Making Of Stonehenge:

The Making of Stonehenge Rodney Castleden, 2002-11 Castleden suggests that there is no one meaning or purpose for Stonehenge that from its very beginning it has filled a variety of needs      How to Build Stonehenge Mike Pitts, 2022-02-17 Icon of the New Stone Age sculptural and engineering marvel symbol of national pride there is nothing quite like Stonehenge These great sarsen and bluestone slabs arranged with simple graphic genius attract visitors from across the world The monument stands silent in the face of the questions its unlikely existence raises who built it Why How There has been endless speculation about why Stonehenge was built inspiring theories ranging from the academically credible to the improbable but far less investigation into how In the millennia since its creation pieces of Stonehenge have been knocked over by heavy machinery found their way to Florida and back again and been exposed to radioactive sodium but the seemingly impossible endeavour of raising the stones with Neolithic technology has remained inexplicable until now In the past decade ground breaking discoveries made possible by cutting edge scientific techniques have traced the precise provenance of the bluestones in Wales but can we plot their journeys to the Salisbury Plain And how might teams of labourers lacking machinery or even pack animals have dragged them 150 miles to the site How did they carve joints into the sarsen boulders among the hardest stones in the world and then raise them into place Mike Pitts draws on a lifetimes study to answer these questions revealing how Stonehenge stood not in austere isolation as we see it today but as part of a wider world the focus of a megalithic cosmology of belief ritual and creativity      Making Sense of Monuments Michael J. Kolb, 2019-11-06 Stonehenge Machu Picchu Confederate statues Egyptian pyramids and medieval cathedrals these are some of the places that are the subject of Making Sense of Monuments an analysis of how the built environment molds human experiences and perceptions via bodily comparison Drawing from recent research in cognitive neuroscience psychology and semiotics Michael J Kolb explores the mechanics of the mind the material world and the spatialization process of monumental architecture Three distinct spatial cognitive metaphors time movement and scale comprise strands of knowledge that when interwoven create embodied contours of meaning of how human interact with monumental spaces Comprehensive lucidly written and thoroughly illustrated Making Sense of Monuments is a vibrant extraordinary journey of the monuments we have constructed and inhabited      The Making of the British Landscape Francis Pryor, 2010-06-03 This is the changing story of Britain as it has been preserved in our fields roads buildings towns and villages mountains forests and islands From our suburban streets that still trace out the boundaries of long vanished farms to the Norfolk Broads formed when medieval peat pits flooded from the ceremonial landscapes of Stonehenge to the spread of the railways evidence of how man s effect on Britain is everywhere In The Making of the British Landscape eminent historian archaeologist and farmer Francis Pryor explains how to read these clues to understand the fascinating history of our land and of how people have lived on it throughout time Covering both the urban and rural and packed with pictures maps and drawings showing everything from how we can still the many ways in which societies have influenced each other through history and allows us to compare and contrast how they have reacted to similar challenges They also allow the reader to transcend historical controversies and can be used to stimulate class discussions and guide student assignments With a unified authorial voice and offering a narrative from the ancient to the present this is the go to textbook for World History courses and students The Open Access version of this book has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4 0 license

Pollution and Property Daniel H. Cole, 2002-07-18 Environmental protection and resource conservation depend on the imposition of property rights broadly defined because in the absence of some property system private common or public resource degradation and depletion are inevitable But there is no universal first best property regime for environmental protection in this second best world Using case studies and examples taken from countries around the world this 2002 book demonstrates that the choice of ownership institution is contingent upon institutional technological and ecological circumstances that determine the differential costs of instituting implementing and maintaining alternative regimes Consequently environmental protection is likely to be more effective and more efficient in a society that relies on multiple and often mixed property regimes The book concludes with an assessment of the important contemporary issue of takings which arise when different property regimes collide

From the Temple to the Castle Lee Morrissey, 1999 Visiting Britain in the mid 18th century Andre Rouquet wrote that in England more than in any other country every man would fain be his own architect Not surprisingly then several of the most important 18th century British authors were also practicing architects John Vanbrugh a playwright designed Blenheim Palace the poet Alexander Pope offered architectural drawings for redesigning the houses of friends and Horace Walpole claimed that the home he renovated Strawberry Hill inspired his Novel The Castle of Otranto The work of John Milton and Thomas Gray also exhibits an abiding interest in architecture By examining the connections between literature and architecture in the work of these writers and by viewing architecture in literary terms Lee Morrissey traces a narrative of cultural change in the Augustan age and beyond A literary scholar with a strong background in architectural theory and practice Morrissey examines architectural references made by these authors and architectural publications familiar to them Each chapter establishes a connection with architecture in the careers of an author and then describes how a principal text Paradise Lost The Provoked Wife An Essay on Man Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard and The Castle of Otranto focuses the literary and historical issues of the period in architectural terms While some 20th century architectural theorists have worried that treating architecture in literary terms robs it of its social function Morrissey argues that architecture can be a language and still participate in political and social contexts because language itself is political and social The fruit of his argument is a unique intellectual history of late 17th and early 18th century Britain of use to scholars of architectural history and landscape architecture as well as of literature
