The Crisis of the Modern World René Guénon, 2001 It is no longer news that the Western world is in a crisis a crisis that has spread far beyond its point of origin and become global in nature In 1927 Ren Gu non responded to this crisis with the closest thing he ever wrote to a manifesto and call to action The Crisis of the Modern World was his most direct and complete application of traditional metaphysical principles particularly that of the age of darkness preceding the end of the present world to social criticism surpassed only by The Reign of Quantity and the Signs of the Times his magnum opus In the present work Gu non ruthlessly exposes the Western deviation its loss of tradition its exaltation of action over knowledge its rampant individualism and general social chaos His response to these conditions was not activist however but purely intellectual envisioning the coming together of Western intellectual leaders capable under favorable circumstances of returning the West to its traditional roots most likely via the Catholic Church or under less favorable ones of at least preserving the seeds of Tradition for the time to come

Defining the Family Janet L. Dolgin,1999-08 Defining the Family Law Technology and Reproduction in an Uneasy Age provides a sweeping portrait of the family in American law from the nineteenth century to the present The family today has come to be defined by individuality and choice Pre nuptial agreements non marital cohabitation gay and lesbian marriages have all profoundly altered our ideas about marriage and family In the last few years reproductive technology and surrogacy have accelerated this process of change at a breathtaking rate Once simple questions have taken on a dizzying complexity Who are the real parents of a child What are the relationships and responsibilities between a child the woman who carried it to term and the egg donor Between viable sperm and the wife of a dead donor The courts and the law have been wildly inconsistent and indecisive when grappling with these questions Should these cases be decided in light of laws governing contracts and property Or it is more appropriate to act in the best interests of the child even if that child is unborn or even unconceived No longer merely settling disputes among family members the law is now seeing its own role expand to the point where it is asked to regulate situations unprecedented in human history Janet L Dolgin charts the response of the law to modern reproductive technology both as it transforms our image of the family and is itself transformed by the tide of social forces
