Philosophy Beside Itself:

Philosophy Beside Itself Stephen W. Melville, 1986 Philosophy Beside Itself was first published in 1986 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions The writings of French philosopher Jacques Derrida have been the single most powerful influence on critical theory and practice in the United States over the past decade But with few exceptions American philosophers have taken little or no interest in Derrida's work and the task of reception translation and commentary has been left to literary critics As a result Derrida has appeared as a figure already defined by essentially literary critical activities and interests Stephen Melville's aim in Philosophy Beside Itself is to insist upon and clarify the distinctions between philosophy and criticism He argues that until we grasp Derrida's philosophical project as such we remain fundamentally unable to see his significance for criticism In terms derived from Stanley Cavell's writings on modernism Melville develops a case for Derrida as a modernist philosopher working at once within and against that tradition and discipline Melville first places Derrida in a Hegelian context the structure of which he explores by examining the work of Heidegger Lacan and Bataille With this foundation he is able to reappraise the project of deconstructive criticism as developed in Paul de Man's Blindness and Insight and further articulated by other Yale critics Central to this critique is the ambivalent relationship between deconstructive criticism and Lacanian psychoanalysis Criticism OCois a central means through which the difficult facts of human community come to recognition and Melville argues for criticism as an activity intimately bound to the ways in which we do and do not belong in time and in community Derrida's achievement has been to find a new and necessary way to assert that the task of philosophy is criticism the task of literary criticism is to assume the burden of that achievement Stephen Melville is an assistant professor of English at Syracuse University and Donald Marshall is a professor of English at the University of Iowa context the structure of which he explores by examining the work of Heidegger Lacan and Bataille With this foundation he is able to reappraise the project of deconstructive criticism as developed in Paul de Man's Blindness and Insight and further articulated by other Yale critics Central to this critique is the ambivalent relationship between deconstructive criticism and Lacanian psychoanalysis Criticism radical self criticism is a central means through which the difficult facts of human community come to recognition and Melville argues for criticism as an activity intimately bound to the ways in which we do and do not belong in time and in community Derrida's achievement has been to find a new and necessary way to assert that the task of philosophy is criticism the task of literary criticism is to assume the burden of that achievement Stephen Melville is an assistant professor of English at Syracuse University and Donald Marshall is a professor of English at the University of Iowa

Inventing the Real World Marjorie Hellerstein, 1998 Alain Robbe Grillet uses techniques from film to make his novels and adapts novel techniques to construct and then shatter his film narratives Both forms of art are indebted to painters and printmakers visual perceptions of their material and their use of space and spatial relationships to construct artistic illusions

The Politics of Time Peter Osborne, 2011-01-10 If Aristotle sought to understand time through change might we not reverse the procedure and seek to understand change through time Once we do this argues Peter Osborne it soon becomes clear that ideas such as avant garde modern postmodern and tradition which are usually only treated as markets for empirically discrete periods movements or styles are best understood as categories of historical totalization More specifically Osborne claims such ideas involve distinct temporalizations of history giving rise to conflicting politics of time His book begins with a consideration of the main aspects of modernity and develops through a series of critical engagements with the major twentieth century positions in the philosophy of history He concludes with a fascinating history of the avant garde intervention into the temporality of everyday life in surrealism the situationists and the work of Henri Lefebvre Dialectic of the Ladder Ben Ware, 2015-08-27 Ludwig Wittgenstein's Tractatus Logico Philosophicus 1922 remains one of the most enigmatic works of twentieth century thought In this bold and original new study Ben Ware argues that Wittgenstein's early masterpiece is neither an analytic treatise on language and logic nor a quasi mystical work seeking to communicate ineffable truths Instead we come to understand the Tractatus by grasping it in a twofold sense first as a dialectical work which invites the reader to overcome certain illusions of thought and second as a modernist work whose anti philosophical ambition is intimately tied to its radical aesthetic character By placing the Tractatus in the force field of modernism Dialectic of the Ladder clears the ground for a new and challenging exploration of the work's ethical dimension It also casts new light upon the cultural aesthetic and political significances of Wittgenstein's writing revealing hitherto unacknowledged affinities with a host of philosophical and literary authors including Hegel Kierkegaard Marx Nietzsche Adorno Benjamin and Kafka Textual Practice Terence Hawkes, 2005-08-08 First Published in 1989 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Against Orthodoxy S. Aronowitz, 2016-01-12 The book contains groundbreaking and immersive essays on crucial 20th Century scholars on social theory discussed and analyzed from a radical critical theory perspective Aronowitz provides his unique and lauded critical eye toward the leading thinkers of our age crafting an immersive set of essays on radical thought The Movement of Showing Johan de Jong, 2020-03-01 This book explores the idea shared by Derrida Hegel and Heidegger that the value of their thought is not found in its results or conclusions but in its movement All three describe the heart of their work in terms of a pathway development or movement that seems to deprive their thought of a solid ground Johan de Jong argues that this is a structural vulnerability that is the source of its value tracing Derrida's indirect method from his early to later works and critically considering his engagements with Hegel and Heidegger De Jong's analysis locates an affinity among Hegel Heidegger and Derrida in a shared distrust of externality and against the grain of some Levinasian commentaries argues that Derrida's indirectness results in an ethics of complicity The Movement of Showing answers a central question that many polemics about continental philosophy and postmodernism revolve around namely with which methods does one philosophize responsibly It shows the difference between critique and polemics and why simply taking up a position for or against is insufficient in order to think responsibly Passion in Theory Robin Ferrell, 2006-08-21 Philosophy had either ignored or attacked psychoanalysis such responses are neither warranted nor helpful One hundred years after its inception isn't it time to find out what psychoanalysis has to offer us In Passion in Theory Robyn Ferrell does just that and returns with some surprising answers Concentrating on the work of Freud and Lacan Robyn Ferrell asks why their work had been so influential in European philosophy yet so marginal in the Anglo American circles Passion in Theory explores their conception of the relationship between mind and body and how it provides a key to many current philosophical questions Passion in Theory is designed for students and researchers in psychoanalysis traditional and continental philosophy The Rhetoric of Failure

