Becoming a Writing Researcher Ann Blakeslee, Cathy Fleischer, 2019-07-08 Becoming a Writing Researcher effectively guides students through the stages of conducting qualitative writing research from the initial step of seeing themselves as researchers to identifying research questions selecting appropriate methodological tools conducting the research and interpreting and reporting findings Exercises and activities as well as anecdotes and examples from both novice and seasoned researchers serve to acquaint readers thoroughly with the practice of carrying out research for scholarly or professional purposes This second edition introduces students to research methods in a gradual and contextualized manner Each chapter offers a discussion of a particular portion of the research process followed by consideration of physical conceptual and strategic tools that allow a master's level researcher to conduct that part of the research Sections within each chapter also cover issues of stance and positionality that impact the researcher and the resulting research Becoming a Writing Researcher second edition is an essential text for all novice researchers and is particularly well suited for use in graduate level research methods courses in writing studies and technical communications It is also ideal for use in other disciplines with strong qualitative methodology research programs including education Writing Mathematically Candia Morgan, 2002-01-04 School mathematics curricula internationally tend to emphasise problem solving and have led to the development of opportunities for children to do maths in a more open creative way This has led to increased interest in performance based assessment which involves children in substantial production of written language to serve as evidence of their mathematical activity and achievement However this raises two important questions Firstly does this writing accurately present children's mathematical activity and ability Secondly do maths teachers have sufficient linguistic awareness to support their students in developing skills and knowledge necessary for writing effectively in their subject area The author of this book takes a critical perspective on these questions and through an investigation of teachers readings and evaluations of coursework texts identifies the crucial issues affecting the accurate assessment of school mathematics Re-writing Spatiality Britta Kuhlenbeck,2010 The objective of this project is to encourage new ways of thinking about the meaning and significance of space It follows a desire that has been expressed and theorized by Henri Lefebvre and by extension Edward W Soja to remove Spatiality from the margin of the Trialectics of Being and to bring it into the Trialectics fold alongside with and of at least equal significance to Historicity and Sociality The thesis focuses on how space of the Pilbara region in Western Australia is produced in contemporary Australian writing film art and through lived experience The thesis argues for an understanding of space as essentially dynamic Becoming a Writing Researcher Ann M. Blakeslee,Ann Blakeslee,Cathy Fleischer,2009-03-04 Becoming a Writing Researcher effectively guides students through the stages of conducting qualitative writing research from the initial step of seeing themselves as researchers to identifying research questions selecting appropriate tools conducting the research and interpreting and reporting the findings Authors Ann M Blakeslee and Cathy Fleischer describe various qualitative methods and provide readers with examples of real world applications Exercises and activities as well as anecdotes from both novice and seasoned researchers serve to acquaint readers thoroughly with the practice of carrying out research for scholarly or professional purposes The textbook introduces students to research methods in a gradual and contextualized manner Each chapter opens with a discussion of general issues regarding a particular portion of the research process followed by a consideration of the various physical conceptual and strategic tools that allow a beginning researcher to conduct that part of the process Sections within each chapter also cover personal and theoretical perspectives and biases that influence specific stages of the research process ethical issues associated with phases of the research process the identity ethos and experiences of the researcher Becoming a Writing Researcher is an essential text for all novice researchers and is well suited for use in graduate level research methods courses in composition and technical communication It is also ideal for use in other disciplines with strong qualitative methodology research programs including education Writing, Society and Culture in Early Rus, c.950-1300 Simon Franklin,2002-08-29 This book provides a thorough survey and analysis of the emergence and functions of written culture in Rus covering roughly the modern East Slav lands of European Russia Ukraine and Belarus Part I introduces the full range of types of writing the scripts and languages the materials the social and physical contexts ranging from builders scratches on bricks through to luxurious parchment manuscripts Part II presents a series of thematic studies of the socio cultural dynamics of writing in order to reveal and explain distinctive features in the Rus assimilation of the technology The comparative approach means that the book may also serve as a case study for those with a broader interest either in medieval uses of writing or in the social and cultural history of information technologies Overall the impressive scholarship and idiosyncratic wit of this volume
