The Hindu Family and the Emergence of Modern India Eleanor Newbigin, 2013-09-19 Between 1955 and 1956 the Government of India passed four Hindu Law Acts to reform and codify Hindu family law Scholars have understood these acts as a response to growing concern about women's rights but in a powerful re-reading of their history this book traces the origins of the Hindu law reform project to changes in the political economy of late colonial rule The Hindu Family and the Emergence of Modern India considers how questions regarding family structure property rights and gender relations contributed to the development of representative politics and how in solving these questions India's secular and state power structures were consequently drawn into a complex and unique relationship with Hindu law In this comprehensive and illuminating resource for scholars and students Newbigin demonstrates the significance of gender and economy to the history of twentieth century democratic government as it emerged in India and beyond

Asian Highlands Perspectives 9 Rin-chen-rdo-rje, I was born in a pastoral family in the autumn of 1986 in Ronggrima Village Hongyuan County Ngawa Tibetan and Qiang Autonomous Prefecture Sichuan Province PR China When I was a child my family lived in a four column wood house made using four poles placed in a rectangular configuration in the center of the home Four shorter poles were behind the central columns Four pillar wood houses had flat roofs with several compartments and had a skylight in the center that allowed light into the home and allowed smoke from the hearth to escape We lived in our wood house from November to April As flowers began to bud and calves were born we took out our black yak hair tent and pitched it which announced that we would soon start moving to our camp on the open grassland where we would stay through spring summer and autumn

Q & A Queer And Asian David L. Eng,Alice Y. Hom,1998-08-24 What does it mean to be queer and Asian American at the turn of the century The writers activists essayists and artists who contribute to this volume consider how Asian American racial identity and queer sexuality interconnect in mutually shaping and complicating ways Their collective aim in the words of the editors is to articulate a new conception of Asian American racial identity its heterogeneity hybridity and multiplicity concepts that after all underpinned the Asian American moniker from its very inception Q A approaches matters of identity from a variety of points of view and academic disciplines in order to explore the multiple crossings of race and ethnicity with sexuality and gender Drawing together the work of visual artists fiction writers community organizers scholars and participants in roundtable discussions the collection gathers an array of voices and experiences that represent the emerging communities of a queer Asian America Collectively these contributors contend that Asian American studies needs to be more attentive to issues of sexuality and that queer studies needs to be more attentive to other aspects of difference especially race and ethnicity Vigorously rejecting the notion that a symmetrical relationship between race and homosexuality would weaken lesbian gay and queer movements the editors refuse to believe that a desirably queer world is one in which we remain perpetual aliens queer houseguests in a queer nation

Asian Translation Traditions Eva Tsoi Hung Hung,Judy Wakabayashi,2014-07-16 Translation Studies one of the fastest developing fields in the humanities since the early 1980s has so far been Euro centric both in its theoretical explorations and in its historical grounding One of the major reasons for this is the unavailability of reliable data and systematic analysis of translation activities in non European cultures While a number of scholars in the Western tradition of translation studies have become increasingly aware of this bias and its problems practically indicates that the burden of addressing such deficiencies and imbalances should be on the shoulders of scholars who are conversant with the non Western translation traditions and capable of engaging in much needed basic research This book brings together eleven scholars with expertise in different Asian translation traditions who highlight language and cultural environments as well as perceptions and modes of operation often different from those in the Western tradition Their contributions enhance our understanding of the various elements that influence the transfer of knowledge across cultures and provide invaluable data for the study of translation as a force for cultural development and cultural planning Contributors include Eva Hung Judy Wakabayashi Lawrence Wong Yoshihiro Osawa Teresa Hyun Keith Taylor Rita Kothari Doris Jedamski Raniela Barbaza and Bill Cummings
