Ping-Pong Diplomacy Nicholas Griffin, 2014-01-02 It was one of the most significant developments of the post war era China finally abandoning its close relationship with the Soviet Union to begin detente with the USA Astonishingly the man who helped make it happen was a British aristocrat Ivor Montagu a Soviet spy who knew Stalin and dined with Trotsky Even more remarkably the means to this rapprochement was table tennis a sport loved by both Chairman Mao and Montagu For years Montagu had lived a dual life working to spread communism and also table tennis around the world Surprisingly the two strands of his career would come together in an event of global significance Nicholas Griffin weaves a compelling story to reveal the background to the famous occasion in 1971 when the USA's Glenn Cowan a 19 year old hippie befriended China's world champion Zhuang Zedong who was imprisoned during the Cultural Revolution Within days the Americans would be playing the Chinese in front of 18 000 fans in Beijing with the whole world watching It was the beginning of a thaw in Sino US relations that forced the Soviets into a crippling arms race that acted as a catalyst to pressuring them into errors that would draw the Cold War to an end Sometimes sport truly can have the biggest consequences

Colonial Tactics and Everyday Life Yuxin Ma, 2023-01-17 Following the Japanese invasion of northeast China in 1931 the occupying authorities established the Manchuria Film Association to promote film production efficiency and serve Japan's propaganda needs Manchuria Film Association had two tasks to make national policy films as part of a cultural mission of educating Chinese in Manchukuo the puppet state created in 1932 on the special relationship between Japan and the region and to block the exhibition of Chinese films from Shanghai that contained anti-Japanese messages The corporation relied on Japanese capital technology and film expertise but it also employed many Chinese filmmakers After the withdrawal of Japanese forces in 1945 many of these individuals were portrayed as either exploited victims or traitorous collaborators Yuxin Ma seeks to move the conversation beyond such simplistic and inaccurate depictions By focusing on the daily challenges and experiences of the Chinese workers at the corporation Ma examines how life was actually lived by people navigating between practical and ideological concerns She illustrates how the inhabitants of Manchukuo navigated social opportunities economic depression educational reforms fascist rule commercial interests practical daily needs and more and reveals ways in which these conflicting preoccupations sometimes manifested as tension and ambiguity on screen In the battle between repression and expression these Chinese actors directors writers and technicians adopted defensive and opportunistic tactics They did so in colonial spaces often rejecting modernist representations of Manchukuo in favor of venerating traditional Chinese culture and values The expertise skills and professional networks they developed extended well beyond the occupation into the postwar period and many individuals reestablished themselves as cinema professionals in the socialist era
