and scholars of art theory and art history Mainstay issues discussed include aesthetic evaluation subjectivity and meaning in art and art writing Jonathan Harris examines key discourses and identifies points of significant overlap as well as sharp disjunction between the critics Developing the notions of good and bad complexity in modernist criticism Writing Back to Modern Art creates ways for us to think outside of these discourses of value and meaning and helps us to look at the place that art writing holds in the latter twentieth century and beyond

Modernism's Second Act: A Cultural Narrative I. Nadel, 2012-12-17 European modernism underwent a massive change from 1930 to 1960 as war altered the cultural landscape This account of artists and writers in France and England explores how modernism survived under authoritarianism whether Fascism National Socialism or Stalinism and how these artists endured by balancing complicity and resistance

Monochrome Craig

Staff,2015-09-17 The monochrome a single colour of paint applied over the entirety of a canvas remains one of the more contentious modernist artistic inventions But whilst the manufacture of these pictures of nothing was ostensibly straightforward their subsequent theorisation has been anything but More than a history Monochrome Darkness and Light in Contemporary Art is the first account of the monochrome s lively role in contemporary art Liberated from the burden of representation the monochrome first stood for emancipation an ideological and artistic impulse that characterised the avant garde of the early twentieth century Historically the monochrome embodied the most extreme form of abstraction and pure materiality Yet more recently adaptations of the art form have focused on a broader range of cultural and interpretive contexts Provocative innovative and timely this book argues that the latest artistic strategies go beyond stylistic concerns and instead seek to re engage with ideas around authorship process and the conditions of the visible as they are given and understood through both light and darkness Discussing works by artists such as Katie Paterson Hiroshi Sugimoto Tom Friedman Bruno Jakob Sherrie Levine and Ceal Floyer the book shows that the debates around an artwork s form and its possibility for meaning that the monochrome first engendered remain very much alive in contemporary visual culture place as it took shape for a different individual within Dodge's orbit. From this kaleidoscope of places emerges a vision of what place meant to modernist artists as well as a narrative of what happened in the real place of New Mexico when visitors decided it was where they belonged. Expanding the picture of early American modernism beyond New York's dominance, she shows that these newcomers believed Taos was the place they had set out to find and that when Taos failed to meet their expectations, they changed Taos. Throughout, Burke examines the ways notions of primitivism unfolded as Dodge's salon attracted artists of varying ethnicities and the ways that patronage was perceived by African American writers seeking publication, Anglos seeking authentic material, Native American artists seeking patronage, or Nuevomexicanos simply seeking respect. She considers the notion of competitive primitivism especially regarding Carl Van Vechten and offers nuanced analyses of divisions within northern New Mexico's arts communities over land issues and of the ways in which Pueblo Indians spoke on their own behalf. Burke's book offers a portrait of a place as it took shape both aesthetically in the imaginations of Dodge's visitors and materially in the lives of everyday New Mexicans. It clearly shows that no people or places stand outside the modern world and that when we pretend otherwise, those people and places inevitably suffer.
