Modernity and the Classical Tradition Alan Colguboun, 1989 Modernity and the classical tradition; architectural Modern Architecture Alan Colquhoun, 2002 In this study of the international essays 1980-1987 A. Colguhoun, 1989 modern movement in architecture Alan Colguhoun explores the complex motivations behind its revolutionary new style and assesses its triumphs and failures Landscape Theory in Design Susan Herrington, 2016-12-08 Phenomenology Materiality Cybernetics Palimpsest Cyborgs Landscape Urbanism Typology Semiotics Deconstruction the minefield of theoretical ideas that students must navigate today can be utterly confusing and how do these theories translate to the design studio Landscape Theory in Design introduces theoretical ideas to students without the use of jargon or an assumption of extensive knowledge in other fields and in doing so links these ideas to the processes of design In five thematic chapters Susan Herrington explains the theoretic groundings of the theory of philosophy why it matters to design an example of the theory in a work of landscape architecture from the twentieth and twenty first centuries debates surrounding the theory particularly as they elaborate modern and postmodern thought and primary readings that can be read as companions to her text An extensive glossary of theoretical terms also adds a vital contribution to students comprehension of theories relevant to the design of landscapes and gardens Covering the design of over 40 landscape architects architects and designers in 111 distinct projects from 20 different countries Landscape Theory in Design is essential reading for any student of the landscape

The Vital Landscape William M. Taylor, 2017-11-22 The Vital Landscape explores the arrival of the biological sciences most notably the sciences of life entailed in studies of botany and zoology ecology and evolutionary science physiology and psychology in the nineteenth century and their impact on architecture and landscape architecture in Great Britain Specifically the book explores the idea of the contrived or artificial environment as an object of both scientific speculation and aesthetic reflection Unlike specialist histories of biological science or environmental thought this book is unique in locating one source for present day concerns for the environment and human well being in debates over proper housing and the growing popularity of domestic and public gardens in the nineteenth century. The book skilfully interweaves architecture and garden history the history and philosophy of science plant and animal physiology and human psychology works of literature popular science and domestic economy in a story that opens new opportunities for the study of architecture and Unexpected Affinities Pablo Meninato, 2018-05-23 While the concept of type has been present in architectural gardens discourse since its formal introduction at the end of the eighteenth century its role in the development of architectural projects has not been comprehensively analyzed This book proposes a reassessment of architectural type throughout history and its impact on the development of architectural theory and practice Beginning with Laugier's 1753 Essay on Architecture Unexpected Affinities The History of Type in the Architectural Project from Laugier to Duchamp traces type through nineteenth and twentiethth century architectural movements and thoeries culminating in a discussion of the affinities between architectural type and Duchamp's concept of the readymade Includes over sixty black and white images Corbusier and the Concept of Self Simon Richards, Le Corbusier, 2003-01-01 Filosofische analyse van het zelfconcept van de Zwitsers Franse architect 1887 1965 herwaardering van zijn motieven als stadsplanoloog en nieuwe inzichten met betrekking tot zijn intellectuele relaties met andere leden van de avantgarde van de twintigste eeuw German Art World James J. Sheehan, 2000-10-26 Ranging over the entire nineteenth century MUSEUMS IN THE GERMAN ARTWORLD is a highly accessible study of the political cultural and artistic changes that marked Germany's transition into a modern state Sheehan is original in focusing his examination of this transition on the invention of the museum where fine arts were defined put on display and the control over their political and cultural importance and influence were established THis book will appeal to German historians historians of the 19th century Europe art historians and anyone interested in the interplay of fine arts culture and politics Changing Lanes Joseph F. DiMento, Cliff Ellis, 2013 The story of the evolution of the urban freeway the competing visions that informed it and the emerging alternatives for more sustainable urban transportation Urban freeways often cut through the heart of a city destroying neighborhoods displacing residents and reconfiguring street maps These massive infrastructure projects costing billions of dollars in transportation funds have been shaped for the last half century by the ideas