Photorealism At The Millenium:

Photorealism At the Millennium Louis K. Meisel, Linda Chase, 2002-10-01 In the early 1970s Meisel began documenting the works of the original thirteen Photorealists Many of these are still making significant contributions as evidenced for example by Richard Estes's complex street scenes and waterscapes Tom Blackwell's dazzling reflective storefronts and John Salt's wistful rusting automobiles all represented here Although always approached from a Photorealist point of view the images depicted by these artists are staggeringly varied Ralph Goings's diners Richard McLean's horses Linda Bacon's toys Randy Dudley's industrial vistas Ron Kleemann's Thanksgiving Day parade balloons David Parrish's pop icons Wherever possible the complete works made by the artist in the 1990s are illustrated and the rest are listed Such a comprehensive approach makes this volume invaluable to scholars collectors and art historians The Aesthetics of Violence in Contemporary Media Gwyn Symonds, 2011-11-03 The topic of violence in the media seems as inundated as can be Countless studies and research projects have been conducted mostly to show its negative effects on society What Gwynneth Symonds proposes though takes this significant topic one step further studying the aesthetics of media violence By defining key terms like the graphic nature and authenticity of violent representations and discussing how those definitions are linked to actual violence outside the film and television screen Symonds broadens the arena of study Engagingly written The Aesthetics of Violence in Contemporary Media fills an important gap Symonds uses existing studies for the empirical audience reception data together with discussions of the different representations of violence to look at violence in the media as an art form in of itself By looking at The Simpsons Bowling for Columbine and Norma Khouri's Forbidden Love just to name a few Symonds cross analyzes violence in multiple media to see their affective role in audience reception an important aspect when discussing media The book strikes a balance between the readers need to see how theory matches what actually happens in the texts in question and the demands of a theoretical overview Photorealism in the Digital Age Louis K.

Meisel, Elizabeth Katherine May Harris, 2018-12-15 This luxurious volume the fourth in a series by Louis K Meisel is a comprehensive documentation of 21st century Photorealism one of the most popular art movements since the late 1960s Photorealists work painstakingly from photographs to create startlingly realistic paintings and where they once used film for gathering information they now rely on digital technology which has vastly expanded the amount of detail that can be captured In these visual marvels they bring insights to vernacular subjects cars cityscapes portraits and make the commonplace uncommon Illustrating the book with more than 850 works created since 2000 Meisel covers every major Photorealist still active including Ralph Goings Richard Estes Tom Blackwell Richard McLean and John Salt as well as remarkable newcomers For the first time he also includes Verist sculptors such as John De Andrea and Duane Hanson

G.F. Mitrano, 2017-09-29 In her provocative study of Gertrude Stein G F Mitrano argues that Stein s particular take on modernity has special relevance for today Tracing what she describes as Stein s deeply modernist story of transformation from a nineteenth century American woman to the disquieting muse of avant garde culture portrayed in Picasso s famous portrait Mitrano illuminates Stein s immense appetite for life her love of thinking and her craving for recognition Her approach is innovative combining the exegetical the visual and the theoretical to emphasize Stein s struggle for individuality and public achievement as a profoundly historical struggle involving personal choices linked for example to her sexuality or the uses of her physical appearance Stein continues to attract attention Mitrano contends because she anticipates many contemporary concerns especially in the field of critical thinking from the question of subjectivity to the status of the writer as a laborer among many to the meaning of fame and the private public divide Race, Gender, and Identity in American

Equine Art Jessica Dallow, 2022-05-19 This book traces an evolution of equine and equestrian art in the United States over the last two centuries to counter conventional understandings of subjects that are deeply enmeshed in the traditions of elite English and European culture In focusing on the construction of identity in painting and photography of Blacks women and the animals themselves involved in horseracing rodeo and horse show competition it illuminates the strategic and varying roles visual artists have played in producing cultural understandings of human animal relationships As the first book to offer a history of American equine and equestrian imagery it shrinks the chasm of literature on the subject and illustrates the significance of the genre to the history of American art This book further connects American equine and equestrian art to historical theoretical and philosophical analyses of animals and attests to how the horse endures as a vital meaningful subject within the art world as well as culture at large This book will be of interest to scholars in art history American art gender studies race and ethnic studies and animal studies Historical Dictionary of Contemporary Art Ann Lee
