Asia Looks Seaward Toshi Yoshihara,James R. Holmes,2007-11-30 Asia is headed toward an uncertain and potentially volatile future in the maritime arena The two rising Asian powers China and India dependent as they are on seaborne commerce for their economic well being have clearly set their eyes on the high seas Yoshihara and Holmes offer a stark warning that many strategists in Beijing and New Delhi appear spellbound by the more militant visions of sea power Indeed both powers appear poised to develop the capacity to control the sea lanes through which the bulk of their commerce flows If they enter the nautical environment with such a martial mindset Asia could very well fall victim to regional rivalries that give rise to a vicious cycle of competition Yoshihara and Holmes provide the first examination of the simultaneous rise of two naval powers and the potential impact that such an oceanic reconfiguration of power in Asia could have on long term regional stability Their study analyzes the maritime interests and strategies of the littoral states in Asia as they prepare for the expected reordering of nautical affairs This long overdue assessment revisits underlying assumptions that have prevailed among strategy makers and provides a concrete policy framework for reducing the risk of confrontation in Asian waters

Save Our Souls: Rescues Made by U.S. Submarines During World War II Douglas E. Campbell, 2016-04-02 At last count nearly 2 400 people can claim that their lives were saved by a U S submarine during World War II Of that number 523 Allied aviators could claim that distinction after crashing their aircraft into the sea and being saved by a submarine operating in the Lifeguard League The remaining number were a collection of other military and civilian personnel each with a story to tell and now able to tell their grand children Some of those rescued went on to retire as senior military officers including U S Navy Admirals some back to missionary work some to manage large companies in later years some to philanthropic endeavors to pay everyone back for saving their lives Appendix A is an intensely researched index of nearly 2 200 names of those saved Investigation of the Sinking of the Submarine "S-4", United States. Stalking the Red Bear Peter Sasgen, 2009-03-17 Thrilling submarine espionage and an inside look at the U S Navy s silent service Stalking the Red Bear for the first time ever describes the action principally from the perspective of a commanding officer of a nuclear submarine during the Cold War the one man aboard a sub who makes the critical decisions taking readers closer to the Soviet target than any work on submarine espionage has ever done before This is the untold story of a covert submarine espionage operation against the Soviet Union during the Cold War as experienced by the Commanding Officer of an active submarine Few individuals outside the intelligence and submarine communities knew anything about these top secret missions Cloaking itself in virtual invisibility to avoid detection the USS Blackfin went sub vs sub deep within Soviet controlled waters north of the Arctic Circle where the risks were extraordinarily high and anything could happen Readers will know what it was like to carry out a covert mission aboard a nuke and experience the sights sounds and dangers unique to submarining
