Exile and Expatriation in Modern American and Palestinian Writing Ahmad Rasmi Qabaha,2018-05-23 This book examines the distinction between literary expatriation and exile through a contrapuntal reading of modern Palestinian and American writing It argues that exile in the Palestinian case especially is a political catastrophe it is banishment by a colonial power It suggests that unlike expatriation a choice of a foreign land over one's own exile is a political rather than an artistic concept and is forced rather than voluntary while exile can be emancipatory it is always an unwelcome loss In addition to its historical dimension exile also entails a different perception of return to expatriation This book frames expatriates as quintessentially American particularly intellectuals and artists seeking a space of creativity and social dissidence in the experience of living away from home At the heart of both literary discourses however is a preoccupation with home belonging identity language mobility and homecoming
