Science Fiction and Fantasy Reference Index, 1878-1985: Author entries Halbert W. Hall,1987 The A to Z of Science Fiction Literature Brian M. Stableford,2005 Science fiction literature also known as sci fi and sf is one of the more recent and popular genres It only truly emerged during the 20th century and has not stopped growing in terms of authors titles and readers It has also evolved into a variety of subgenres ranging from hard sf to soft sf and utopias to dystopias with more than a smattering of horror detective war and feminist titles Stableford covers all of this and more taking a close look at what has become a booming industry with specialized writers publishers and fan magazines and literature from the United States United Kingdom France Russia and many other countries The chronology charts the genre's dazzling growth the introduction provides exceptional insight into what science fiction literature is all about and the dictionary section examines writers books themes and other specifics BOOK JACKET Complete Critical Assembly David Langford, 2002-10-01 This new collection of essays commissioned from a range of scholars across the world takes as its theme the reception of Rome's greatest poet in a time of profound cultural change Amid the rise of Christianity the changing status of the city of Rome and the emergence of new governing classes Vergil remained a bedrock of Roman education and identity This volume considers the different ways in which Vergil was read understood and appropriated by poets commentators Church fathers orators and historians The introduction outlines the cultural and historical contexts Twelve chapters dedicated to individual writers or genres and the contributors make use of a wide range of approaches from contemporary reception theory An epilogue concludes the volume

Secrecy and Community in 21st-Century Fiction María J. López, Pilar Villar-Argáiz, 2021-01-14 Secrecy and Community in 21st Century Fiction examines the relation between secrecy and community in a diverse and international range of contemporary fictional works in English In its concern with what is called communities of secrecy it is fundamentally indebted to the thought of Jacques Derrida Jean Luc Nancy and Maurice Blanchot who have pointed to the fallacies and dangers of identitarian and exclusionary communities arguing for forms of being in common characterized by non belonging singularity and otherness Also drawing on the work of J Hillis Miller Derek Attridge Nicholas Royle Matei Calinescu Frank Kermode and George Simmel among others this volume analyses the centrality of secrets in the construction of literary form narrative sequence and meaning together with their foundational role in our private and interpersonal lives and the public and political realms In doing so it engages with the Derridean ethico political value of secrecy and Derrida's conception of literature as the exemplary site for the operation of the unconditional secret

The Subject of Race in American Science Fiction Sharon DeGraw, 2006-12-19 While the connections between science fiction and race have largely been neglected by scholars racial identity is a key element of the subjectivity constructed in American SF In his Mars series Edgar Rice Burroughs primarily supported essentialist constructions of racial identity but also included a few elements of racial egalitarianism Writing in the 1930s George S Schuyler revised Burroughs' normative SF triangle of white author white audience and white protagonist and promoted an individualistic highly variable concept of race instead While both Burroughs and Schuyler wrote SF focusing on racial identity the largely separate genres of science fiction and African American literature prevented the similarities between the two authors from being adequately acknowledged and explored Beginning in the 1960s Samuel R Delany more fully joined SF and African American literature Delany expands on Schuyler's racial constructionist approach to identity including gender and sexuality in addition to race Critically intertwining the genres of SF and African American literature allows a critique of the racism in the science fiction and a more accurate and positive portrayal of the scientific connections in the African American literature Connecting the popular fiction of Burroughs the controversial career of Schuyler and the postmodern texts of Delany illuminates a gradual change from a stable essentialist construction of racial identity at the turn of the century to the variable social construction of poststructuralist subjectivity today

Culture, Identities and Technology in the Star Wars Films Carl Silvio, Tony M. Vinci, 2014-11-26 Released in May 1977 the original Star Wars movie inaugurated the age of the movie blockbuster It also redefined the use of cinematic special effects creating a new textual universe that now stretches through three decades two trilogies and generations of fascinated viewers The body of critical analysis that has developed from this epic focuses primarily on the Star Wars universe as a contemporary myth However like any fiction it must also be viewed and consequently analyzed as a product of the culture which created it The essays in this book analyze the Star Wars trilogies as a culturally and historically specific phenomenon Moving away from the traditional myth based criticism of the films the essayists employ a cultural studies model to examine how this phenomenon intersects with social formations such as economics technology race and gender Critical approaches are varied and include political and economic analysis informed by feminism contemporary race theory Marxism new media studies and post humanism Among the topics covered are the connections between the trilogies and our own cultural landscape the problematic issues of race and gender and the thematic implications of Lucas presentation of technology Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here
