Voice and New Writing, 1997-2007 M. Inchley,2015-03-14 In New Labour s empathetic regime how did diverse voices scrutinize its etiquettes of articulation and audibility Using the voice as cultural evidence Voice and New Writing explores what it means to have a voice in mainstream theatre and for newly included voices to negotiate with the institutions that find and represent their identities

The Lily and the Thistle William Calin,2013-12-31 In The Lily and the Thistle William Calin argues for a reconsideration of the French impact on medieval and renaissance Scottish literature Calin proposes that much of traditional medieval and early modern Scottish culture thought to be native to Scotland or primarily from England is in fact strikingly international and European By situating Scottish works in a broad intertextual context Calin reveals which French genres and modes were most popular in Scotland and why The Lily and the Thistle provides appraisals of medieval narrative texts in the high courtly mode equivalent to the French amoureux comic didactic and satirical texts and Scots romance. Special attention is accorded to texts composed originally in French such as the Arthurian Roman de Fergus as well as to the lyrics of Mary Queen of Scots and little known writers from the French and Scottish canons. By considering both medieval and renaissance works Calin is able to observe shifts in taste and French influence over the centuries.

New Directions in the History of the Novel P. Parrinder, A. Nash, N. Wilson, 2014-02-25 New Directions in the History of the Novel challenges received views of literary history and sets out new areas for research. A re-examination of the nature of prose fiction in English and its study from the Renaissance to the 21st century it will become required reading for teachers and students of the novel and its history.

A Companion to the British and Irish Short Story David Malcolm, Cheryl Alexander Malcolm, 2009-01-30 A Companion to the British and Irish Short Story provides a comprehensive treatment of short fiction writing and chronicles its development in Britain and Ireland from 1880 to the present. Provides a comprehensive treatment of the short story in Britain and Ireland as it developed over the period 1880 to the present. Includes essays on topics and genres as well as on individual texts and authors. Cultural Identity and Postmodern Writing, 2006-01-01 Cultural Identity and Postmodern Writing seeks to ascertain the relationship obtaining between the specific form postmodernism assumes in a given culture and the national narrative in which that culture traditionally recognizes itself. Theo D haen provides a general introduction to the issue of cultural identity and postmodern writing. Jos Joosten and Thomas Vaessens take a look at Dutch literature and particular Dutch poetry in relation to postmodernism. Robert Haak and Andrea Kunne do the same with regard to respectively German and Austrian literature while Roel Daamen turns to Scottish literature. Patricia Krus discusses postmodernism in relation to Caribbean literature and Kristian van Haesendonck and Nanne Timmer turn their attention to Puerto Rican and Cuban literature while Adriana Churampi deals with Peruvian literature. Finally Markha Valenta investigates the roots of the postmodernism debate in the United States. This volume is of interest to all students and scholars of modern and contemporary literature and to anyone interested in issues of identity as linked to matters of culture.

The 1990s: A Decade of Contemporary British Fiction Nick Hubble, Philip Tew, Leigh Wilson, 2015-05-21 How did social cultural and political events in Britain during the 1990s shape contemporary British Fiction? From the fall of the Berlin Wall to the turn of the millennium the 1990s witnessed a realignment of global politics. Against the changing international scene this volume uses events abroad and in Britain to examine and explain the changes taking place in British fiction including the celebration of national identities fuelled by the move toward political devolution in Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales; the literary optimism in urban ethnic fictions written by a new generation of authors born and raised in Britain; the popularity of neo-Victorian fiction. Critical surveys are balanced by in-depth readings of work by the authors who defined the decade including A. S. Byatt, Hanif Kureishi, Will Self, Caryl Phillips and Irvine Welsh, an approach that illustrates exactly how their key themes and concerns fit within the social and political circumstances of the decade Contemporary British Novel Since 2000 James Acheson, 2017-01-17 Focuses on the novels published since 2000 by twenty major British novelists The Contemporary British Novel Since 2000 is divided into five parts with the first part examining the work of four particularly well known and highly regarded twenty first century writers Ian McEwan David Mitchell Hilary Mantel and Zadie Smith It is with reference to each of these novelists in turn that the terms arealist apostmodernist ahistorical and apostcolonialist fiction are introduced while in the remaining four parts other novelists are discussed and the meaning of the terms amplified From the start it is emphasised that these terms and others often mean different things to different novelists and that the complexity of their novels often obliges us to discuss their work with reference to more than one of the terms Also discusses the works of Maggie O'Farrell Sarah Hall A L Kennedy Alan Warner Ali Smith Kazuo Ishiguro Kate Atkinson Salman Rushdie Adam Foulds Sarah Waters James Robertson Mohsin Hamid Andrea Levy and Aminatta Forna A Glasgow Voice Christine Amanda Müller, 2011-05-25 This book focuses on James Kelman a leading Scottish author and his use of language It examines how Kelman presents a spoken Glasgow working class voice in his stories while breaking down the traditional distinction made between speech and writing in literature Three main themes are explored the use of Glaswegian Scots language the inclusion of working class discourse features and an expressive preference for spoken over written forms Kelman's writing is approached through an examination of his use of punctuation spelling vocabulary grammar swearing and body language Throughout examples from Kelman's writing are analysed and statistical comparisons are made between his writing and the Scots Corpus of Texts and Speech In summary the reader will find a detailed and systematic analysis of Kelman's use of language in literature showing linguistic patterns identifying key textual strategies and features and comparing these to the standards that precede him and those that surround his work Refracting the Canon in Contemporary British Literature and Film, 2016-08-09 Contemporary works of art that remodel the canon not only create complex hybrid and plural products but also alter our perceptions and understanding of their source texts This is the dual process referred to in this volume as refraction that the essays collected here set out to discuss and analyse by focusing on the dialectic rapport between postmodernism and the canon What is sought in many of the essays is a redefinition of postmodernist art and a re-examination of the canon in the light of contemporary epistemology Given this dual process this volume will be of value both to everyone interested in contemporary art particularly fiction drama and film and also to readers whose aim it is to promote a better appreciation of canonical British literature Community in Contemporary British Fiction Sara Upstone, Peter Ely, 2022-10-20 Examining how British writers are addressing the urgent matter of how we form and express group belonging in the 21st century this book brings together a range of international scholars to explore the ongoing crises developments and possibilities inherent in the task of representing community in the present Including an extended critical introduction that positions the individual chapters in relation to broader conceptual questions chapters combine close reading and engagement with the latest theories and concepts to engage with the complex regionalities of the United Kingdom with representation of writers from all parts of the UK including Northern Ireland Including specific focus on the most challenging issues for community in the past five years notably Brexit and the Covid 19 crisis with a broader understanding of themes of local and national belonging this book offers detailed discussions of writers including Ali Smith Niall Griffiths John McGregor Max Porter Amanda Craig Bernadine Evaristo Jonathan Coe Bernie McGill Jan Carson Guy Gunaratne Anthony Cartright Barney Farmer Maggie Gee and Sarah Hall Demonstrating some of the resources that literature can offer for a renewed understanding of community this book is essential reading for anyone interested in how British Literature contributes to our understanding of society in both the past and present and how such understanding can potentially help us to shape the future
