The Art of World-Making Harry Gould,2017-06-26 On its face The Art of World Making focuses on honouring the career of Nicholas Greenwood Onuf and his contributions to the study of international relations of equal importance however while using Onuf s work as their touchstone the contributions to this volume range widely across IR theory making important interventions in some of the most important topics in the field today The volume considers the place of Constructivism and Republicanism in the field of international relations and the contestation that accompanies the question of their place in the field asking What explains the dominance of some forms of Constructivism and the relative lack of influence of other forms What can rule oriented Constructivism the focus here provide our field that other forms of Constructivism have been unable to Into what new and productive directions can Constructivism be taken What are its gaps and what are the resources to remedy those gaps What can Republicanism tell us about ongoing issues in international law global governance liberalism and crisis Drawing together essays from some of the leading scholars in the field space is given after each chapter for a detailed and highly personal response piece to each contribution written by Onuf This unique volume will be essential reading for students and scholars of international relations      Making Global and Local Connections Tapio Bergholm, Lewis R. Fischer, M. Elisabetta Tonizzi, International Maritime Economic History Association, 2007 This book provides a series of case studies concerning ports and port communities from around the world in attempt to determine the impact of globalisation on the port industry and the link between local and global port conditions It also presents the case for the absolute necessity of ports and port systems to trade and industry on a global scale The book is comprised of ten essays the first six of which concern local issues in a rapid globalising industry The second section contains the remaining four essays which consider port systems from national perspectives      Making the Familiar Unfamiliar Zygmunt Bauman, Peter Haffner, 2020-10-28 Shortly before his death Zygmunt Bauman spent several days in conversation with the Swiss journalist Peter Haffner Out of these conversations emerged this book in which Bauman shows himself to be the pre eminent social thinker for which he became world renowned a thinker who never shied away from addressing the great issues of our time and always strove to interrogate received wisdom and common sense to make the familiar unfamiliar As in Bauman's work more generally the personal and the political are interwoven in this book Bauman's life which followed the same trajectory as the social and political upheavals of the 20th century left its trace on his thought Bauman describes his upbringing in Poland military service in the Red Army working for the Polish Secret Service after the war and expulsion from Poland in 1968 providing personal accounts of the historical events on which he brings his social and political insights to bear His reflections on history identity Jewishness morality happiness and love are rooted in his own personal journey through the turbulent events of the 20th century to which he bore witness These last conversations shed new light on one of the greatest social thinkers of our time offering a more personal perspective on a man who changed our way of thinking about the modern world

The Making of the Modern Age Arthur Haberman, 1977      Care of the World Elena Pulcini, 2012-08-20 This book proposes a philosophy of care in a global age It discusses the distinguishing and opposing pathologies produced by globalization unlimited individualism or self obsession manifested as Promethean omnipotence and narcissistic indifference and endogamous communitarianism or an us obsession that results in conflict and violence The polarization between a lack and an excess of pathos is reflected in the distorted forms taken on by fear The book advocates a metamorphosis of fear which may restore in the subject an awareness of vulnerability and become the precondition for moral action Such awareness and the recognition of the condition of contamination caused by the other's unavoidable presence teach us to fear for rather than be afraid of Fear for the world means care of the world and care understood as concern and solicitude is a new notion of responsibility in which the stress is shifted to a relational subject capable of responding to and taking care of the other From a global perspective the proposed vision of care also compels us to explore a new paradigm of justice      The World in the Long Twentieth Century Edward Ross Dickinson, 2018-01-12 The biological transformation of modern times The foundations of the modern global economy Reorganizing the global economy Localization and globalization The great explosion New world dis order High modernity Revolt and refusal Transformative modernity Democracy and capitalism triumphant Act Your Age! Nancy Lesko,2012-03-15 Are our current ways of talking about the problem of adolescence really that different than those of past generations For the past decade Act Your Age has provided a provocative and now classic analysis of the accepted ways of viewing teens By employing a groundbreaking history of the present methodology that resists traditional chronology author Nancy Lesko analyzes both historical and present social and political factors that produce the presumed natural adolescent This resulting seminal work in the field of youth study forces readers to rethink the dominant interpretations on the social construction of adolescence from the 19th century through the present day This new edition is updated throughout and includes a full new chapter on 1950s era assumptions about adolescence and the corresponding connections to teens today As in all chapters Lesko provides careful examination of the concerns of nationalism sexuality and social order in terms of how they are projected onto the definitions of adolescents in the media in schools and in the home to 400 A D      World Civilization Robin W. Winks,1993-05 Robin W Winks placed particular emphasis on those developments that most directly explain the nature of the modern world social diffusion group and national consciousness technological change religious identities those aspects of intellectual history that have contributed most to our current dilemmas In turn this means that there is more in World Civilization A Brief History about nationalism imperialism or ethnic identities than there is about monarchies feudalism or diplomacy The result of the strategic and intellectual decisions made with respect to this textbook is that its proportions are not the customary ones Particular emphasis is placed on the early origins of civilizations on Greece and Rome and on the period of the so called barbarian invasions because it is by studying these periods that students may best learn how societies are formed Particular emphasis is also placed on the period from the French Revolution on for it is the events of the last two hundred years that have most closely shaped our present condition This book can be read straight through and in its entirety as an interpretive statement about Western history written by a person who knew a good bit about non Western history and who could thus throw into perspective the unusual the commonplace and the comparable in that sector of history conventionally labeled Western The text draws on over thirty five years of discovering in the classroom what students themselves wish to ask about the past rather than what a body of scholars may have concluded they should wish to ask Though this book is largely about Western civilization it is also about world civilizations for from the eighteenth century forward and in many aspects of life much earlier the non West has interacted with the West in such a way as to make it virtually impossible to separate one from the other when dealing at this level of generalization As a teacher of the history of exploration and discovery of imperialism and decolonization      Rebellious Passage Jeffrey R. Kerr-Ritchie,2019-02-07 Examines the successful slave revolt aboard the US slave ship Creole during the early 1840s and its consequences      Making History New Seamus O'Malley,2014-10-24 Guided by Ezra Pound's dictum Make it new a generation of writers set out to create fiction and poetry that was unlike anything that came before it However as Seamus O Malley shows historical narrative was a key site for modernist experimentation Taking three of literary modernism's major figures Joseph Conrad Ford Madox Ford and Rebecca West Making History New demonstrates how the movement's literature not only engaged with history but also transformed traditional approaches to its telling in unique ways Informed by Paul Ricoeur's belief that narrative is necessary to comprehend historical processes the study closely examines four major modernist historical novels Conrad's Nostromo interrogates the very term history as it relates the political tumult of a fictitious Latin American country while Ford's The Good Soldier mirrors the cyclical nature of historiography with a protagonist who returns repeatedly to intense periods of his own past to better comprehend them Two epochal World War I novels The Return of the Soldier and Parade's End depict shell shocked veterans that illustrate the paradox of an accurate historical rendering achieved through the process of amnesia These novels in O Malley's view lead to the high point of what he terms modernist historiography Rebecca West's innovative 1941 travelogue Black Lamb and Grey Falcon and its preoccupation with history's impossibility The monograph concludes with a brief consideration of how historians since World War II have adopted some of the approaches to narrative inaugurated by literary modernists while wrestling with how to relate unthinkable atrocities such as genocide Ultimately Making History New foregrounds narrative's essential role as a bridge between fiction and history as it explores the process by which collective human experience becomes historical narrative
