approach to design itself In Objects in Exile Robin Schuldenfrei reveals how the process of migration was crucial to the development of modernism charting how modern art and architecture was shaped by the need to constantly face and transcend the materiality of things Taking readers from the prewar era to the 1960s Schuldenfrei explores the objects these migrants brought with them what they left behind and the new works they completed in exile She argues that modernism could only coalesce with the abandonment of national borders in a process of emigration and resettlement and brings to life the vibrant postwar period when avant garde ideas came together and emerged as mainstream modernism Examining works by Walter Gropius László Moholy Nagy Lucia Moholy Herbert Bayer Anni and Josef Albers and others Schuldenfrei demonstrates the social impact of art objects produced in exile Shedding critical light on how the pressures of dislocation irrevocably altered the course of modernism Objects in Exile shows how artists and designers forced into exile by circumstances beyond their control changed in unexpected ways to meet the needs and contexts of an uncertain world

László Moholy-Nagy
Louis Kaplan, 1995-05-24 Marking the centenary of the birth of László Moholy Nagy 1895 1946 this book offers a new approach to the Bauhaus artist and theorist's multifaceted life and work an approach that redefines the very idea of biographical writing In László Moholy Nagy Louis Kaplan applies the Derridean deconstructivist model of the signature effect to an intellectual biography of a Constructivist artist Inhabiting the borderline between life and work the book demonstrates how the signature inscribed by Moholy operates in a double space interweaving signified object and signifying matter autobiography and auto graphy Through interpretative readings of over twenty key artistic and photographic works Kaplan graphically illustrates Moholy's signature effect in action He shows how this effect plays itself out in the complex of relations between artistic originality and plagiarism between authorial identity and anonymity as well as in the problematic status of the work of art in the age of technical reproduction In this way the book reveals how Moholy's artistic practice anticipates many of the issues of postmodernist debate and thus has particular relevance today Consequently Kaplan clarifies the relationship between avant garde Constructivism and contemporary deconstruction This new and innovative configuration of biography catalyzed by the life writing of Moholy Nagy will be of critical interest to artists and writers literary theorists and art historians

Beyond Art: A Third Culture Peter Weibel, 2005-05-17 A new theory of culture presented with a new method achieved by comparing closely the art and science in 20th century Austria and Hungary Major achievements that have influenced the world like psychoanalysis abstract art quantum physics Gestalt psychology formal languages vision theories and the game theory etc originated from these countries and influence the world still today as a result of exile nurtured in the US A source book with numerous photographs images and diagrams it opens up a nearly infinite horizon of knowledge that helps one to understand what is going on in today's worlds of art and science

Light as Experience and Imagination from Medieval to Modern Times David S. Herrstrom, 2022-11-21 In Light as Experience and Imagination from Medieval to Modern Times David S. Herrstrom synthesizes and interprets the experience of light as revealed in a wide range of art and literature from medieval to modern times The true subject of the book is making sense of the individual's relationship with light rather than the investigation of light's essential nature while telling the story of light seducing individuals from the Middle Ages to our modern times Consequently it is not concerned with the progress of scientific inquiries into the physical properties and behavior of light optical science but rather with subjective reactions as reflected in art architecture and literature Instead of its evolution this book celebrates the complexity of our relation to light's character No individual experience of light being truer than any other      Modernist Aesthetics in Transition Deborah Ascher

