Reclaiming the Future Jane Kelsey,2015-12-21 Jane Kelsey s exploration of the effects of globalisation on the New Zealand economy was eye opening when published in 1999 She offered a trenchantly expressed response to the neoliberal slogan of the time There is no alternative Kelsey s analysis remains a critical yardstick for current policies and an alternative perspective on the development of global relationships The recent global financial meltdown and subsequent recession give new relevance to her questions about globalisation s consequences for sovereignty and democracy Kelsey continues to offer a bold voice of challenge and critique pointing the way for open eyed engagement with the economic realities of the future

New Zealand Patrick Massey,1995-04-03 Before 1984 New Zealand was insulated by high levels of protectionism and with a degree of State intervention and regulation unparalleled elsewhere in the western world Since then New Zealand has experienced one of the most far reaching economic reform programmes of any developed economy The book describes and analyses the radical economic reform programme undertaken in New Zealand since 1985 These reforms included deregulation of the financial sector removal of various forms of assistance to producers particularly in the agricultural sector increased import liberalisation radical tax reform a major overhaul of the public sector and the privatisation of state enterprises The book seeks to explain why a Labour Government embarked upon the sort of reform programme normally considered the preserve of right wing administrations elsewhere It argues that New Zealand s experience provides important lessons for policy makers elsewhere

French Welfare State Reform James Angresano,2011-01-01 This book explores an important emergent issue what types of reforms are required to enable welfare states to preserve sustainability For the purpose of this study a sustainable welfare state is one that can remain the guarantor against social risks and adverse economic trends for all segments of their respective societies and satisfy sound fiscal criteria such as the Maastricht requirement for all members of the EMU that their fiscal budget deficit does not exceed 3% of the GDP without imposing considerable financial burdens on future generations
