Cooper, 1996-02 Cooper paints a meticulous and absorbing portrait of McKay's restless artistic intellectual and political odyssey The definitive biography on McKay Choice Although recognized today as one of the genuine pioneers of black literature in this century the author of If We Must Die Home to Harlem Banana Bottom and A Long Way from Home among other works Claude McKay 1890-1948 died penniless and almost forgotten in a Chicago hospital In this masterly study Wayne Cooper presents a fascinating detailed account of McKay's complex chaotic and frequently contradictory life In his poetry and fiction as well as in his political and social commentaries McKay searched for a solid foundation for a valid black identity among the working class cultures of the West Indies and the United States He was an undeniably important predecessor to such younger writers of the Harlem Renaissance as Langston Hughes and Countee Cullen and also to influential West Indian and African writers such as C. L. R. James and Aimé Césaire Knowledge of his life adds important dimensions to our understanding of American radicalism the expatriates of the 1920s and American literature Mr Cooper's most original contribution is his careful and perceptive analysis of McKay's nonfiction writing especially his social and political commentary which often contained prophetic statements on a range of important social political and historical issues New York Times Book Review Jane Austen and the Creation of Modern Fiction Collins Hemingway, 2024-05-23 Jane Austen's creative process has been largely unexamined This book explores her development as a writer what she adapted from tradition for her needs what she learned novel to novel how she used that learning in future works and how her ultimate mastery of fiction changed the course of English literature Jane Austen overcame the limitations of early fiction by pivoting from superficial adventures to the psychological studies that have defined the novel since Her creativity and technique grew as she wrestled with pragmatic writing issues This evaluation of Austen's creative process brings into focus the strengths and weaknesses of her six novels Each is examined in its use of major fictional techniques description scene building point of view and psychological development to reveal unique literary attributes The result is a revealing analysis of how world class fiction is built from the ground up

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and thrilling novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
