Literature and the Posthuman Zoe Jaques, 2015-02-11 An investigation of identity formation in children s literature this book brings together children s literature and recent critical concerns with posthuman identity to argue that children s fiction offers sophisticated interventions into debates about what it means to be human and in particular about humanity s relationship to animals and the natural world In complicating questions of human identity ecology gender and technology Jaques engages with a multifaceted posthumanism to understand how philosophy can emerge from children s fantasy disclosing how such fantasy can build upon earlier traditions to represent complex issues of humanness to younger audiences Interrogating the place of the human through the non human whether animal or mechanical leads this book to have interpretations that radically depart from the critical tradition which in its concerns with the socialization and representation of the child has ignored larger epistemologies of humanness The book considers canonical texts of children s literature alongside recent bestsellers and films locating texts such as Gulliver s Travels 1726 Pinocchio 1883 and the Alice books 1865 1871 as important works in the evolution of posthuman ideas This study provides radical new readings of children s literature and demonstrates that the genre offers sophisticated interventions into the nature boundaries and dominion of humanity

Aboriginal lawyer writer and filmmaker Larissa Behrendt has long been fascinated by the story of Eliza Fraser who was purportedly captured by the Butchulla people after she was shipwrecked on their island off the Queensland coast in 1836 In this deeply personal book Behrendt uses Eliza's tale as a starting point to interrogate how Aboriginal people and indigenous people of other countries have been portrayed in their colonisers' stories Exploring works as diverse as Robinson Crusoe and Coonardoo Behrendt looks at the stereotypes embedded in these accounts including the assumption of cannibalism and the myth of the noble savage Ultimately Finding Eliza shows how these stories not only reflect the values of their storytellers but also reinforce those values and how in Australia this has contributed to a complex racial divide Proceedings of the 4th Austrian Students' Conference of Linguistics Peter Anreiter, Irina Windhaber, 2013-07-26 This collection of articles contains the English contributions to the 4th Austrian Students Conference of Linguistics sterreichische Studierenden Konferenz der Linguistik SKL which was held in November 2011 at the University of Innsbruck With this collection the editors want to make the insights and the knowledge presented at the 4th SKL available in written format to a wider public. The contributions present in this collection are excerpts from PhD as well as diploma theses and see Edinburgh Companion to Modern Jewish Fiction David Brauner, 2015-06-07. Provides critical overviews of the main writers and key themes of Anglophone Jewish fiction. This collection of essays represents a new departure for and a potentially redefining moment in literary Jewish Studies. It is the first volume to bring together essays covering a wide range of American, British, South African, Canadian and Australian Jewish fiction. Moreover, it complicates all these terms, emphasising the porousness between different national traditions and moving beyond traditional definitions of Jewishness. For the sake of structural clarity, the volume is divided into three parts: American Jewish Fiction, British Jewish Fiction, and International and Transnational Anglophone Jewish Fiction, but many of the essays cross over these boundaries and speak to each other implicitly as well as on occasion explicitly. Extending and redefining the canon of modern Jewish fiction, the volume juxtaposes major authors with more marginal figures, revising and recuperating individual reputations, rediscovering forgotten and discovering new work, and in the process remapping the whole terrain. This volume opens windows onto vistas that previously had been obscured and opens doors for the next generation of studies that could not proceed without a wide-ranging visionary empiricism grounding their work. The Edinburgh Companion is a paradigm-changing event, and nothing in Jewish literary studies that follows can fail to pay close attention to it.

Key Features Highlights the rich diversity of the field and identifies its key themes, including immigration, the Diaspora, the Holocaust, Judaism, assimilation, antisemitism, and Zionism. Analyses the main trends in Anglophone Jewish fiction and situates them in historical context. Discusses the place of Anglophone Jewish fiction in relation to critical debates concerning transatlanticism and transnationalism, ethnicity and identity, politics, postcolonial studies, feminist studies, and Jewish Studies. With a preface by Mark Shechner, the volume contains 28 essays by contributors including Vicki Aarons (Trinity University, Texas), Debra Shostak (Wooster College, Ohio), Ira Nadel (University of British Columbia), Efraim Sicher (Ben-Gurion University), Phyllis Lassner (Northwestern University), Sue Vice (University of Sheffield), Lori Harrison Kahan (Boston College), Ruth Gilbert (University of Winchester), Beate Neumeier (University of Cologne), and Sandra Singer (University of Guelph). David Brauner is Professor of Contemporary Literature at The University of Reading. Axel Staer is Reader in Comparative Literature at the University of Kent, Canterbury.
