North Carolina has a rich and diverse history In 1901 the American Missionary Association hired a young woman Charlotte Hawkins Brown to teach at a small school in eastern Guilford County The school closed in 1902 and at the request of the local residents Brown remained and opened the Alice Freeman Palmer Memorial Institute which in later years became a world renowned African American preparatory school that educated children from the wealthiest families in the United States and six foreign nations Sedalia and the Palmer Memorial Institute traces the growth and development of a rural Southern community that made an impact on the nation Charlotte Hawkins Brown & Palmer Memorial Institute

Charles Weldon Wadlington,Richard F. Knapp,1999 She stayed for over half a century When the failing school was closed at the end of her first year Brown remained to carry on With virtually no resources save her own energy and determination she founded Palmer Memorial Institute a private secondary school for African Americans In the fifty years during which she led the school Brown built Palmer up to become one of the premier academies for African American children in the nation Of the hundreds of African American schools operating in North Carolina around 1900 only Palmer gained national renown outlasting virtually every other such school BOOK JACKET Scenes from the Palmer Memorial Institute (Incorporated) for the Training of Colored Young Men and Women of the Rural Districts of North Carolina Palmer Memorial Institute (Sedalia, N.C.),1919

A Forgotten Sisterhood Audrey Thomas McCluskey,2014-10-30 Emerging from the darkness of the slave era and Reconstruction black activist women Lucy Craft Laney Mary McLeod Bethune Charlotte Hawkins Brown and Nannie Helen Burroughs founded schools aimed at liberating African American youth from disadvantaged futures in the segregated and decidedly unequal South From the late nineteenth through mid twentieth centuries these individuals fought discrimination as members of a larger movement of black women who uplifted future generations through a focus on education social service and cultural transformation Born free but with the shadow of the slave past still implanted in their consciousness Laney Bethune Brown and Burroughs built off each other s successes and learned from each other s struggles as administrators lecturers and suffragists Drawing from the women s own letters and writings about educational methods and from remembrances of surviving students Audrey Thomas McCluskey reveals the pivotal significance of this sisterhood s legacy for later generations and for the institution of education itself Who's who in Colored America ,1927

Scott, Daryl R. Ireland, Grace Y. May, Casely B. Essamuah, 2021-07-08 Can something as simple as friendship have a transformative impact in a divided world Through a series of richly textured historical portraits and reflections on personal experience this book shows that boundary crossing friendships in Christian mission have shaped theologies built organizations and partnerships facilitated mission work and changed attitudes and ways of thinking This is true in settings as varied as eighteenth century French women's work twentieth century urban Boston colonial India the Jim Crow South and twentieth century rural Congo In all these settings and more friendship has mattered Boundary crossing friendships are however not easy Despite their power such friendships are complicated by race gender ability class nationality and other elements of identity as this book also demonstrates Friendships are not immune from the divisions in the world nor a simple cure all for them Still friendship stands as a powerful testimony to the gospel Therefore the book calls for more attention to friendship in the study of mission history and more living out of friendship as a practice of mission In this way this book pays honor to Dr Dana L Robert as a pre eminent mission scholar and exemplary friend and mentor to others in the fields of missiology and world Christianity Congressional Record United States. Black Women of the Harlem Renaissance Era Lean'tin L. Bracks,Jessie Carney Smith,2014-10-16 The Harlem Renaissance is considered one of the most significant periods of creative and intellectual expression for African Americans. Beginning as early as 1914 and lasting into the 1940s, this era saw individuals reject the stereotypes of African Americans and confront the racist social, political, and economic ideas that denied them citizenship and access to the American Dream. While the majority of recognized literary and artistic contributors to this period were black males, African American women were also key contributors. Black Women of the Harlem Renaissance Era profiles the most important figures of this cultural and intellectual movement, highlighting the accomplishments of black women who sought to create positive change after the end of WWI. This reference work includes representatives not only from the literary scene but also Activists, Actresses, Artists, Educators, Entrepreneurs, Musicians, Political leaders, and Scholars. By acknowledging the women who played vital if not always recognized roles in this movement, this book shows how their participation helped set the stage for the continued transformation of the black community well into the 1960s. To fully realize the breadth of these contributions, editors Leontine L. Bracks and Jessie Carney Smith have assembled profiles written by a number of accomplished academics and historians from across the country. As such, Black Women of the Harlem Renaissance Era will be of interest to scholars of women's studies, African American studies, and cultural history, as well as students and anyone wishing to learn more about the women of this important era.
