Major Australian Races And Racehorses 1960-1980:

Major Australian Races and Racehorses 1960-1980 Peter Pring, 1980 Melbourne Cup 1930 Geoff Armstrong, Peter Thompson, 19?? Phar Lap's assault on the Melbourne Cup generated unprecedented excitement across the country. At the same time it filled many bookmakers with dread a victory for the favourite would cost them plenty. He'd have to be stopped whatever the cost. For the newspapers the twin stories of sporting greatness and seedy corruption were a sensational cocktail. Readers lapped it up while for the poor punters suffering during the Great Depression a Phar Lap triumph was their best hope of turning one quid into two. Melbourne Cup 1930 is the story of four days in November that became at the same time the most famous and infamous in Cup history. It began with a gunman like something out of a Chicago gangster movie apparently trying to kill Phar Lap on a quiet suburban street. With his life in danger and those closest to him terrified the champion was spirited away to a secret location while one of the city's most celebrated detectives searched for the culprits. Meanwhile the other horses owners trainers and jockeys were preparing for the biggest race of their lives. Their many diverse stories and the memories they invoke of Cups gone by are an integral part of this unique tale. An hour before the jump Phar Lap's whereabouts remained a mystery. Finally he arrived at Flemington to go almost immediately to the start as a huge crowd cheered him on. The police had been told to put men down the back of the track in case the gunman tried one last time but they now believed that the original assassination attempt might not have been all that it seemed. Nothing it appears could stop Phar Lap now. Peter Pring's Great Moments in Australian Racing Peter Pring, 1978 The History of Australian Thoroughbred Racing Andrew Lemon, 2008. The History of Australian Thoroughbred Racing Volume Three is as much a history of Australia as a history of Australian thoroughbred horse racing. This book covers the social and political history of racing throughout Australia in the period 1939 to 2007 from war to equine influenza, totes and SP bookies to TAB corporations, champion horses, jockeys and trainers, scandals and glories, outback scrubbers to Bernborough, Tulloch and Makybe Diva and literally a cast of thousands. Uniquely giving emphasis to the story in the smaller states as well as the larger and richer ones, the book also examines the turbulent recent history of the sport or industry in an attempt to demystify the jargon of privatization, rationalization and internationalization. Standing alone as a history of modern racing it is also a sequel to Andrew Lemon's previous two volumes on the beginnings and the golden age of Australian racing and is the long awaited conclusion to the trilogy. Like volumes one and two that have been updated and reissued, Volume Three is structured around Harold Freedman's History of Racing mural at Flemington, a sequence of seven enormous paintings based on the original research which is the foundation of this book. Scenes from the mural's final two panels are beautifully reproduced throughout this volume, supplemented by dozens of photographs and the works of other artists. The mural twenty years after its completion perhaps only now is beginning to be recognized as a master work. In its own intricate detail it conveys something of the richness and complexity of the sport and the beauty of Australian horse racing in its first two hundred years Book and mural were conceived together and now the saga reaches its conclusion Race Across the Great Divide Darryl Flack, Don Cox, 2017-04-08 The 1970s was the high water mark for motorcycling in Australia The Japanese motorcycle boom rippled around the nation attracting a new wave of enthusiasts to the sport Women rode step thrus thousands of kids were zipping around on minibikes and suburban bushlands were filled with burbling trailbikes Wheel standing Japanese superbikes were menacing the streets and race grids were bursting with a sea of new riders eager to try their hand on the race circuits of Australia Blessed with a great climate Australia was the only country in the world to stage racing all year round But instead of top racers emerging from the big cities the new wave of Aussie talent would come from the bush Wollongong s Wayne Gardner was Australia s first world 500cc champion His firebrand spirit was forged as a young teenager racing his mates on minibikes in the creek beds of Balgownie Ten years later Gardner would make his world 500cc GP debut and four years after that he would win the fabled world title The book explores why Australia became the world epicentre of motorcycling for a moment in history and details how the major races of the 70s were won and lost It also uncovers the fascinating story behind the birth of the world s first Superbike series that went global This book is tribute to the 1970s and how it shaped motorcycle racing in Australia and the world Enjoy the ride The Cup Eric O'Keefe, 2011 The Melbourne Cup is a race built on endeavour endurance and emotion but few Cups have been influenced by the events that surrounded Media Puzzle s win in 2002 with jockey Damien Oliver on his back THE CUP is a combination of wonderful stories the tragedy that has hit generations of Oliver s family the love of an Irishman for a race on the other side of the world and the burning but fruitless quest of an oil rich sheikh to win Australia s greatest race All overwhelmed by the genius of a jockey and his capacity to win for his brother THE CUP is now a major motion picture directed by Simon Wincer and featuring popular Australian actor comedian Stephen Curry as Damien Oliver The movie is due for release on October 13 2011 Albert Edmund Cockram King of the Racecourse Robyn McSweeney, 2015-10-15 This is the amazing story of my great grandfather Albert Edmund Cockram who was in his time was the largest importer of Thoroughbred Racehorses into Australia from Europe and New Zealand The best blood lines that money could buy were purchased In one year alone he bought in 150 horses from overseas by ship in the early part of the century He built and owned Belmont and Goodwood Racecourses in Perth His racing colours of Purple and Orange were renowned all over the Commonwealth His horses won major races throughout Australia five Perth Cups Epsom s three Sydney Cups three Hannan s Cups Waverley Railway Stakes Villiers to name but a few He was an inaugural member of Trotting in this State a life member of W A T A a life member of W A T C President of the Merino Breeders Association Vice President of the Royal Agricultural Society He was owner and director of Griffin Coal and an entrepreneur in mining racing and agriculture He funded the first expedition which explored the North West coastline from Broome to Derby and recognised the huge potential for agriculture and mineral wealth The Cockram and Stuart Expedition took a cinematographer with them to record the first pictures taken of that region They then went to London trying to get investors to open up the North West This book not only covers his life story and achievements but connects the first five families of mine that came to Western Australia from 1833 Peter Pan Jessica Owers,2011-10-26

