

A surreal landscape featuring a person in a dark jacket and cap standing on a large, reddish-brown rock in the foreground. The person is looking towards a city of wireframe buildings that appear to be constructed from books or papers. The sky is a mix of blue and orange, with numerous floating books or papers scattered throughout. A large, bright yellow sun or light source is visible in the upper right corner.

Philosophy And Everyday Life:

101 Experiments in the Philosophy of Everyday Life Roger-Pol Droit, 2003-11-06 Roger Pol Droit's highly original book is a reassessment of our day to day engagement with life. In 101 short texts written with limpid elegance Droit invites us to reconsider our most ordinary actions as unexpected philosophical events: peeling an apple, trying to lie in a hammock, watching someone sleep, hearing your voice on an answering machine, playing with a small child, activities that when considered outside of their routine invite us to experience the familiar in startling new ways. Droit encourages us to go further: pretend to be an animal of your choice, create a wall with your hands, try to walk around your room in total darkness, spend time in the Underground and observe your oddity. Thinking of Answers A. C. Grayling, 2010-08-10 A volume of philosophical essays by the London Times and Prospect columnist shares accessible insights into provocative questions about such topics as human self-deception, the relevance of beauty, and the relationship between goodness and happiness. Original Henri Lefebvre and the Theory of the Production of Space Christian Schmid, 2022-11-29 Shortlisted for the Deutscher Memorial Prize 2023. This book presents an encompassing, detailed and thorough overview and reconstruction of Lefebvre's theory of space and of the urban. Henri Lefebvre belongs to the generation of the great French intellectuals and philosophers together with his contemporaries Michel Foucault and Jean Paul Sartre. His theory has experienced a remarkable revival over the last two decades and is discussed and applied today in many disciplines in humanities and social sciences, particularly in urban studies, geography, urban sociology, urban anthropology, architecture and planning. Lefebvre, together with David Harvey, is one of the leading and most read theoreticians in these fields. This book explains in an accessible way the theoretical and epistemological context of this work in French philosophy and in the German dialectic: Hegel, Marx, and Nietzsche, and reconstructs in detail the historical development of its different elements. It also gives an overview on the receptions of Lefebvre and discusses a wide range of applications of this theory in many research fields such as urban and regional development, urbanization, urbanity, social space, and everyday life. Understanding Everyday Racism Philomena Essed, 1991-07-25 While there are many studies of racism and racial inequality at the macro level of analysis, there has been little work done on the experience of everyday racism for black people. Philomena Essed's brilliant work fills this gap. The book compares contemporary racism in the US and the Netherlands.

Critique of Everyday Life: Foundations for a sociology of the everyday Henri Lefebvre, 1991 Henri Lefebvre's three-volume Critique of Everyday Life is perhaps the richest, most prescient work by one of the twentieth century's greatest philosophers. The first volume presented an introduction to the concept of everyday life. Written twenty years later, this second volume attempts to establish the necessary formal instruments for analysis and outlines a series of theoretical categories within everyday life, such as the theory of the semantic field and the theory of moments. The moment at which the book appeared, 1961, was significant both for France and for Lefebvre himself: he was just beginning his career as a lecturer in sociology at Strasbourg and then at Nanterre, and many of the ideas which were influential in the events leading up to 1968 are to be found in this critique In its impetuous often undisciplined prose the reader may catch a glimpse of how charismatic a lecturer Lefebvre must have been The Social Philosophy of Agnes Heller ,2021-11-15 Everyday Life Ágnes Heller,2015-07-03 This book first published in 1984 examines the politics and philosophy of ordinary men and women and their ordinary transactions It analyses the interaction between the individual and the social both for the roots of everyday behaviour and for the means to change the social fabric Using an approach that combines Marx Husserl Heidegger and Aristotle Agnes Heller defines categories such as group crowd community and deals with characteristics of everyday life such as repetition rules norms economics habits probability imitation She also analyses everyday knowledge and concludes by looking at the place of personality in everyday life

Wittgenstein on Mind and Language David G. Stern,1995 Stern argues that Wittgenstein s views are often much simpler and more radical than we have been led to believe He casts new light on Tractatus and Philosophical Investigations revealing aspects of Wittgenstein s thought heretofore neglected Philosophy of Everyday Life Eric Knopp,2000-05 The age old philosophical concerns are still relevant today This book suggests new and current readings of western culture s most important thinkers setting them in new relations to one another and to daily life Ágnes Heller and Hannah Arendt Ángel Prior Olnos,Ángel Rivero,2018-09-30 This book reconstructs through texts by gnes Heller and international scholars a timely conversation between Hannah Arendt and Heller on the malaises of modernity This valuable work will be appreciated both by academics and students interested in social and political philosophy in addition to the wider public curious of intellectual history Both Arendt and Heller are great thinkers with the ability to enlighten the great moral and political problems of our time Although these two great figures belong to different generations the dialogue reconstructed here provides a fuller picture of the demise of the great totalitarian forces of the twentieth century Both Arendt and Heller in a sense accepted the burden of understanding the evils of their age It is however Heller by addressing the perennial problems of modernity posed by Arendt who makes this conversation possible illuminating the problems of this century

Organizational Theory and Aesthetic Philosophies Antonio Strati,2018-12-12 Diverse philosophies constitute the theoretical ground of the study of the aesthetic side of organization In fact there is not a single unique philosophy behind the organizational research of the aesthetic dimension of organizational life Organizational Theory and Aesthetic Philosophies will illustrate and discuss this complex phenomenon and it will be dedicated to highlight the philosophical basis of the study of aesthetics art and design in organization The book distinguishes three principal philosophical sensibilities amongst these philosophies aesthetic hermeneutic and performative philosophical sensibility Each of them is described and critically assessed through the work of philosophers art theorists sociologists and social scientists who represent its main protagonists In this way the reader will be conducted through the variety of philosophies that constitute a reference for aesthetics and design in organization The architecture of the book is articulated in two parts in order to provide student and scholars in philosophical aesthetics in art in design and in organization studies with an informative and agile instrument for academic research and study     Henri Lefebvre, Metaphilosophy, and Modernity Patrick Gamsby, 2025-08-22 Henri Lefebvre Metaphilosophy and Modernity provides a new interpretation of the work of Henri Lefebvre 1901 1991 reframing it as being above all a metaphilosophy of modernity Henri Lefebvre is increasingly being recognized as one of the great twentieth century thinkers Nevertheless the majority of scholarship on Lefebvre predominantly focuses on his theorizing of space often taking Lefebvre's The Production of Space as the point of departure and or on his theorizing of everyday life with his multi volume Critique of Everyday Life as the focal point This book argues that it is Lefebvre's concept of metaphilosophy that provides the connective tissues for these works one that is chiefly concerned with deciphering the enigma of modernity The book will appeal to a wide interdisciplinary and international audience from the fields of sociology philosophy cultural studies geography the history of ideas and literary studies This includes scholars and students interested in Henri Lefebvre's writings everyday life modernity space time leisure work continental thought critical theory Marxism and technology
