Biblical Translation in Chinese and Greek Toshikazu S. Foley, 2009 This study integrates three independent subjects translation theory Mandarin aspect and Greek aspect for the purpose of formulating a working theory applicable to translating the Bible The primary objectives are defined in terms of grammatical translation of Greek aspect into Mandarin aspect at the discourse level A historical overview of the Chinese Bible is provided as a way of introducing major translation issues related to linguistic conceptual and logistical challenges The proposed theory provides the translator with a powerful tool which is tested in two sample passages from John 18:19 and 1 Corinthians 15 Provided also are critical reviews of over sixty Chinese Bible versions Nestorian Manichaean Catholic documents and a translation written according to the proposed theory Cognitive Approaches to English Mario Brdar, Marija Omazić, Višnja Pavičić Takač, 2009-12-14 The present volume contains a selection of papers presented at the conference Cognitive Approaches to English an international event organized to mark the 30th anniversary of English studies at the Faculty of Philosophy Josip Juraj Strossmayer University Osijek which was held in Osijek on October 18-19, 2007 The participants were invited to discuss issues in cognitive accounts of English ranging from fundamental to methodological to interdisciplinary and applied The volume is accordingly divided into four parts Part I Motivation in grammar deals with various phenomena in the grammar of English in the broadest sense of the term all of which are shown to be motivated by metaphorical and/or metonymic operations Part II Constructing meaning between grammar and lexicon contains five chapters dealing with phenomena ranging from various peculiarities of form meaning pairings such as synonymy polysemy and figurative meanings to concept formation The four chapters that make up Part III are concerned with the phenomenon of interlinguistic and intercultural variation in the use of metaphorical and metonymic processes The volume is concluded by Part IV the three papers of which attempt to reconsider some TEFL issues from a cognitive linguistic point of view The Grammar of Chinese Characters James Myers, 2019-04-16 Anybody who reads or writes Chinese characters knows that they obey a grammar of sorts though numerous they are built out of a much smaller set of constituents often interpretable in meaning or pronunciation that are themselves built out of an even smaller set of strokes This book goes far beyond these basic facts to show that Chinese characters truly have a productive and psychologically real lexical grammar of the same sort seen in spoken and signed languages with non-trivial analogs of morphology the combination of potentially interpretable constituents phonology formal regularities without implications for interpretation and phonetics articulatory and perceptual constraints Evidence comes from a wide variety of sources from quantitative corpus analyses to experiments on character reading writing and learning The grammatical approach helps capture how character constituents combine as they do how strokes systematically vary in different environments how character form evolved from ancient times to the modern simplified system and how readers and writers are able to process or learn even entirely novel characters This book not only provides tools for exploring the full richness of Chinese orthography but also offers new ways of thinking about the most fundamental question in linguistic theory what is grammar

Introducing Corpus-based Translation Studies Kaibao Hu, 2015-10-31 The book addresses different areas of corpus based translation studies including corpus based study of translation features translator s style norms of translation translation practice translator training and interpreting It begins by tracing the development of corpus based translation studies and introducing the compilation of different types of corpora for translation research The use of corpora in different research areas is then discussed in detail and the implications and limitations of corpus based translation studies are addressed Featuring the use of figures tables illustrations and case studies as well as discussion of methodological issues the book offers a practical guide to corpus based translation It will be of interest to postgraduate students and professionals who are interested in translation studies interpreting studies or computer aided translation
