

Modern Architect

Stephanie Travis, Catherine Anderson

Modern Architect:

Making it Modern Aaron Betsky, 2016-12-15 At its root modernism is that fundamental It is a question of having something to represent that is of the moment In the most radical interpretation modernism always comes too late The modern is that which is always new which is to say always changing and already old by the time it has appeared Modernism is always a retrospective act one of documenting or trying to catch what has already appeared an attempt to fix life as it is being lived Modernity is just the very fact that we as human beings are continually remaking the world around us through our actions and are doing so consciously Modernism is a monument to or memory of that act which in its own making tries to remake the world it is pretending to represent Modern Architecture Otto Wagner, 1988 In 1896 Otto Wagner's Modern Architecture shocked the European architectural community with its impassioned plea for an end to eclecticism and for a modern style suited to contemporary needs and ideals utilizing the nascent constructional technologies and materials Through the combined forces of his polemical pedagogical and professional efforts this determined newly appointed professor at the Vienna Academy of Fine Arts emerged in the late 1890s along with such contemporaries as Charles Rennie Mackintosh in Glasgow and Louis Sullivan in Chicago as one of the leaders of the revolution soon to be identified as the Modern Movement Wagner's historic manifesto is now presented in a new English translation the first in almost ninety years based on the expanded 1902 text and noting emendations made to the 1896 1898 and 1914 editions In his introduction Dr Harry Mallgrave examines Wagner's tract against the backdrop of nineteenth century theory critically exploring the affinities of Wagner's revolutionary plan with the German eclectic debate of the 1840s the materialistic tendencies of the 1870s and 1880s and the emerging cultural ideology of modernity Modern Architecture is one of those rare works in the literature of architecture that not only proclaimed the dawning of a new era but also perspicaciously and cogently shaped the issues and the course of its development it defined less the personal aspirations of one individual and more the collective hopes and dreams of a generation facing the sanguine promise of a new century Contemporary Architects Muriel

Concepts in Modern Architecture Stephanie Travis, Catherine Anderson, 2021-08-26 Designed to appeal to visual thinkers 25 Concepts in Modern Architecture explores the fundamental ideas behind architectural design through easy to follow sketches drawings and succinct explanations Twenty five concepts each of which are key to architectural design thinking are accessibly explained by examining twenty five different masterworks of modern architecture For example the concept of movement in architectural design is explained through a close look at a Le Corbusier building transparency is examined in Philip Johnson's seminal Glass House asymmetry is understood through the work of Zaha Hadid and so on through twenty five core concepts and twenty five of the most significant buildings of the modern era Taking a highly visual approach this simple yet visually powerful guide is an essential companion in the design studio and to introductory courses in modern architecture interior architecture and interior design Understanding these concepts will provide a key to demystifying the greatest works in modern architectural history inspire new ways to think about new design projects and reveal how drawing and sketching are used as tools for the visual analysis of architecture The Modern Architect Edward Shaw,1855

The Making of the Modern Architect and Engineer Ulrich Pfammatter,2000 The very first school for architecture came into being when the Ecole Polytechnique opened its gates in Paris in 1794 and with this the profession of the architect as we understand it today was born Using previously unpublished texts and visual material Ulrich Pfammatter traces in fascinating detail the origins and subsequent development of the scientific and industrial training of architects and engineers He explores the growth of the architecture schools in Paris Karlsruhe Zurich London and the USA and by considering important exponents such as Durand Reynaud Mary Weinbrenner Semper Dufour Klenze Eiffel and Jenney he provides a detailed exposition of this important chapter in civil engineering and architectural history Modern Architecture Since

1900 William J. R. Curtis,1982 Om Grundtvigskirken s 240 41 ill Ark P V Jensen Klint Modern Architecture Alan Colquhoun,2002-04-25 This new account of international modernism explores the complex motivations behind this revolutionary movement and assesses its triumphs and failures The work of the main architects of the movement such as Frank Lloyd Wright Adolf Loos Le Corbusier and Mies van der Rohe is re examined shedding new light on their roles as acknowledged masters Alan Colquhoun explores the evolution of the movement from Art Nouveau in the 1890s to the megastructures of the 1960s revealing the often contradictory demands of form function social engagement modernity and tradition The Meaning of Modern Architecture Dr Hans Rudolf Morgenthauer,2015-08-28 Using empathy as established by the Vienna School of Art History complemented by insights on how the mind processes visual stimuli as demonstrated by late 19th century psychologists and art theorists this book puts forward an innovative interpretative method of decoding the forms and spaces of Modern buildings This method was first developed as scholars realized that the new abstract art appearing needed to be analysed differently than the previous figurative works Since architecture experienced a similar development in the 1920s and 30s this book argues that the empathetic method can also be used in architectural interpretation While most existing scholarship tends to focus on formal and functional analysis this book proposes that Modern architecture is too diverse to be reduced to a few common formal or ornamental features Instead by relying on the viewer's innate psycho physiological perceptive abilities sensual and intuitive understandings of composition form and space are emphasized These aspects are especially significant because Modern Architecture lacks the traditional stylistic signs Including building analyses it shows how by visually reducing cubical forms and spaces to linear configurations the exteriors and interiors of Modern buildings can be interpreted via human perceptive abilities as dynamic movement systems commensurate with the new industrial transportation age This reveals an inner necessity these buildings express about themselves and their culture rather than just an explanation of how they are assembled and how they should be used The case studies highlight the contrasts between buildings designed by different architects rather than concentrating on the few features that relate them to the zeitgeist It analyses the buildings directly as the objects of study not indirectly as designs filtered through a philosophical or theoretical discourse The book demonstrates that with technology and science affecting culture and the arts deeply Modern Architecture needs to be treated differently than earlier stylistic periods It proposes a new chronology of Modernity that analyses this period s own evolutionary trajectory and does not try to explain it as simply the last phase in artistic evolution since the beginning of human existence