Barnstone, Donna West Brett, 2025-01-23 How did German aesthetic values change during the Weimar Republic and after its immediate collapse at the beginning of the National Socialist period Contrary to conventional narratives that depict modernist aesthetics as static shaping principles of modern art and design this volume argues for their complexity and ever shifting nature Illuminating the vital exchanges that occurred across multiple art forms during a period of unmatched cultural activity this multi disciplinary volume explores the cultural transition between Weimar and National Socialist era Germany and offers a fresh perspective on the fate of modernism during a time of censorship and social stigma Featuring essays on architecture painting photography film sculpture cabaret typography and commercial design the volume explores competing and comparable themes across German art from 1919 1945 and addresses how modern approaches like New Vision coexisted with more traditional and established artistic modes Such visual complexity is evident from the volume's eclectic coverage these include sexology and eroticism visual grammar in typography and architecture the reception of Weimar art in the National Socialist period and the formation and transformation of queer and Jewish identities The volume encompasses subjects as different as shadow in the animated films of Lotte Reininger filmic adaptations of Heinrich Zille's social commentary in the 1920s the photography of László Moholy Nagy and depictions of female sexuality in Magnus Hirschfeld's oeuvre By bridging multiple artistic fields this highly interdisciplinary work provides a fresh perspective on the ever changing art and aesthetic principles of early 20th century Germany      Art in Chicago Maggie Taft, Robert

Cozzolino, 2018-10-24 For decades now the story of art in America has been dominated by New York It gets the majority of attention the stories of its schools and movements and masterpieces the stuff of pop culture legend Chicago on the other hand well people here just get on with the work of making art Now that art is getting its due Art in Chicago is a magisterial account of the long history of Chicago art from the rupture of the Great Fire in 1871 to the present Manierre Dawson László Moholy Nagy and Ivan Albright to Chris Ware Anne Wilson and Theaster Gates The first single volume history of art and artists in Chicago the book in recognition of the complexity of the story it tells doesn't follow a single continuous trajectory Rather it presents an overlapping sequence of interrelated narratives that together tell a full and nuanced yet wholly accessible history of visual art in the city From the temptingly blank canvas left by the Fire we loop back to the 1830s and on up through the 1860s tracing the beginnings of the city's institutional and professional art world and community From there

we travel in chronological order through the decades to the present Familiar developments such as the founding of the Art Institute the Armory Show and the arrival of the Bauhaus are given a fresh look while less well known aspects of the story like the contributions of African American artists dating back to the 1860s or the long history of activist art finally get suitable recognition The six chapters each written by an expert in the period brilliantly mix narrative and image weaving in oral histories from artists and critics reflecting on their work in the city and setting new movements and key works in historical context The final chapter comprised of interviews and conversations with contemporary artists brings the story up to the present offering a look at the vibrant art being created in the city now and addressing ongoing debates about what it means to identify as or resist identifying as a Chicago artist today The result is an unprecedentedly inclusive and rich tapestry one that reveals Chicago art in all its variety and vigor and one that will surprise and enlighten even the most dedicated fan of the city's artistic heritage Part of the Terra Foundation for American Art's year long Art Design Chicago initiative which will bring major arts events to venues throughout Chicago in 2018 Art in Chicago is a landmark publication a book that will be the standard account of Chicago art for decades to come No art fan regardless of their city will want to miss it

Acrobatic Modernism from the Avant-Garde to Prehistory Jed Rasula, 2020-02-27 This is a book about artistic modernism contending with the historical transfigurations of modernity As a conscientious engagement with modernity's restructuring of the lifeworld the modernist avant garde raised the stakes of this engagement to programmatic explicitness But even beyond the vanguard the global phenomenon of jazz combined somatic assault with sensory tutelage Jazz like the new technologies of modernity recalibrated sensory ratios The criterion of the new as self making also extended to names pseudonyms and heteronyms The protocols of modernism solicited a pragmatic arousal of bodily sensation as artistic resource validating an acrobatic sensibility ranging from slapstick and laughter to the pathos of bereavement Expressivity trumped representation The artwork was a diagram of perception not a mimetic rendering For artists the historical pressures of altered perception provoked new models and Ezra Pound's slogan Make It New became the generic rallying cry of renovation The paradigmatic stance of the avant garde was established by Futurism but the discovery of prehistoric art added another provocation to artists Paleolithic caves validated the spirit of all over composition unframed and dynamic Geometric abstraction Constructivism and Purism and Surrealism were all in quest of a new mythology Making it new yielded a new pathos in the sensation of radical discrepancy between futurist striving and remotest antiquity The Paleolithic cave and the USSR emitted comparable siren calls on behalf of the remote past and the desired future As such the present was suffused with the pathos of being neither but subject to both