A wonderful forgotten racing story set in The Great Depression In 1932 they said there would never be another Phar Lap Yet within months there came a racehorse so wildly brilliant that he was instantly compared to the dead champion He was Peter Pan Within months of Phar Lap s death Peter Pan had won the Melbourne Cup and then two years later won it again the first horse in 72 years to take home a second The newspapers of the day called him a superhorse and declared another Phar Lap takes the stage But over the long years Australia forgot their new champion Peter Pan The Forgotten Story of Phar Lap s Successor is the tale of the horse that came next the brilliant speedy Peter Pan Casting off the shadow of Phar Lap this tells the story of triumph during the Great Depression and the coming of a champion when Australia least expected one It is time to restore the standing of our other great racing hero Shannon Jessica Owers,2013-11-27

Before Black Caviar So You Think or Takeover Target There Was Shannon Wartime Sydney a small and weedy racehorse was kicking his way through the top tier of Australian racing He was Shannon one of the fastest horses the nation had ever seen Between 1943 and 1947 Shannon broke record after record with his garrulous jockey Darby Munro When they sensationally lost the Epsom Handicap by six inches they forever were stamped by the race they should have won Sold in August 1947 for the highest price ever paid at auction for an Australian thoroughbred Shannon ended up in America Through headline snatching pedigree flaws acclimatization and countless hardships he blitzed across the ritzy glitzy racetracks of 1948 California Smashing track records world records records set by Seabiscuit the Australian bolted into world fame with speed and courage that defied all odds Long before Black Caviar or So You Think and Takeover Target Shannon was Australia s first international racehorse Starring Hall of Fame trainers and jockeys Hollywood lawyers and legends Bernborough and Citation this is his tremendous story Winx: the Authorised Biography Andrew Rule,2020-07

In Winx The full story of the world s best racehorse Andrew Rule takes us behind the scenes into the incredible story of The Queen of racing Now with bonus material detailing the thrilling final chapters of her career Immortals of Australian Horse Racing Alan Whiticker,2021-09-15

Track enthusiasts endlessly debate the question of who are the best racehorses across different eras Sydney's Pony Racecourses Wayne Peake,2006

Contrary to the name of the sport which may evoke memories of children riding Shetland ponies at agricultural shows most pony races were contested by fully grown thoroughbreds Many writers have perpetuated myths about pony racing depicting the sport as a rough and ready corrupt form of weekday racing featuring midget horses on miniature racecourses run during the Great Depression It has been suggested that pony racing appealed to desperate the needy and greedy elements of the working class only SYDNEY S PONY RACECOURSES demonstrates that such assertions are without basis The sport was one of the country s biggest industries with the prize money for its cup races matching the Cox Plate Some of its Sydney racecourses were rated second only to Randwick and that for a time it was more popular on

Saturdays than Australian Jockey Club racing The four pony racecourses between the city and Botany Bay were an integral part of Sydney life during the first half of the 20th century Existing histories of horse racing fail to acknowledge the contemporary importance and popularity of pony racing This alternative history of horseracing enables pony racing to claim its fair share in the past

Rough Habit Ken Linnett, 2020-05 Rough Habit An Unlikely Champion is a tale that captures the essence of horse racing from dreaming to inspiration to luck good and bad to fortunes and reputations made It s the story not just of an unexpected champion horse but of those who took him to greatness Rough Habit is one in the long line of New Zealand bred champions who have crossed the Tasman and become dominant figures in Australian racing think Rising Fast Redcraze Kiwi Bonecrusher and Sunline Like so many before him Rough Habit came from humble beginnings bred as little more than a hobby via a free service to an unfashionable imported sire Rough Cast from the unraced mare Certain Habit The resultant colt s stature suggested that the experiment was doomed to fail His breeder Isabell Roddick said of Rough Habit the foal He was probably not the best looking but I didn t think he was as hideous as he s been made out to be He was a very small horse But looks don t tell you if they re going to win a race Win races he did 11 of them at Group 1 level behind only the mighty Sunline for wins at the highest level He became a cult hero in Brisbane winning two Stradbroke Handicaps and a record three Doomben Cups Telling his story in full for the first time is Ken Linnett winner of the 2018 Bill Whittaker Award for the best book on horse racing in Australia and New Zealand for his story on Tulloch the champion of the 1950s and 60s Linnett has applied the same forensic attention that made Tulloch such a critical and commercial success to the story of Rough Habit

The Principal Club Martin Painter, Richard Waterhouse, 1992 The principal club relates the history of Australia s oldest and most influential racing organisation the Australian Jockey Club within the wider context of the story of the Australian turf Horse racing is Australia s oldest cultural institution and in the late twentieth century its third largest industry This book examines the origins of horse racing in New South Wales as well as the reasons for the formation of the AJC It details the metamorphosis of racing from a sport to an industry by detailing the evolving relationship between the club and the state government the development of Warwick Farm and Randwick from paddocks to modern racecourses the transformation of the AJC from a club to a bureaucracy and the revolution in the way in which races themselves are conducted It also explores some of the major events which have characterized the history of the club such as relating the inside story of the JAC s enquiry into the Fine Cotton scandal This generously illustrated book will appeal not only to those interested in horse racing and its history but to all Australians with a curiosity about the origins of contemporary Australian culture Martin Painter is an Associate Professor in the Department of Government Sydney University Richard Waterhouse is a Senior Lecturer in Australian and American history at the University of Sydney
