Mombasa The Swahili And The Making Of The Mijikenda:

Mombasa, the Swahili, and the Making of the Mijikenda Justin Willis, 1993 A history of the city of Mombasa and its surrounding settlements from the mid 19th century to the height of colonial rule in the 1930s Dr Willis sets out to place the island and town of Mombasa in its African context incorporating the findings of historical and anthropological research

Movements, Borders, and Identities in Africa Toyin Falola, Aribidesi Adisa Usman, 2009 Migration has become a continuous phenomenon in the history of human societies Migration is synonymous with the history of Africa itself The migration of individuals and groups over time is associated with the emergence of cultures and of civilizations throughout the world This book establishes the centrality of migrations and movements of people in the historical evolution of African peoples and societies By making use of different sources oral archaeological and written and focusing on various subjects and geographical areas the book shows that migration was a multifaceted phenomenon which varied in nature and character over time and in different places Using carefully selected case studies drawn from across the continent the book provides a broad but insightful overview of the subject of migrations and the varying impact of slavery commerce gender religion colonialism poverty and development on the movements of people and ideas and on the development of states and societies on the continent most especially in the last two centuries The chapters are based on original research and recent thinking on migrations in Africa and their changing forms and dynamics since the pre colonial period The various topics addressed include the causes and consequences of migration population movements displacements migration experiences settlement patterns and strategies labor mobility immigrant societies identity and culture contact as well as conceptual and methodological aspects of research on migration The contributors represent scholars from diverse fields with extensive teaching and research experience Thus the book provides a broad but insightful overview of the subject of migrations from Preface and Introduction Cosmopolitanisms in Muslim Contexts Derryl N MacLean, 2013-09-23 Focuses on moments in world history when cosmopolitan ideas and actions pervaded specific Muslim societies and cultures exploring the tensions between regional cultures isolated enclaves and modern nation states Islam and the European Empires David Motadel, 2014 The first comparative account of the engagement of all major European empires with Islam in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries exploring an array of themes ranging from the accommodation of Islam under imperial rule to Islamic anti colonial resistance and contributing to our understanding of religion and power in the modern world Politics of the Womb Lynn Thomas, 2003-08-20 In more than a metaphorical sense the womb has proven to be an important site of political struggle in and about Africa By examining the political significance and complex ramifications of reproductive controversies in twentieth century Kenya this book explores why and how control of female initiation abortion childbirth and premarital pregnancy have been crucial to the exercise of colonial and postcolonial power This innovative book enriches the study of gender reproduction sexuality and African history by revealing how reproductive controversies challenged long standing social hierarchies and contributed to the construction of new ones that continue to influence the fraught politics of abortion birth control female genital cutting and HIV AIDS in Africa

Obama and Kenya Matthew Carotenuto, Katherine Luongo, 2016-07-29 Barack Obama's political ascendancy has focused considerable global attention on the history of Kenya generally and the history of the Luo community particularly From politicians populating the blogosphere and bookshelves in the U S and Kenya to tourists traipsing through Obama's ancestral home a variety of groups have mobilized new readings of Kenya's past in service of their own ends Through narratives placing Obama into a simplified sweeping narrative of anticolonial barbarism and postcolonial tribal violence the story of the United States president's nuanced relationship to Kenya has been lost amid stereotypical portrayals of Africa At the same time Kenyan state officials have aimed to weave Obama into the contested narrative of Kenyan nationhood Matthew Carotenuto and Katherine Luongo argue that efforts to cast Obama as a son of the soil of the Lake Victoria basin invite insights into the politicized uses of Kenya's past Ideal for classroom use and directed at a general readership interested in global affairs Obama and Kenya offers an important counterpoint to the many popular but inaccurate texts about Kenya's history and Obama's place in it as well as focused thematic analyses of contemporary debates about ethnic politics tribal identities postcolonial governance and U S African relations

Mobilizing Zanzibari Women C. Decker, 2014-11-05 The experiences of African women in the era before independence remain a woefully understudied facet of African history This innovative and carefully argued study thus adds tremendously to our understanding of colonial history by focusing on women's education professionalization and political mobilization in the East African islands of Zanzibar

