Political Belief in France, 1927-1945 Caroline Campbell, 2015-12-09 In the inter war era the rise of the largest political movement in modern French history the powerful Croix de Feu 1927 1936 and its successor the Parti Social Fran ais or PSF 1936 1945 led to a sharp rightward turn in France's political culture Political Belief in France 1927 1945 traces the central role of women in this shift arguing that they transformed the Croix de Feu PSF from a paramilitary league for veterans into a social reform movement that sought to remake the politics society and culture of the French Republic Following the creation of a Women's Section in 1934 the women of the Croix de Feu PSF developed a wide array of social programs including welfare services youth development and health care initiatives At a time of economic depression and high unemployment these popular programs tempered the organization's fearsome reputation as a violent paramilitary group While the efforts of the Women's Section had the veneer of moderation they accentuated the long standing conservative image of France as a deeply Christian society and sought to assimilate people of different ethnoreligious backgrounds into the dominant national community Croix de Feu PSF women promoted their social agenda as a religious and patriotic duty a reflection of the individual's responsibility to make personal sacrifices on behalf of their vision for France's Christian civilization The Croix de Feu PSF's ethnoreligious nationalism circulated throughout the French imperial nation state making the movement the premier defender of an empire at the height of its power But women in North African branches faced substantial marginalization and the movement remained dangerously sectarian in the Maghreb driving indigenous activists from reformism to anticolonialism The Croix de Feu PSF thus set the stage for both the authoritarian anti Semitic Vichy regime and the decolonization that followed the war The first book on women of the French far right in the age of fascism Political Belief in France 1927 1945 contributes to the fields of French history gender studies the history of fascism and the history of empire

Human Rights and Reform Susan E. Waltz, 2022-07-15 Independence from colonial rule did not usher in the halcyon days many North Africans had hoped for as the new governments in Morocco Tunisia and Algeria soon came to rely on repression to reinforce and maintain power In response to widespread human rights abuses individuals across the Maghrib began to form groups in the late 1970s to challenge the political practices and structures in the region and over time these independent human rights organizations became prominent political actors The activists behind them are neither saints nor revolutionaries but political reformers intent on changing political patterns that have impeded democratization This study the first systematic comparative analysis of North African politics in more than a decade explores the ability of society including Islamist forces to challenge the powers of states Locating Maghribi polities within their cultural and historical contexts Waltz traces state society relations in the contemporary period Even as Algeria totters at the brink of civil war and security concerns rise across the region the human rights groups Susan Waltz examines implicitly challenge the authoritarian basis of political governance Their efforts have not led to the democratic transition many had hoped but human rights have become a crucial new element of North African political discourse This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1995
