"Love of Shopping" is Not a Gene Anne Innis Dagg, 2005      "Love of Shopping" is Not a Gene Anne Innis

Dagg, 2005 Based on Darwin's theory of evolution and natural selection Evolutionary Psychology claims that it's all in our genes At the beginning of the 21st century genes are used to explain almost every aspect of human life from social inequalities to health sexuality and criminality This book is a critique of Darwinian psychology alias evolutionary psychology alias sociobiology the study of the social behavior of animals and people based on evolution In this provocative work Innis Dagg an eminent and outspoken critic of this ideology first presents an overview of the theory and its popularity both among professionals and lay people then she examines concepts of social behavior based on genes vs culture including aggression in the form of rape infanticide homicide gang violence and war and general criminality homosexuality in both the human and the animal world and race IQ and environment Focusing on the problems present in much Darwinian psychological research flawed data faulty analysis and political motives this controversial book offers the first comprehensible critique of the most popular scientific theory of the late 20th century Evolutionary Psychology In the end Innis Dagg presents a new perspective which acknowledges the complexity of life by placing at its center the living organism in its environment rather than the gene

Empress Maryanne L. Fisher, Justin R. Garcia, Rosemarie Sokol Chang, 2013-01-30 Over the last decade there has been increasing debate as to whether feminism and evolutionary psychology can co exist Such debates often conclude with a resounding no often on the grounds that the former is a political movement while the latter is a field of scientific inquiry In the midst of these debates there has been growing dissatisfaction within the field of evolutionary psychology about the way the discipline and others have repeatedly shown women to be in passive roles when it comes to survival and reproduction Evolutionary behavioral research has made significant strides in the past few decades but continues to take for granted many theoretical assumptions that are perhaps in light of the most recent evidence misguided As a result the research community has missed important areas of research and in some cases will likely come to inaccurate conclusions based on existing dogma rather than rigorous theoretically driven research Bias in the field of evolutionary psychology echoes the complaints against the political movement attached to academic feminisms This is an intellectual squabble where much is at stake including a fundamental understanding of the evolutionary significance of women's roles in culture mothering reproductive health and physiology mating female alliances female aggression and female intrasexual competition Evolution's Empress identifies women as active agents within the evolutionary process The chapters in this volume focus on topics as diverse as female social interactions mate competition and mating strategies motherhood women's health sex differences in communication and motivation sex discrimination and women in literature The volume editors bring together a diverse range of perspectives to demonstrate ways in which evolutionary approaches to human behavior have thus far been too limited By reconsidering the role of women in evolution this volume furthers the goal of generating dialogue between the realms of women's studies and evolutionary psychology

A Critical History and Philosophy of Psychology Richard T. G. Walsh, Thomas Teo, Angelina Baydala, 2014-03-20 In line with the British Psychological Society's recent recommendations for teaching the history of psychology this comprehensive undergraduate textbook emphasizes the philosophical cultural and social elements that influenced psychology's development The authors demonstrate that psychology is both a human i.e psychoanalytic or phenomenological and natural i.e cognitive science exploring broad social historical and philosophical themes such as the role of diverse cultures and women in psychology and the complex relationship between objectivity and subjectivity in the development of psychological knowledge The result is a fresh and balanced perspective on what has traditionally been viewed as the collected achievements of a few great men With a variety of learning features including case studies study questions thought experiments and a glossary this new textbook encourages students to critically engage with chapter material and analyze themes and topics within a social historical and philosophical framework

The Psychology of Criminal Conduct James Bonta, D. A. Andrews, 2016-11-10 The Psychology of Criminal Conduct Sixth Edition provides a psychological and evidence informed perspective of criminal behavior that sets it apart from many criminological and mental health explanations of criminal behavior Drawing upon the General Personality and Cognitive Social Learning theory James Bonta and Donald Andrews provide an overview of the theoretical context and major knowledge base of the psychology of criminal conduct discuss the eight major risk need factors of criminal conduct examine the prediction and classification of criminal behavior along with prevention and rehabilitation and summarize the major issues in understanding criminal conduct This book also offers the Risk Need Responsivity RNR model of offender assessment and treatment that has guided developments in the subject throughout the world In this edition the first since Andrews' death Bonta carefully maintains the book's original contributions while presenting these core concepts succinctly clearly and elegantly Appropriate for advanced undergraduates and graduate students as well as for scholars researchers and practitioners The Psychology of Criminal Conduct Sixth Edition further extends and refines the authors' body of work
