Theories of Human Nature and Human Nature: A Reader Joel J. Kupperman, 2012-10-12 Now available together as a set for a discounted price Theories of Human Nature with Human Nature A Reader by Joel J Kupperman Exploring Personhood Joseph Torchia, OP, 2007-10-23 Exploring Personhood examines the metaphysical underpinnings of theories of human nature personhood and the self The history of western philosophy provides the framework for broaching critical questions pertinent to these three topics The book explores philosophical anthropology on its most foundational level with a focus on the basic constituents of the unified self The coverage of the work is broad in scope moving from the Pre Socratics to Postmodernism critically assessing what transpired during the intervening 2500 year period but with special attentiveness to the contributions of the Aristotelian Thomistic tradition of inquiry While each chapter can stand on its own they collectively reveal a developing story that finds expression in diverse attempts to come to terms with what it means to be human and how we understand ourselves as persons This book is designed to meet the needs of a wide range of readers from beginners to more advanced students Is There a Human Nature? Leroy S. Rouner, 1997 Humans are deeply convinced that there is something distinct about us as a species but have never been able to agree on what it is The first group of essays in this volume make a philosophical attempt at definition while the second recognizes that we are what we do as well as what we say we are Human Nature: A Reader Joel J. Kupperman, 2012-03-01 This anthology provides a set of distinctive influential views that explore the mysteries of human nature from a variety of perspectives It can be read on its own or in conjunction with Joel Kupperman's text Theories of Human Nature Modern Philosophies of Human Nature P. Langford, 2012-12-06 General Argument My aim is to survey some of the most influential philosophical writers on human nature from the time that Augustine codified Christian belief to the present During this period philosophical opinions about human nature underwent a transformation from the God centered views of Augustine and the scholastics to the human centered ideas of Nietzsche Freud and Sartre While one aim has simply been to provide a handy survey I do have three polemical purposes One is to oppose the notion that the modernism of more recent writers was produced by methodological innovations According to both Freud and Sartre as well as other key figures like Lacan and Heidegger their views were the product of new methods of investigating human nature namely those of psychoanalysis and the phenomenological reduction Psychoanalysis claimed to use the interpretation of both dreams and the relationship between analyst and patient to penetrate the unconscious Phenomenology has claimed that trained philosophers are able to obtain a privileged view of consciousness by a special act of thought called the phenomenological reduction which enables them to view consciousness without preconceptions On many issues my sympathies are with Nietzsche rather than with Freud or phenomenology This is also the case regarding methodology Nietzsche saw quite clearly that the possibility of popularising the views he himself held came from the decline of Christianity My rejection of exclusive reliance upon the methodologies of psychoanalysis and phenomenology is based on two lines of argument
