When my colleagues and I began the task of assembling this volume several difficult questions arose For whom were we writing Was the purpose to eluci date psychiatric or medical presentation Should references reflect specific to pical areas or lead the reader to a more general view of a particular topic Would a symptom or system approach best serve the reader Should the volume cover a few areas in detail or attempt to survey a larger area of knowledge The present text reflects an attempt to answer these questions It is designed for the student of medicine who desires a broader understanding of those medi cal illnesses that produce psychiatric aberration We hope it will be of assis tance to the medical student or house officer studying medicine neurology family practice pediatrics or psychiatry as well as to the practicing clinician who wishes a refresher on this subject or a reference for his library The text is intended to strike a useful balance between medicine and psychiatry by provid ing a list of differentials for specific symptoms or conditions as well as sugges tions for medical evaluation References have been chosen which we hope will assist the reader in further study We have attempted to diversify them and list a spectrum of articles that deal with both academic and practical treatment considerations The initial volume is divided into four sections that address both a symptom and system approach Seeing the Insane Sander L. Gilman, 1996-01-01 Seeing the Insane is a richly detailed cultural history of madness and art in the Western world showing how the portrayal of stereotypes has both reflected and shaped the perception and treatment of the mentally disturbed Communication and Mental Illness Jenny France, Sarah Kramer, 2001-01-15 This book is for improving understanding of individuals with mental illness It offers theoretical knowledge of the methods of communication commonly adopted by individuals with a variety of diagnoses of mental illness and how information about communication can influence service provision ending with suggestions for future policy and practice