of highway engineers urban planners landscape architects and architects with highway engineers playing the leading role In Changing Lanes Joseph DiMento and Cliff Ellis describe the evolution of the urban freeway in the United States from its rural parkway precursors through the construction of the interstate highway system to emerging alternatives for more sustainable urban transportation DiMento and Ellis describe controversies that arose over urban freeway construction focusing on three cases Syracuse which early on embraced freeways through its center Los Angeles which rejected some routes and then built I 105 the most expensive urban road of its time and Memphis which blocked the construction of I 40 through its core Finally they consider the emerging urban highway removal movement Kenzo Tange and the Metabolist Movement and other innovative efforts by cities to re envision urban transportation Zhongjie Lin, 2010-02-25 Metabolism the Japanese architectural avant garde movement of the 1960s profoundly influenced contemporary architecture and urbanism This book focuses on the Metabolists utopian concept of the city and investigates the design and political implications of their visionary planning in the postwar society At the root of the group s urban utopias was a particular biotechical notion of the city as an organic process It stood in opposition to the Modernist view of city design and led to such radical design concepts as marine civilization and artificial terrains which embodied the metabolists ideals of social change Tracing the evolution of Metabolism from its inception at the 1960 World Design Conference to its spectacular swansong at the Osaka World Exposition in 1970 this book situates Metabolism in the context of Japan's mass urban reconstruction economic miracle and socio political reorientation. This new study will interest architectural and urban historians architects and all those interested in avant garde design and Japanese architecture

Rethinking Decoration David Brett, 2005-05-30 Publisher Description Everyday America Chris Wilson, Paul Erling Groth, 2003-03-03 A collection of seventeen essays examining the field of American cultural landscapes past and present The role of I B Jackson and his influence on the field is a explored in many of them Configurations of the architectural The Paradoxes of Planning Sara Westin, 2016-03-03 Why is it that modern architects and planners these benevolent and socially visionary experts have created environments that can make one feel so uneasy Using a philosophical and psycho analytical approach this book critically examines expert knowledge within architecture and urban planning Its point of departure is the gap between visions and realities intentions and outcomes in planning with particular focus on projects in Sweden that try to create an urban atmosphere Finding insights from the work of Sigmund Freud and his followers the book argues that urban planning during the 20th century is a neurotic activity prone to produce a type of alienation Besides trying to understand the gap between intentions and outcomes in planning the book also discusses how to define the concept of the urban juxtaposing different knowledge traditions contrasting the positivistic theory of space syntax with poetic dialectical approaches the planner view of the city with that of the fl neur examining texts by Virginia Woolf and August Strindberg Reading Kenneth Frampton Gevork Hartoonian, 2022-05-10 This book focuses on the first edition of Kenneth Frampton's Modern Architecture A Critical History published in 1980 It searches for clues and positions that will provide the reader with an unprecedented insight into the significance of Frampton's historiography of modern architecture It explores selected themes in line with Frampton's many faceted contribution certain aspects of which can be noted between the lines of his ongoing criticism of the present day architecture which inevitably lead us to a critical understanding of the past the modernity of architecture s contemporaneity. The compiled chapters attempt to open a window onto the constellation of themes that allowed Frampton to hold on to his anteroom view of history even amidst the flow of time and flood of temporalities spanning 1980 2020 The book elucidates how Frampton's critical presentation of the history of modern movement architecture and the book s classificatory mode periodization contribute to our understanding of the contemporaneity of architecture today Adolf Loos Joseph Masheck, 2013-03-21 Widely regarded as one of the most significant prophets of modern architecture Adolf Loos was a celebrity in his own day His work was emblematic of the turn of the century generation that was torn between the traditional culture of the nineteenth century and the innovative modernism of the twentieth His essay Ornament and Crime equated superfluous ornament and decorative arts with tattooing in an attempt to tell modern Europeans that they should know better But the negation