Yugoslav-Americans and National Security During World War II Lorraine M. Lees, 2007 The first intensive study of FDR's foreign nationalities policy Lorraine M Lees explores the persistent tension between ethnicity and national security by focusing on the Yugoslav American community during World War II Identified by the Roosevelt administration as the most representative example of the ethnic conflict they sought to address the Yugoslav American community suffered from a severe political split as right wing monarchists loyal to Mihajlović and the Chetniks battled left wing supporters of Tito's partisans Lees examines the views of two groups of administration policy makers one that perceived America's European ethnic groups as rife with divided loyalties and hence a danger to national security and a second that viewed such communities as valuable sources for political intelligence that would help the war effort in Europe Yugoslav Americans and National Security during World War II is significant not only to understanding the Roosevelt administration's equation of ethnicity with disloyalty but also for its insights into similar attitudes that have arisen throughout periods of crisis in American history as well as today      Witnesses to the Struggle Anne Loftis, 2014-05-16 A study of the artistic and literary responses to the Depression era labor crises of the Golden State Anne Loftis focuses on the work and activities of John Steinbeck Carey McWilliams Paul Taylor and Dorothea Lange who brought the story of California's labor struggles to the rest of the country The realism and documentary expression of their art grew out of their personal involvement in the problems of society and Loftis explores the lasting influence of their work One of Steinbeck's unintended legacies was his treatment of California farm workers as victims the simple pawns of larger forces In her balanced and intriguing study Loftis reveals that the workers were not victims but rather the strong and resourceful creators of their own histories      Death to Fascism John P.
