Johnson of the Mohawks Arthur Pound, Richard Edwin Day, 1930      Imperial Entanglements Gail D. MacLeitch, 2012-10-15 Imperial Entanglements chronicles the history of the Haudenosaunee Iroquois in the eighteenth century a dramatic period during which they became further entangled in a burgeoning market economy participated in imperial warfare and encountered a waxing British Empire Rescuing the Seven Years War era from the shadows of the American Revolution and moving away from the political focus that dominates Iroquois studies historian Gail D MacLeitch offers a fresh examination of Iroquois experience in economic and cultural terms As land sellers fur hunters paid laborers consumers and commercial farmers the Iroquois helped to create a new economic culture that connected the New York hinterland to a transatlantic world of commerce By doing so they exposed themselves to both opportunities and risks As their economic practices changed so too did Iroquois ways of making sense of gender and ethnic differences MacLeitch examines the formation of new cultural identities as men and women negotiated challenges to long established gendered practices and confronted and cocreated a new racialized discourses of difference On the frontiers of empire Indians as much as European settlers colonial officials and imperial soldiers directed the course of events However as MacLeitch also demonstrates imperial entanglements with a rising British power intent on securing native land labor and resources ultimately worked to diminish Iroquois economic and political sovereignty      The Enterprising Admiral Julian Gwyn, 1974 The hope of prize money was the chief inducement in the eighteenth century for the men of the Royal Navy to hazard their lives at sea Yet until now the matter has largely been ignored by historians This analysis of Vice Admiral Peter Warren s fortune which largely derived from prize money is the first study of its kind Although Warren married into the well to do New York merchant family of the DeLanceys his wealth began chiefly with the capture of French merchant ships and warships at Louisbourg in 1745 and in 1747 after the defeat of the French fleet off the coast of Spain Warren invested in America Ireland and England He bought land loaned money invested in the London stock market and dabbled in trade In America his land purchases and money lending activities were concentrated in New York and New England with some interests in South Carolina In Ireland his first concern was the recovery of his family's estate in County Meath and the purchases of other nearby properties. In England he concentrated his land purchases in Hampshire while investing heavily in the government's wartime debt, the stock of the great trading and insurance companies and in private mortgages and bonds. Of special interest is the international character of his investments which adds a new dimension to the economic history of the Atlantic region. Of particular importance also is his rise in status through wealth from the declining Catholic gentry of Ireland into which he had been born to become MP for the City of Westminster which invariably returned men of the highest social standing. His wealth after his early death in 1752 also enabled his daughters to marry into the nobility. The effects of the American Revolution and the 1798 Irish uprising hastened the repatriation of his assets to England where his aristocratic heirs were content with a more modest return on Warren's capital which by then exceeded a quarter of a million pounds sterling.

The Encyclopedia of North American Indian Wars, 1607-1890 Bloomsbury Publishing, 2011-09-19 This encyclopedia provides a broad in depth and multidisciplinary look at the causes and effects of warfare between whites and Native Americans encompassing nearly three centuries of history. The Battle of Wounded Knee an unfortunate unplanned event that resulted in the deaths of more than 150 Lakota Sioux men, women and children. The Encyclopedia of North American Indian Wars 1607-1890: A Political, Social and Military History provides comprehensive coverage of almost 300 years of North American Indian Wars. Beginning with the first Indian settler conflicts that arose in the early 1600s, this three volume work covers all noteworthy battles between whites and Native Americans through the Battle of Wounded Knee in December 1890. The book provides detailed biographies of military, social, religious and political leaders and covers the social and cultural aspects of the Indian wars. Also supplied are essays on every major tribe as well as all significant battles, skirmishes and treaties.

The Human Tradition in the Atlantic World, 1500-1850 Karen Racine, Beatriz G. Mamigonian, 2010-11-16 This collection of compact biographies puts a human face on the sweeping historical processes that shaped contemporary societies throughout the Atlantic world. Focusing on life stories that represented movement across or around the Atlantic Ocean from 1500 to 1850, The Human Tradition in the Atlantic World 1500-1850 explores transatlantic connections by following individuals whose experience took them far beyond their local communities to new and unfamiliar places. A formidable barrier, the Atlantic Ocean profoundly influenced the lives it touched. For some, brave or desperate souls, it offered an escape, a source of adventure or romance. For countless others, it provided a steady source of income. For those who voluntarily undertook the voyage, crossing the Atlantic meant hope for a better, happier life. For the millions of less fortunate others who relocated because they had been enslaved, tricked or banished, the Atlantic was a sea of sorrow and loss. Yet whatever the reason, tremendous creativity and dynamism resulted from contact between people of different cultures classes races ideas and systems in Africa Europe and the Americas At its most fundamental level the syncretic nature of Atlantic world societies was created and re created on a daily basis by myriad choices made by hundreds of thousands of individuals By emphasizing movement and circulation in its choice of life stories this readable and engaging volume presents a broad cross section of people both famous and everyday whose lives and livelihoods took them across the Atlantic and brought disparate cultures into contact Contributions by Robert D Aguirre Troy Bickham Olwyn M Blouet Sarah Cline Andrew B Fisher John Garrigus Noah L Gelfand Mark Hinchman Charlene Boyer Lewis Gail Danvers MacLeitch Beatriz G Mamigonian Mark Meuwese Joan Meznar John Navin Jeff Pardue Magnus Roberto de Mello Pereira Cassandra Pybus and Karen Racine