of ornament was supposed to reveal not negate good style and an incorrigible ironist has been taken too literally in denying architecture as a fine art Without normalizing his edgy radicality Masheck argues that Loos masterful astylistic architecture was an appreciation of tradition and utility and not as most architectural historians have argued a mere repudiation of the florid style of the Vienna Secession Masheck reads Loos as a witty ironic rhetorician who has all too often been taken at face value Far from being the anti architect of the modern era Masheck's Loos is an unruly yet integrally canonical artist architect. He believed in culture comfort intimacy and privacy and advocated the evolution of artful architecture This is a brilliantly written revisionist reading Modern Architecture and the Mediterranean Jean-Francois Lejeune, Michelangelo of a perennially popular architect Sabatino, 2009-12-04 Bringing to light the debt twentieth century modernist architects owe to the vernacular building traditions of the Mediterranean region this book considers architectural practice and discourse from the 1920s to the 1980s The essays here situate Mediterranean modernism in relation to concepts such as regionalism nationalism internationalism critical regionalism and postmodernism an alternative history of the modern architecture and urbanism of a critical period in the twentieth century Brunelleschi, Lacan, Le Corbusier Lorens Holm, 2020-11-25 This well argued analytic text provides a greater understanding of spatial issues in the field of architecture Re interpreting the fifteenth century demonstration of perspective Lorens Holm puts it in relation to today s theories of subjectivity and elaborates for the first time the theoretical link between architecture and psychoanalysis Divided into three sections Brunelleschi Lacan Le Corbusier argues that perspective remains the primary and most satisfying way of representing form because it is the paradigmatic form of spatial consciousness Well illustrated with over 100 images this compelling book is a valuable study of this key aspect of architectural study and practice making it an essential read for architects in their first year or their fiftieth

Architecture Re-assembled Trevor Garnham, 2013-04-26 Beginning from the rise of modern history in the eighteenth century this book examines how changing ideas in the discipline of history itself has affected architecture from the beginning of modernity up to the present day It reflects upon history in order to encourage and assist the reader in finding well founded principles for architectural design This is not simply another history of architecture nor a history of histories Setting buildings in their contemporaneous ideas about history it spans from Fischer von Erlach to Venturi and Rossi and beyond to architects working in the fallout from both the Modern Movement Aalto Louis Kahn Aldo van Eyck and Post modernism such as Rafael Moneo and Peter Zumthor It shows how Soane Schinkel and Stirling amongst others made a meaningful use of history and contrasts this with how a misreading of Hegel has led to an abuse of history and an uncritical flight to the future This is not an armchair history but a lively discussion of our place between past and future that promotes thinking for making

Rebuilding Babel Mark Crinson,2017-06-30 Much of modernist architecture was inspired by the emergence of internationalism the ethics and politics of world peace justice and unity through global collaboration Mark Crinson here shows how the ideals represented by the Tower of Babel built so the story goes by people united by one language were effectively adapted by internationalist architecture its styles and practices in the modern period Focusing particularly on the points of convergence between modernist and internationalist trends in the 1920s and again in the immediate post war years he underlines how such architecture utilised the themes of a cooperative community of builders and a common language of forms The International Style was one manifestation of this new way of thinking but Crinson shows how the aims of modernist architecture frequently engaged with the substance of an internationalist mindset in addition to sharing surface similarities Bringing together the visionaries of internationalist projects including Le Corbusier Bruno Taut Berthold Lubetkin Walter Gropius and Mies van der Rohe Crinson interweaves ideas of evolution ecology utopia regionalism socialism free trade and anti colonialism to reveal the possibilities heralded by modernist architecture Furthermore he re connects pivotal figures in architecture with a cast of polymath internationalists such as Patrick Geddes Lewis Mumford Julian Huxley Rabindranath Tagore and H G Wells to provide a richly detailed socio cultural framework This is a book crafted for students and scholars of architecture and art theory as well as for those interested in the history of twentieth century optimism about the world and its architecture
