 Bulletin belge de la photographie, 1862 The Gender of Photography Nicole Hudgins, 2020-09-02 It would be unthinkable now to omit early female pioneers from any survey of photography's history in the Western world Yet for many years the gendered language of American British and French photographic literature made it appear that women's interactions with early photography did not count as significant contributions Using French and English photo journals cartoons art criticism novels and early career guides aimed at women this volume will show why and how early photographic clubs journals exhibitions and studios insisted on masculine values and authority and how Victorian women engaged with photography despite that dominant trend Focusing on the period before 1890 when women were yet to develop the self assurance that would lead to broader recognition of the value of their work this study probes the mechanisms by which exclusion took place and explores how women practiced photography anyway both as amateurs and professionals Challenging the marginalization of women's work in the early history of photography this is essential reading for students and scholars of photography history and gender studies Patent Office Library Subject Lists. New Series Great Britain. Patent Office. Library, 1914 Imaging History Bruno Vandermeulen, Danny Veys, 2011 In archaeology photography is mainly used as a technique for gathering data and evidence Within the framework of the research project in site site specific photography revisited the relationship between photography and archaeology or broader history is explored How do photographers visualize history What is the importance of place particularly the place that remains after the event took place How do photographers or artists use photography to depict the past when time has become past time These articles and portfolios explore both on practical and theoretical level how history can be captured The research project is an attempt to redefine the traditional relationship between archaeology and photography in order to produce new forms of image making more adapted to contemporary visual culture The project considers photography as a practice in which a picture is shaped and constructed by the photographer not a practice in which a picture is mechanically taken Guide pratique pour la
