A Very Dangerous Citizen Paul Buhle, David Wagner, 2001 In this first critical and cultural biography of blacklisted filmmaker Abraham Polonsky the authors present an accomplished consideration of a survivor of America's cultural cold war and a superb study of the Hollywood left 18 photos

American Cinema of the 1950s Murray Pomerance, 2005 Bringing together original essays by ten respected scholars in the field American Cinema of the 1950s explores the impact of the cultural environment of this decade on film and the impact of film on the American cultural milieu Contributors examine the signature films of the decade including From Here to Eternity Sunset Blvd Singin in the Rain Shane Rear Window and Rebel Without a Cause as well as lesser known but equally compelling films such as Dial 1119 Mystery Street Suddenly Summer Stock The Last Hunt and many others

Kiss the Blood Off My Hands Robert Miklitsch, 2014-09-15 Consider the usual view of film noir endless rainy nights populated by down at the heel boxers writers and private eyes stumbling toward inescapable doom while stalked by crooked cops and cheating wives in a neon lit urban jungle But a new generation of writers is pushing aside the fog of cigarette smoke surrounding classic noir scholarship In Kiss the Blood Off My Hands On Classic Film Noir Robert Miklitsch curates a bold collection of essays that reassesses the genre's iconic style history and themes Contributors analyze the oft overlooked female detective and little examined aspects of filmmaking like love songs and radio aesthetics discuss the significance of the producer and women's pulp fiction and investigate topics as disparate as Disney noir and the Fifties heist film B movie back projection and blacklisted British directors At the same time the writers collective reconsideration shows the impact of race and gender history and sexuality technology and transnationality on the genre As bracing as a stiff drink Kiss the Blood Off My Hands writes the future of noir scholarship in lipstick and chalk lines for film fans and scholars alike Contributors Krin Gabbard Philippa Gates Julie Grossman Robert Miklitsch Robert Murphy Mark Osteen Vivian Sobchack Andrew Spicer J P Telotte and Neil Verma

Abraham Polonsky Andrew Dickos, 2013-01-01 Abraham Polonsky 1910-1999 screenwriter and filmmaker of the mid twentieth century Left recognized his writerly mission to reveal the aspirations of his characters in a material society structured to undermine their hopes In the process he ennobled their struggle His auspicious beginning in Hollywood reached a zenith with his Oscar nominated screenplay for Robert Rossen's boxing noir film Body and Soul 1947 and his inaugural film as writer and director Force of Evil 1948 before he was blacklisted during the McCarthy witch hunt Polonsky envisioned cinema as a modern artist His aesthetic appreciation for each technical component of the screen aroused him to create voiceovers of urban cadences poetic monologues spoken by the city's everyman embodied by the actor who played his heroes best John Garfield His use of David Raksin's score in Force of Evil against the backdrop of the grandeur of New York City's landscape and the conflict between the brothers Joe and Leo Morse elevated film noir into classical family tragedy. Like Garfield Polonsky, faced persecution and an aborted career during the blacklist. But unlike Garfield Polonsky, survived to resume his career in Hollywood during the ferment of the late sixties. Then his vision of a changing society found allegorical expression in Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here, his impressive anti-Western showing the destruction of the Paiute rebel outsider Willie Boy, and cementing Polonsky as a moral voice in cinema. Odds Against Tomorrow Nathaniel Rich, 2013-04-02

While working for a financial consulting firm that offers insurance against catastrophic events, a young mathematician becomes increasingly obsessed with doomsday scenarios until one of his worst case scenarios unfolds in Manhattan. I