Architectures of Hiding Rana Abughannam, Émélie Desrochers-Turgeon, Pallavi Swaranjali, Federica Goffi, 2024-01-31 Architecture manifests as a space of concealment and unconcealment lethe and al theia enclosure and disclosure where its making and agency are both hidden and revealed With an urgency to amplify narratives that are overlooked silenced and unacknowledged in and by architectural spaces histories and theories this book contends the need for a critical study of hiding in the context of architectural processes It urges the understanding of inherent opportunities power structures and covert strategies whether socio cultural geo political environmental or economic as they are related to their hidescapes the constructed landscapes of our built environments participating in the architectures of hiding Looking at and beyond the intentions and agency that architects possess architectural spaces lend themselves as apparatuses for various forms of hiding and un hiding The examples explored in this book and the creative works presented in the interviews enclosed in the interludes of this publication cover a broad range of geographic and cultural contexts discursively disclosing hidden aspects of architectural meaning The book investigates the imaginative intrigue of concealing and revealing in design processes along with moral responsibilities and ethical dilemmas inherent in crafting concealment through the making and reception of architecture

Material Modernity Deborah Ascher Barnstone, Maria Makela, 2022-01-27 Material Modernity explores creative innovation in German art design and architecture during the Weimar Republic charting both the rise of new media and the re fashioning of old media Weimar became famous for the explosion of creative ingenuity across the arts in Germany due to experiments with new techniques including the move towards abstraction in painting and sculpture and inventive work in such new media as paper and plastic which utilized both new and old methods of art production Individual chapters in this book consider inventions such as the camera and materials like celluloid examine the role of new materials including concrete composites in opening up fresh avenues in the plastic arts and relate advances in the understanding of color perception and psychology to an increased interest in visual perception and the latent potential of color as both architectural ornament and carrier of emotional force in space While art historians usually argue that experimentation in the Weimar Republic was the result of an intentional rejection of traditional modes of expression in the conscious attempt to invent a modern art and architecture unshackled from historic media and methods this volume shows that the drivers for innovation were often far more complex and nuanced It first of all describes how the material shortages precipitated by the First World War along with the devastation to industrial infrastructure and disruption of historic trade routes affected art as did a spirit of experimentation that permeated interwar German culture It then analyzes new challenges in the 1920s to artistic conventions in traditional art modes like painting sculpture drawing architecture textiles and print making and simultaneously probes the likely causes of innovative new methods of artistic production that appeared such as photomontage assemblage mechanical art and multi media art In doing so Material Modernity fills a significant gap in Weimar scholarship and art history literature

Atomic Dwelling Robin Schuldenfrei, 2012-08-21 In the years of reconstruction and economic boom that followed the Second World War the domestic sphere encountered new expectations regarding social behaviour modes of living and forms of dwelling This book brings together an international group of scholars from architecture design urban planning and interior design to reappraise mid twentieth century modern life offering a timely reassessment of culture and the economic and political effects on civilian life This collection contains essays that examine the material of art objects and spaces in the context of practices of dwelling over the long span of the postwar period It asks what role material objects interior spaces and architecture played in quelling or fanning the anxieties of modernism s ordinary denizens and how this role informs their legacy today Art as Organism Charissa N.

Terranova,2015-10-10 What if modernism had been characterised by evolving interconnected and multi sensory images rather than by the monolithic objects often described by its artists and theorists In this groundbreaking book Charissa Terranova unearths a forgotten narrative of modernism which charts the influence that biology General Systems Theory and cybernetics had on art in the twentieth century From kinetic and interactive art to early computer art and installations spanning an entire city she shows that the digital image was a rich and expansive artistic medium of modernism The
