Grove,2017-03-02 This study compares text image interaction as manifested in emblem books and related forms and the modern bande dessin e or French language comic strip It moves beyond the issue of defining the emblematic genre to examine the ways in which emblems and their modern counterparts interact with the surrounding culture and what they disclose about that culture Drawing largely on primary material from the Biblioth que nationale de France and from Glasgow University Library s Stirling Maxwell Collection of emblem literature Laurence Grove builds on the ideas of Marshall McLuhan Elizabeth Eisenstein and more recently Neil Rhodes and Jonathan Sawday Divided into four sections Theoretics Production Thematics and Reception Text Image Mosaics in French Culture broaches topics such as theoretical approaches past and present to text image forms the question of narrative within the scope of text image creations and the reuse of visual iconography for diametrically opposed political or religious purposes The author argues that despite the gap in time between the advent of emblems and that of comic strips the two forms are analogous in that both are the products of a parallel mentality The mindsets of the periods that popularised these forms have certain common features related to repeated social conditions rather than to the pure evolution over time Grove s analysis and historical contextualisation of that mentality provide insight into our own popular culture forms not only the comic strip but also other hybrid media such as advertising and the Internet His juxtaposition of emblems and the bande dessin e increases our understanding of all such combinations of picture and text Textual & Visual Selves Natalie Edwards,Amy L. Hubbell,Ann Miller,2011-12-01

Autobiography in France has taken a decidedly visual turn in recent years photographs shown or withheld become evidence of what was might have been or cannot be said photographers filmmakers and cartoonists undertake projects that explore issues of identity Textual and Visual Selves investigates from a variety of theoretical perspectives the ways in which the textual and the visual combine in certain French works to reconfigure ideas and images of self representation Surprisingly what these accounts reveal is that photography or film does not necessarily serve to shore up the referentiality of the autobiographical account on the contrary the inclusion of visual material can even increase indeterminacy and ambiguity Far from offering documentary evidence of an extratextual self coincident with the I of the text these images testify only to absence loss evasiveness and the desire to avoid objectification However where Roland Barthes famously saw the photograph as a prefiguration of death in this volume we see how the textual strategies deployed by these writers and artists result in work that is ultimately life affirming The French Comics Theory Reader Ann Miller,Bart Beaty,2014-06-24 Key French language theoretical texts on comics translated into English for the first time The French Comics Theory Reader presents a collection of key theoretical texts on comics spanning a period from the 1960s to the 2010s written in French and never before translated into English The publication brings a distinctive set of authors together uniting theoretical scholars artists journalists and comics critics Readers will gain access to important debates that have taken place among major French language comics scholars including Thierry Groensteen Beno t Peeters Jan Baetens and Pierre Fresnault Deruelle over the past fifty years The collection covers a broad range of approaches to the medium including historical formal sociological philosophical and psychoanalytic A general introduction provides an overall context and in addition each of the four thematic sections is prefaced by a brief summary of each text and an explanation of how they have influenced later work The translations are faithful to the originals while reading clearly in English and where necessary cultural references are clarified