The Death of Prehistory Peter R. Schmidt, Stephen A. Mrozowski, 2013-11 Since the eighteenth century the concept of prehistory was exported by colonialism to far parts of the globe and applied to populations lacking written records Prehistory in these settings came to represent primitive people still living in a state without civilization and its foremost index literacy Yet many societies outside the Western world had developed complex methods of history making and documentation including epic poetry and the use of physical and mental mnemonic devices Even so the deeply engrained concept of prehistory deeply entrenched in European minds up to the beginning of the twenty first century continues to deny history and historical identity to peoples throughout the world The fourteen essays by notable archaeologists of the Americas Africa Europe and Asia provide authoritative examples of how the concept of prehistory has diminished histories of other cultures outside the West and how archaeologists can reclaim more inclusive histories set within the idiom of deep histories accepting ancient pre literate histories as an integral part of the flow of human history

The Oxford Handbook of Kenyan Politics Nic Cheeseman, Karuti Kanyinga, Gabrielle Lynch, 2020 The Oxford Handbook of Kenyan Politics provides a comprehensive and comparative overview of the Kenyan political system as well as an insightful account of Kenyan history from 1930 to the present day

Evil in Africa William C. Olsen, Walter E. A. van Beek, 2015-08-30 William C Olsen Walter E A van Beek and the contributors to this volume seek to understand how

Africans have confronted evil around them Grouped around notions of evil as a cognitive or experiential problem evil as malevolent process and evil as an inversion of justice these essays investigate what can be accepted and what must be condemned in order to evaluate being and morality in African cultural and social contexts These studies of evil entanglements take local and national histories and identities into account including state politics and civil war religious practices Islam gender and modernity Islamic Ecumene David S. Powers, Eric Tagliacozzo, 2023-11-15 The essays in Islamic Ecumene address the ways in which Muslims from Morocco to Indonesia and from sub Saharan Africa to the steppes of Uzbekistan are members of a broad cultural unit Although the Muslim inhabitants of these lands speak dozens of languages represent numerous ethnic groups and practice diverse forms of Islam they are united by shared practices and worldviews shaped by religious identity To highlight these commonalities the co editors invited a team of scholars from a wide range of disciplines to examine Muslim societies in comparative and interconnected ways The result is a book that showcases ethics education architecture the arts modernization political resistance marriage divorce and death rituals Using the insights and methods of historians anthropologists literary critics art historians political scientists and sociologists Islamic Ecumene seeks to understand Islamic identity as a dynamic phenomenon that is reflected in the multivalent practices of the more than one billion people across the planet who identify as Muslims Becoming Muslim in Mainland Tanzania, 1890-2000 Felicitas Becker, 2008-09-11 Tanzania has moved from widespread conversion to Islam in the early twentieth century to recent bitter disputes over Islamic radicalism Using a combination of government mission and oral records this volume examines the intellectual and social forces behind these transitions Pastimes and Politics Laura Fair, 2001-10-01 The first decades of the twentieth century were years of dramatic change in Zanzibar a time when the social economic and political lives of island residents were in incredible flux framed by the abolition of slavery the introduction of colonialism and a tide of urban migration Pastimes and Politics explores the era from the perspective of the urban poor highlighting the numerous and varied ways that recently freed slaves and other immigrants to town struggled to improve their individual and collective lives and to create a sense of community within this new environment In this study Laura Fair explores a range of cultural and social practices that gave expression to slaves ideas of emancipation as well as how such ideas and practices were gendered Pastimes and Politics examines the ways in which various cultural practices including taarab music dress football ethnicity and sexuality changed during the early twentieth century in relation to islanders changing social and political identities Professor Fair argues that cultural changes were not merely reflections of social and political transformations Rather leisure and popular culture were critical practices through which the colonized and former slaves transformed themselves and the society in which they lived Methodologically innovative and clearly written Pastimes and Politics is accessible to specialists and general readers alike It is a book that should find wide use in courses on African history urbanization popular culture gender studies or emancipation Originary Syncretism and the Construction of

