A Morphological Interpretation of a Northern Chinese Traditional Village Kun Li, 2024-04-23 This book challenges the definition of a new approach for integrating protection and enhancing the Chinese heritage category of Traditional Villages By applying a specific case study in the Hancheng context Shaanxi Province which lacks sound studies the book formulates new theoretical prerequisites for future researches an in depth knowledge path and sound methodological principles By working in a multiple scales approach the object of preservation and enhancement is first of all redefined in its ontology as a unity formed by the courtyard type the morphology of the village and the related landscape structures All these three levels of study have been deeply investigated put into the relationship and resulting in a new methodology which overcomes the inadequacy and ineffectiveness of the notion of setting deriving from conservation Charters to embrace the structural notion of context and a knowledge approach to rural settlements form The innovative and original features of this book are both in the reading villages in their landscape dimension which in turn is studied as a context made of several interrelated structures Another original feature of the book is the integration of Italian historic structural and morphological methodologies with specific Chinese cultural aspects. The author's work dug deeply and interdisciplinary in all those dimensions to account for the complex issues that are related and embodied in both the physical and intangible meaning of human settlements opening a novel scientific methodology for Chinese studies as a sound base to define three key integrated project actions: what, why, how to preserve, enhance, develop.

Origins of Ancient Chinese Civilization Xueqin Li, 2024-07-24. This book presents detailed research regarding the Xia, Shang, and Zhou dynasties including studies of inscriptions on bones or tortoise shells, bronzeware, bamboo scripts, and silk manuscripts in order to demonstrate the main features of various historical periods during the establishment and development of ancient Chinese civilization based on an a view of ancient Chinese civilization studies as a whole. The book consists of three sections with a total of 38 essays. The first section provides a macro level overview of the formation and development history of ancient Chinese civilization, the second section covering general topics examines the specific characteristics of early Chinese civilization from Emperors Yan and Huang to the Eastern Zhou Dynasty. Lastly, the appendix features 7 articles including a short biography of the author.

Grids of Chinese Ancient Cities Yibo Xu, 2019-11-29. The book is the first to define the meaning and components of the grid and apply it in Chinese planning history. It provides a fresh methodology pushing the boundary of planning by this new practical tool for planners and governors and new perspective for the architecture and city planning faculties. From graphs to rules, from facts to in-depth analysis, this book focuses on the tool of urban planning, the grid, with thoughtful organization of knowledge from Chinese history, architecture, and city planning discipline, providing knowledge along with politics, military, customs, mysterious Fengshui theories, and astrology beliefs. Moreover, the book proved the link between grids and social aims, discussing each kind of aim by thoughtful organization of data collected from 301 prefecture cities, unfolding the powers propelling the city formation and shedding light on what shaped our cities today.

The Origins and Character of the Ancient Chinese City, Volume 1 Paul Wheatley. These two volumes elucidate the manner in which there emerged on the North China plain hierarchically structured, functionally specialized social institutions organized on a political and territorial basis during the second millennium B.C. They describe the way in which during subsequent centuries these institutes were diffused through much of the rest of North and Central China. Author Paul Wheatley equates the emergence of the ceremonial center as evidenced in Shang China with a functional and developmental stage in urban genesis and substantiates his argument with comparative evidence from the Americas, Mesopotamia, Egypt, Southeast Asia, the Mediterranean, and the Yoruba territories. The Origins and Character of the Ancient Chinese City seeks in small measure to help redress the current imbalance between our knowledge of the contemporary Western style city on the one hand and of the urbanism characteristic of the traditional world on the other. Those aspects of urban theory which have been derived predominantly from the investigation of Western urbanism are tested against rather than applied to ancient China The Origins and Character of the Ancient Chinese City examines the cosmological symbolism of the Chinese city constructed as a world unto itself It suggests with a wealth of argument and evidence that this cosmo magical role underpinned the functional unity of the city everywhere until new bases for urban life began to develop in the Hellenistic world Whereas the majority of previous investigations into the nature of the Chinese city have been undertaken from the standpoint of elites The Origins and Character of the Ancient Chinese City has adopted a point of view closer to that of the social scientist than the geographer Paul Wheatley was professor and chairman of the Committee on Social Thought at the University of Chicago He was most famous for his work dealing with comparative urban civilization Some of his books include The Places Where Men Pray Together Cities in Islamic Lands 7th to 10th Centuries Nagara and Commandery Origins of the Southeast Asian Urban Traditions and The Management of Success The Moulding of Modern Singapore with K S Sandhu