Died a Million Times Robert Miklitsch, 2021-01-11 In the 1950s, the gangster movie and film noir crisscrossed to create gangster noir. Robert Miklitsch takes readers into this fascinating subgenre of films focused on crime syndicates, crooked cops, and capers. With the Senate's organized crime hearings and the brighter-than-bright myth of the American Dream as a backdrop, Miklitsch examines the style and history and the production and cultural politics of classic pictures from The Big Heat and The Asphalt Jungle to lesser-known gems like 711 Ocean Drive and post-Fifties movies like Ocean's Eleven. Miklitsch pays particular attention to trademark leitmotifs including the individual versus the collective, the family as a locus of dissension and rapport, the real-world roots of the heist picture, and the syndicate as an octopus with its tentacles deep into law enforcement, corporate America, and government. If the memes of gangster noir remain prototypically dark, the look of the films becomes lighter and flatter, reflecting the influence of television and the realization that under the cover of respectability, crime had moved from the underworld into the mainstream of contemporary everyday life. John Lewis and the Challenge of "Real" Black Music Christopher Coady, 2016-10-04 The first scholarly study of John Lewis and the Third Stream music of the Modern Jazz Quartet. Becoming Belafonte Judith E. Smith, 2014-09-15 This biography of the singer, actor, and fearless anti-racism activist is so engaging that readers will crave a sequel. Kirkus Reviews A son of poor Jamaican immigrants who grew up in Depression-era Harlem, Harry Belafonte became the first black performer to gain artistic control over the representation of African Americans in commercial television and film. Forging connections with an astonishing array of consequential players on the American scene in the decades following World War II, from Paul Robeson to Ed Sullivan, John Kennedy to Stokely Carmichael, Belafonte established his place in American culture as a hugely popular singer, matinee idol, internationalist, and champion of civil rights, black pride, and black power. In Becoming Belafonte, Judith E. Smith presents the first full-length interpretive study of this multitalented artist. She sets Belafonte's compelling story within a history of American race relations, black theater, and film history, McCarthy-era hysteria, and the challenges of introducing multifaceted black culture in a moment of expanding media possibilities and constrained political expression. Smith traces Belafonte's roots in the radical politics of the 1940s, his careful negotiation of the complex challenges of the Cold War, 1950s, and his full flowering as a civil rights advocate and internationally acclaimed performer in the 1960s. In Smith's account,

Belafonte emerges as a relentless activist a questing intellectual and a tireless organizer and a performer who never shied away from the dangerous crossroads where art and politics meet

Screen writing is a unique literary form Screenplays are like musical scores in that they are intended to be interpreted on the basis of other artists performances rather than serving as finished products for the enjoyment of their readers They are written using technical jargon and tight spare prose to describe set directions Unlike a novella a script focuses on describing the literal visual aspects of the story rather than on its characters internal thoughts In screen writing the aim is to evoke those thoughts and emotions through subtext action and symbolism Prominent Hollywood script doctors include Steve Zaillian William Goldman Robert Towne Mort Nathan Quentin Tarantino etc while many up and coming screenwriters work as ghost writers This book is a modest catalogue of some of the most prominent screenwriters listed from A to Z The good are sometimes bad and they can be even Ugly Many comments herein included were googled in deference to the multiplicity of information available today yet they reflect exactly or almost what I thought An amazing thing today is how anonymous commentators on the Internet rival and even surpass the poor quality of professional media and specialised literature It all comes down to watching the truth 24 times per second to quote Jean Luc Godard s phrase Not to mention that such truth may include sex scenes violence pedophilia etc We know that a literary masterpiece like Henry James Portrait of a Lady became a film of very poor quality as scripted by Laura Jones We know conversely that a mediocre writer like Mickey Spillane inspired at least one film as remarkable as Kiss Me Deadly thanks to A I Bezzerides script Asa former screenwriter Mr Correa must avow that he found the job most gratifying Writing that looks effortless is often hellish to write and revise It was something he did have to slog through but it proved particularly pleasing Editing discussing finishing your work is particularly gratifying Identifying your flaws and working to mitigate them is also gratifying It is a general perception that creative careers are more interesting and fun than others But the privilege of earning money through imagination and creativity is effectively hard won Please comment at will Please disagree at will Be facetious in your remarks but please be neither vicious nor mean spirited

Cli-Fi and Class Debra J. Rosenthal, Jason de Lara Molesky, 2023-10-09 Since its emergence in the late twentieth century climate fiction or cli fi has concerned itself as much with economic injustice and popular revolt as with rising seas and soaring temperatures Indeed with its insistent focus on redressing social disparities cli fi might reasonably be classified as a form of protest literature As environmental crises escalate and inequality intensifies literary writers and scholars alike have increasingly scrutinized the dual exploitations of the earth s ecosystems and the socioeconomically disadvantaged Cli Fi and Class focuses on the representation of class dynamics in climate change narratives With fifteen essays on the intersection of the economic and the ecological addressing works ranging from the novels of Joseph Conrad Cormac McCarthy and Octavia Butler to the film Black Panther and the Broadway musical Hadestown this collection unpacks the complex ways economic exploitation impacts planetary well being and the ways climatic change shapes those inequities in turn
