This highly accessible guidebook outlines the practical steps and ethical guidelines entailed when gathering linguistic data from social media sites and platforms. In this new edition, the authors update the range of social media interactions used as examples and draw attention to important developments such as fake news and new areas of debate such as hate speech. Expanding the geographical and multilingual aspects, this edition also includes examples from Asia and the Arabic speaking world. With updated methods that help students study the language of social media from a multimodal perspective, the recent uptake in image sharing, video chat, and graphicons will also be addressed. Each chapter begins with a clear summary of the topics covered and also suggests sources for further reading to supplement the initial discussion and case studies. This timely book is an essential guide for students of English language and linguistics, media and communication studies. Researching Language in Superdiverse Urban Contexts Clare Mar-Molinero, 2020-09-22 This book contributes to understanding research approaches for studying multilingualism in the context of contemporary superdiversity in environments that are being dramatically transformed by transnational migration and movement of peoples. It explores language in urban contexts, the city as a site for experimentation and creativity in language practices. This involves considering theoretical frameworks in which to examine these practices, but above all, it focuses on how we do or could do research into these language practices and their users.
