successful novelist and uses his father's notes, journal entries and correspondence to continue the process of seeking out how and why many of these never before seen manuscripts were written as well as speculating about the ways they might have ended. These selections include the beginnings of a post apocalyptic science fiction tale, a proposal for a nonfiction project based on the life of Renaissance era traveler Ibn Batuta and two chapters of a historical novel set in India about the origin of L'Amour's well known Talon family. At the other end of the spectrum are classic adventures such as In the Measure of Time, a chance encounter set on the high seas and a science fiction film treatment set in Mexico as well as seventeen chapters of a novel that reappears throughout Louis's journals and letters and speaks to his fascination with post revolutionary 1950s China leading him so far as to correspond with the Dalai Lama. With rare photographs and commentary, this book further maps the journey L'Amour embarked upon to become one of our greatest storytellers and the diverse realms to which his imagination traveled, making him a true American pioneer.
