Making Faith Sense:

Making Faith-sense Robert L. Kinast, 1999 Making faith sense is a new term for an ancient practice It is what the early Christians called mystical or wisdom theology understanding life in the light of God's participation recorded in the Gospels recognizing the signs of God's presence in everyday events and shaping one's life accordingly In Making Faith Sense Robert Kinast shows all who seek to unify their life experience around their belief in God how to follow that ancient practice Drawing upon the award winning process he has used with students for the ministry Father Kinast explains how to make sense of family work and cultural experience from the perspective of Christian faith Each chapter contains numerous real life examples and practical guidelines that can be used privately or with a group Making Faith Sense begins with a discussion of wisdom theology and its revival in modern times highlighting the turn to experience that characterizes feminist liberation and inculturated theologies The methods for making faith sense embrace three main components experience reflection and action The first section describes what is meant by experience the value of narrating it how to analyze it and what to pay attention to so that experience will reveal its theological meaning The second section explains the role of reflection its similarity to prayer techniques for connecting experience to theological tradition and the most useful theological resources for making faith sense The third section affirms the importance of putting reflection into practice of ensuring that action flows from reflection of planning and evaluating the effect of one's practice and of using practice as the starting point for continuing the process of making faith sense Examples from work family and cultural life are used throughout to provide illustrations of these general points A concluding chapter summarizes the reemergence of practical theology since the 1980s as an effort of church communities to make faith sense of their collective lives Chapters are What Is Faith Sense How to Make Faith Sense Getting Started How to Make Faith Sense The Heart of the Matter and Enacting Faith Sense The Culmination of the Process Robert L Kinast PhD is a pastoral theologian specializing in the field of theological reflection Through the publications and services of the Center for Theological Reflection Indian Rocks Beach Florida he contributes to the ministry training programs of many denominations in the United States and Canada Father Kinast is the author of the Vatican II Act II series and Let Ministry Teach published by Liturgical Press

Making Faith Magnetic Daniel Strange, 2021-10-01 How to talk about Jesus in a way that connects with modern culture As followers of Jesus we know that the good news is deeply attractive But we often fear that to those on the outside it comes across as irrelevant or even repellent Sometimes the Christian worldview feels so out of step with everything else going on that we don't know how to share our faith However author Daniel Strange wants to show you that the connections are there in fact the longings that our culture cannot help but express are the very ones that Jesus fulfils Building on the work of theologian J H Bavinck Dan reveals five recurring themes that our culture can't stop talking about or as he puts it the five permanent itches that in our work rest and play we have to vigorously scratch From TV to books to social media these are the questions we can't stop asking and the tensions we can't stop wrestling with and Jesus speaks powerfully into each one This book will help you to spot these connections in our culture excite you about how Jesus makes sense of humankind's deepest questions and longings apply them to your own life first and then equip you to speak of him to others in a way that is truly magnetic Dan Strange has written another terrific down to earth book to help believers engage in fruitful conversations with friends about faith Dr Timothy Keller who has also written the foreword to this book

Making Sense of the Christian Faith Participant Book David J. Lose, 2010 Making Sense of the Christian Faith is an exciting and inviting exploration of the major theological doctrines of the Christian faith in the order of the biblical story Written as a conversation in order to invite you to jump into the conversation the text stimulates the reader's thinking instead of attempting to persuade a particular point of view The book is written as a single narrative that anyone can read with great enjoyment and satisfaction Topics include Theology Creation Sin Covenant Law Community Incarnation Atonement Church and Holy Spirit and Eschatology Amazon.com Making Money Moves Bishop Kevin Foreman, Virtual Theology, Faith and Adult Education Ros Stuart-Buttle, 2013-07-29 Online learning is a key feature of the contemporary educational landscape and has entered mainstream policy provision and practice But if online education is to reach mature development and evaluation it must be open to critical appraisal This book considers the implementation of online learning within adult theological education This can be an area of challenge or contention especially when established academic practices and cherished values are seen as threatened when handed over to online delivery This opens questions about theology pedagogy and online education Does online teaching and learning bring or demand a new or transformed disruptive pedagogy or does it result in maintenance or replication sustaining of traditional values and existing practices What might the opportunities and benefits be Who stands to gain Who stands to lose And what evidence is there to evaluate the quality of doing theology online This book examines a long standing programme of continuing professional development delivered fully online to adult practitioners working across Christian education and ministry settings It builds upon the author's international experience as an online educator for over a decade Key themes relate adult learning to theological pedagogy authority and online community The concept of interruptive pedagogy is presented as an interpretative model to critically appraise an approach to online education that draws on the best theological tradition yet also looks to the future

Making Our Way to Shore Eileen O'Farrell, 2004 Since 1991 members of the Jewish Catholic Couples Dialogue Group in Chicago have celebrated a combination Hebrew Baby Naming and Baptism ceremony as they welcome their children into the world with the support and participation of a Catholic Priest and Reform Rabbi These ceremonies are spiritual moments created in the spirit of finding new pathways for interfaith families to share in their religious traditions For some couples their ceremony makes a statement about the religious identity of their child either in one tradition or another For others it is an expression of thanks to God for new life and the wish to ask for God s blessing on their family In either case the celebration is an authentic manifestation of a Divine presence in their new family In addition to the ceremony this text includes an overview of the current literature regarding Catholic Jewish families a review of Hebrew Rites of Initiation as well as a short course on Catholic sacramentality and Baptism commonly asked questions and answers facing Catholic Jewish couples a lively conversation between a Rabbi and a Priest regarding rites of initiation a resource section of books and websites and a closing chapter on topics of family faith formation get ready to see big changes and blessings in your life Faith Generation Nick Shepherd,2016-08-18 The recent Church Growth Research see www.churchgrowthresearch.org.uk identifies that the successful transmission of faith to children and young people is a key factor in stemming decline and promoting growth This book explores the cultural and theological reasons as to why this is the case and makes research based recommendations for the faith formation of children and young people The central argument is that church communities need to engage in deliberate strategies that help foster intentional Christian Communities within which children and young people can form and sustain Christian identity Sexual Ethics Todd A.
