Making Images Move Gregory Zinman, 2020-01-03 Making Images Move reveals a new history of cinema by uncovering its connections to other media and art forms In this richly illustrated volume Gregory Zinman explores how moving image artists who worked in experimental film pushed the medium toward abstraction through a number of unconventional filmmaking practices including painting and scratching directly on the film strip deteriorating film with water dirt and bleach and applying materials such as paper and glue This book provides a comprehensive history of this tradition of handmade cinema from the early twentieth century to the present opening up new conversations about the production meaning and significance of the moving image From painted film to kinetic art and from psychedelic light shows to video synthesis Gregory Zinman recovers the range of forms tools and intentions that make up cinema s shadow history deepening awareness of the intersection of art and media in the twentieth century and anticipating what is to come Moving Pictures Claire Llewellyn, 2005 Looks at the different ways pictures can move Includes activities such as designing a flap and planning making and evaluating a moving picture based on a nursery rhyme Suggested level junior primary Moving Pictures Anne Hollander, 1989 Hollander explores the premise that paintings prints and movies move us similarly by virtue of their narrative element which evokes our memories and feelings She argues that we respond to the depiction of glimpses of human life to the realization that we cannot see everything at once and how the rendering of light and spatial composition translates them and keeps them moving into our awareness Thus there is a continuum from the paintings and graphic arts of 15th century northern Europe to the proto cinematic arts of the present ISBN 0 394 57400 1 29 95 How to Make and Operate Moving Pictures Bernard Edward Jones, 1916 MAKING IMAGES MOVE Jan-Christopher Horak, 1997-09-17 In Making Images Move Jan Christopher Horak looks at the work of eight European and American photographers whose films illustrate the gradual fragmentation of realistic narratives during the last eighty years In close analyses of specific works he shows how the visions of early practitioners such as Paul Strand and Laszlo Moholy Nagy who tried to create meaningful political statements using modernist techniques gave way to the more personal though no less socially conscious creations of 1960s and 1970s filmmakers such as Chris Marker Robert Frank and Danny Lyon Even documentary became more subjective with Helen Levitt pioneering the use of the handheld camera and intuitive editing in her 1946 film In the Street Horak argues that photographers who have ventured into filmmaking while fruitfully exploiting the differences between the two genres often have been able to retain both their technical styles and complex thematic concerns Including a filmography of more than 130 photographer filmmakers Making Images Move illuminates the instrumental role of these artists in the evolution of experimental cinema Making History Move Kim Nelson, 2024-03-15 Making History Move Five Principles of the Historical Film builds upon decades of scholarship investigating history in visual culture by proposing a methodology of five principles to analyze history in moving images in the digital age It charts a path to understanding the form of history with the most

The best animated films have combined the latest technology with creativity and a flair for storytelling and are adored by both children and adults. From the earliest full length feature animation, Disney's Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs through stop motion animation and Japanese anime to the advent of CGI, this book takes a critical look at animation through the ages and explores its infinite cinematic possibilities.

Moving Picture World and View Photographer, 1915 Extraordinary Everyday Photography Brenda Tharp, Jed Manwaring, 2012-08-21 Through accessible discussions and exercises, readers learn to use composition, available light, color and point of view to create stunning photographs in any environment. Photographers are born travelers. They'll go any distance to capture the right light, beautiful landscapes, wildlife and people. But exotic locales aren't necessary for interesting photographs. Wonderful images are hiding almost everywhere; you just need to know how to find them. Extraordinary Everyday Photography will help you search beyond the surface to find the unexpected wherever you are. Be it a downtown street, a local park or your own front lawn. Authors Brenda Tharp and Jed Manwaring encourage amateur photographers to slow down, open their eyes and respond to what they see to create compelling images that aren't overworked. Inspiring photo examples from the authors, taken with DSLRs, compact digital cameras and even iPhones, show that it is the photographer's eye and creative vision, not the gear, that make a great image.

Dreaming by the Book Elaine Scarry, 2013-05-21 A pathbreaking work about the way literature teaches us to use our imagination. We often attribute to our imaginative life powers that go beyond ordinary perception or sensation. In Dreaming by the Book, the noted scholar Elaine Scarry explores the apparently miraculous but in fact understandable processes by which poets and writers confer those powers on us. How they teach us the work of imaginative creation. Writers from Homer to Heaney, Scarry argues, instruct us in the art of mental composition even as their poems progress just as painters understand paint, composers musical sounds and sculptors stone or metal verbal artists understand and deploy the only material in which their creations will get made the backlit tissue of the human imagination In her brilliant synthesis of cognitive psychology literary criticism and philosophy she explores the five principal formal practices by which writers bring things to life for their readers she calls them radiant ignition rarity dyadic addition and subtraction stretching and floral supposition The transforming power of these mental practices can be seen in their appearance in great literature of course but also in applying them to and watching how they revise our own daydreams Dreaming by the Book is not only an utterly original work of literary analysis but a sequence of on the spot mental experiments