N. Rodowick,2015-01-05 Theory has been an embattled discourse in the academy for decades But now it faces a serious challenge from those who want to model the analytical methods of all scholarly disciplines on the natural sciences What is urgently needed says D N Rodowick is a revitalized concept of theory that can assess the limits of scientific explanation and defend the unique character of humanistic understanding Philosophy s Artful Conversation is a timely and searching examination of theory s role in the arts and humanities today Expanding the insights of his earlier book Elegy for Theory and drawing on the diverse thought of Ludwig Wittgenstein G H von Wright P M

S Hacker Richard Rorty and Charles Taylor Rodowick provides a blueprint of what he calls a philosophy of the humanities In a surprising and illuminating turn he views the historical emergence of theory through the lens of film theory arguing that aesthetics literary studies and cinema studies cannot be separated where questions of theory are concerned These discourses comprise a conceptual whole providing an overarching model of critique that resembles in embryonic form what a new philosophy of the humanities might look like Rodowick offers original readings of Gilles Deleuze and Stanley Cavell bringing forward unexamined points of contact between two thinkers who associate philosophical expression with film and the arts A major contribution to cross disciplinary intellectual history Philosophy's Artful Conversation reveals the many threads connecting the arts and humanities with the history of philosophy The Spectralities Reader Maria del Pilar

Blanco, Esther Peeren, 2013-08-29 Ghosts spirits and specters have played important roles in narratives throughout history and across nations and cultures A watershed moment for this area of study was the publication of Derrida's Specters of Marx in 1993 marking the inauguration of a spectral turn in cultural criticism Gathering together the most compelling texts of the past twenty years the editors transform the field of spectral studies with this first ever reader employing the ghost as an analytical and methodological tool The Spectralities Reader takes ghosts and haunting on their own terms as wide ranging phenomena that are not conscripted to a single aesthetic genre or style Divided into six thematically discreet sections the reader covers issues of philosophy politics media spatiality subject formation gender race and sexuality and historiography It anthologizes the previously published work of theoretical heavyweights from different disciplinary and cultural backgrounds such as Jacques Derrida Gayatri Spivak and Giorgio Agamben alongside work by literary and cultural historians such as Jeffrey Sconce and Roger Luckhurst The Future Without a Past John Paul Russo, 2005 Argues that technological imperatives like rationalization universalism monism and autonomy have transformed the humanities and altered the relation between humans and nature Examines technology and its impact on education historical memory and technological and literary values in criticism and theory concluding with an analysis of the fiction of Don DeLillo Provided by publisher

Hearing Things Timothy Gould, 1998-11-15 What does philosophy have to do with the human voice Has contemporary philosophy banished the voice from the field of legitimate investigation Timothy Gould examines these questions through the philosopher most responsible for formulating them Stanley Cavell Hearing Things is the first work to treat systematically the relation between Cavell's pervasive authorial voice and his equally powerful though less discernible impulse to produce a set of usable philosophical methods Gould argues that a tension between voice and method unites Cavell's broad and often perplexing range of interests From Wittgenstein to Thoreau from Shakespeare to the movies and from opera to Freud Gould reveals the connection between the voice within Cavell's writing and the voices Cavell appeals to through the methods of ordinary language philosophy Within Cavell's extraordinary productivity lies a new sense of philosophical method based on elements of the act of reading Hearing Things is both an important study of Cavell's work and a major contribution to the construction of American philosophy Postmodernism Thomas Docherty, 1993 A comprehensive selection of articles essays and statements by such leading figures in postmodernism as Lyotard Habermas Jameson Eco and Rorty that defines the end of modernism in philosophy politics the artistic and cultural avant garde architecture urbanicity feminism and ecology

The Fate of Art J. M. Bernstein, 1992 Aesthetic alienation may be described as the paradoxical relationship whereby art and truth have come to be divorced from one another while nonetheless remaining entwined J M Bernstein not only finds the separation of art and truth problematic but also contends that we continue to experience art as sensuous and particular thus complicating and challenging the cultural self understanding of modernity Bernstein focuses on the work of four key philosophers Kant Heidegger Derrida and Adorno and provides powerful new interpretations of their views Bernstein shows how each of the three post Kantian aesthetics its concepts of judgment genius and the sublime to construct a philosophical language that can criticize and displace the categorical assumption of modernity He also examines in detail their responses to questions concerning the relations among art philosophy and politics in modern societies
