Modern China Su Kaiming, 1985-01-01 Modern China Kaiming Su, 1985 The Many Dimensions of Chinese Feminism Y. Chen, 2011-05-23 In the current English language publication market this book is one of the earliest academic monographs to comparatively investigate different feminist scholars and academic feminism across the Taiwan Strait It problematizes recent scholarly understanding of feminist complexity in various Chinese speaking areas This book addresses sociocultural backgrounds of how Mainland Chinese Taiwanese and Hong Kong feminist scholars strategize their transfers localization and acculturation of Western feminist literary theories It emphasizes how Chinese literary theorists filter gate keep select import latest Western feminist theories and then match them with local socio cultural trends by exerting comparative researchers cross cultural and cross lingual academic power in order to tackle Mainland China s Taiwan s and Hong Kong s own gender problems A Protestant Church in Communist China John Craig William Keating, 2012-02-16 Freedom of religious belief is guaranteed under the constitution of the People s Republic of China but the degree to which this freedom is able to be exercised remains a highly controversial issue Much scholarly attention has been given to persecuted underground groups such as Falun but one area that remains largely unexplored is the relationship between officially registered churches and the communist government This study investigates the history of one such official church Moore Memorial Church in Shanghai This church was founded by American Methodist missionaries By the time of the 1949 revolution it was the largest Protestant church in East Asia running seven day a week programs As a case study of one individual church operating from an historical rather than theological perspective this study examines the experience of people at this church against the backdrop of the turbulent politics of the Mao and Deng eras It asks and seeks to answer questions such as were the people at the church pleased to see the foreign missionaries leave Were people forced to sign the so called Christian manifesto Once the church doors were closed in 1966 did worshipers go underground Why was this particular church especially chosen to be the first re opened in Shanghai in 1979 What explanations are there for its phenomenal growth since then A considerable proportion of the data for this study is drawn from Chinese language sources including interviews personal correspondence statistics internal church documents and archives many of which have never previously been published or accessed by foreign researchers The main focus of this study is on the period from 1949 to 1989 a period in which the church experienced many ups and downs restrictions and limitations The Mao era in particular remains one of the least understood and seldom written about periods in the history of Christianity in China This study therefore makes a significant contribution to our evolving understanding of the delicate balancing act between compromise co operation and compliance that categorizes church state relations in modern China Japanese Studies of Modern China since 1953 Noriko Kamachi, John K.