Dar es Salaam. Histories from an Emerging African Metropolis

James R. Brennan, Andrew Burton, Yusufu Qwaray Lawi, 2007 From its modest beginnings in the 1860s Dar es Salaam has grown to become one of Africa's most important urban centres. A major political, economic and cultural hub, the city has also acted as a crucible of local social and cultural innovation, exerting a powerful influence on wider Tanzanian society. Reflecting important contemporary socio-economic trends of urban Africa, it has recently attracted the attention of a diverse range of scholars from several disciplines. This collection draws on the best of this scholarship. Book Jacket Encyclopedia of the African Diaspora Carole Boyce Davies, 2008-07-29 The authoritative source for information on the people, places and events of the African Diaspora spanning five continents and five centuries. The field of African Diaspora studies is rapidly growing. Until now there was no single authoritative source for information on this broad, complex discipline. Drawing on the work of over 300 scholars, this encyclopedia fills that void. Now the researcher from high school level up can go to a single reference for information on the historical, political, economic and cultural relations between people of African descent and the rest of the world community. Five hundred years of relocation and dislocation, of assimilation and separation, have produced a rich tapestry of history and culture into which are woven people, places and events. This authoritative, accessible work picks out the strands of the tapestry, telling the story of diverse peoples separated by time and distance but retaining a commonality of origin and experience. Organized in A-Z sections covering global topics, country of origin and destination, the work is designed for easy use by all. Cultural Production and Change in Kenya Kimani Njogu, Garnette Oluoch-Olunya, 2007 Art, Culture and Society Vol 1 is the first in a series of books to be published by Twaweza Communications on the relationship between art and society with special reference to Kenya. It is part of a cultural leadership initiative being undertaken by the organization through a reexamination of the arts as they are produced and studied. This volume brings together important reflections on the arts and is a major step in encouraging dialogue on the relationship between creativity and the human condition in the region. Significantly, it creates a space for university-based academics to engage in dialogue with artists and writers based outside institutions of higher learning. The conversations will bridge the gap between the two domains for knowledge production and enrich creative enterprise in Kenya in theory and practice. As the essays in this collection show, the present global situation demands a way to conceptualise and theorise an ever-growing cultural interconnectedness, sometimes manifested in art and interconnectedness that draws from a myriad of cultures and experiences. Through the bridges of contact and cultural exchange, distant images are mediated and brought closer to us. They are reinterpreted and modified. In the final analysis, culture is shown to be an important aspect of human creativity, but separateness and boundedness is contested. Instead, culture is shown to be malleable and fluid. The essays bring in a new freshness to our reading of the creative arts coming out of Kenya. Dock Workers Sam Davies, Colin J. Davis, David de Vries, Lex Heerma van Voss, Lidewij Hesselink, Klaus Weinbauer, 2017-09-29 Workers who loaded and unloaded ships have formed a distinctive occupational group over the past two centuries As trade expanded so the numbers of dock labourers increased and became concentrated in the major ports of the world This ambitious two volume project goes beyond existing individual studies of dock workers to develop a genuinely comparative international perspective over a long historical period Volume 1 contains studies of 22 major ports worldwide Built around an agreed framework of issues these port studies examine the type of workers who dominated dock labour their race class and ethnicity the working conditions of dockers and the role of government as employer arbitrator and supporter The studies also detail how dockers organized their labour patterns of strike action and involvement in political organizations The structure of the port city is also outlined and descriptions given of the waterside environment These areas of investigation form the basis for a series of 11 thematic studies which comprise Volume 2 Drawing on the information provided in the port studies these essays identify important aspects and recurring themes and explain how and why particular cases diverge from the rest The final chapter of the book synthesizes the various approaches taken to offer a model which suggests several configurations of dock labour and presents suggestions for future research This major scholarly achievement represents the most sustained attempt to date to provide a comparative international history of dock labour An annotated bibliography completes this essential reference work     African Historical Archaeologies Andrew M. Reid,Paul J. Lane,2014-10-28 This volume explores the range of interactions between the historical sources and archaeology that are available on the African continent The contributions written by a range of experts on different aspects of African archaeology present the underlying issues such as The conflict and collaboration in the foundation of modern Africa African trading communities maintaining their independence from Europe The impacts of the Atlantic slave trade This represents the first consideration of historical archaeology over the African continent as a whole and therefore provides an important review for African archaeologists and historians This seminal volume also explores Africa s place in global systems of thought and economic development for historical archaeologists and historians alike     Bonded Labour and Debt in the Indian Ocean World Gwyn Campbell,Alessandro Stanziani,2015-10-06 This volume of essays contains case studies of debt bondage covering the impact of an expanding globalized economy increased commercialization colonial and post colonial societies and emerging economies
