Poplar Memories:

Poplar Memories John Hector, 2010-08-10 Poplar Memories is a vivid impression of Cockney London before and during the Second World War set in a teeming rundown docklands neighbourhood famous for being well one end of the Blackwall Tunnel John Hector's spellbinding account of his early life in the 1920s and 30s conjures up a vanished era when simplicity and happiness went hand in hand Halcyon days of talking pictures and pavement buskers Saturday night knees ups round the piano eel and pie stalls chimneysweeps boxers Clarnico's toffees and Lloyd Loom furniture and a little shop called Woolworth's selling nothing over sixpence unless it's a shilling All this was to disappear forever in the horrors of the Blitz The author was disabled by infantile paralysis yet he became School Captain and embarked on a successful career at 14 surviving extreme poverty panel doctors dockers riots and Hitler's Luftwaffe with an unshakeable belief in the ordinary people of Poplar

Poplar Memories 20's, 30's and 40's John Hector, Memory, History, Nation Susannah Radstone, 2017-09-04 In the last decade a focus on memory in the human sciences has encouraged new approaches to the study of the past As the humanities and social sciences have put into question their own claims to objectivity authority and universality memory has appeared to offer a way of engaging with knowledge of the past as inevitably partial subjective and local At the same time memory and memorial practices have become sites of contestation and the politics of memory are increasingly prominent This inter disciplinary volume demonstrates from a range of perspectives the complex cultural work and struggles over meaning that lie at the heart of what we call memory The chapters in this volume offer a complex awareness of the workings of memory and the ways in which different or changing histories may be explained They explore the relation between individual and social memory between real and imaginary event and fantasy history and myth Contradictory accounts or memories in direct contradiction to the historical record are not always the sign of a repressive authority attempting to cover something up The tension between memory as a safeguard against attempts to silence dissenting voices and memory's own implication in that silencing runs throughout the book Topics covered range from the Basque country to Cambodia from Hungary to South Africa from the Finnish Civil War to the cult Jim Jarmusch movie Dead Man from the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame to Australia Part I Transforming Memory is concerned primarily with the social and personal transmission of memory across time and generations Part II Remembering Suffering Trauma and History brings the after effects of catastrophe to the fore Part III Patterning the National Past the relation between nation and memory is the central issue Part IV And Then Silence reflects on the complex and multiple meaning of silence and oblivion wherein amnesia is often used as a figure for the denial of shameful

Memories of Old Poplar John Blake, 1977-01-01 Port of London, 1925 Poplar Island Peter K. Bailey, 2011-02-17 True story of a young boy growing up on an island in the Chesapeake Bay and going to school by boat Book includes an interesting history of this unique island the first settlement in Talbot County and also the home to President Franklin D Roosevelt's exclusive Jefferson Islands Club in the 1930's Also included is the story of the island's incredible reconstruction started in 1998 after the island had all but washed away Invitation to the Married Life Angela Huth, 2011-10-28 The married couples in this book have two things in common a skill in the duplicity that flourishes even in happy marriages and an invitation to the Farthingoes ball In the months preceding the party we learn something of their double lives the faces that each one exposes to their spouses and to the world give little hint of their complex and secret tribulations By the time they arrive at the ball each clutching his or her different hopes and fears we have become familiar with their unsmooth paths and shared many a humorous escapade or private tragedy with Rachel and Thomas Mary and Bill Ursula and Martin Frances and Toby as well as the alluring R Cotterman and the only questing bachelor Ralph Sophisticated sympathetic witty and razor sharp in its observations of the sub text of married life this is a wonderfully accomplished and enjoyable novel which develops totally out of the characters it creates Sites of Memory Craig E. Barton, 2001-03 These essays explore the historic and contemporary effects of race upon the development of the built environment and examine the myths and realities of America's racial landscapes Its multi disciplinary approach identifies and interprets the black cultural landscape examining its visual spatial and ideological dimensions Conway County Heritage , 2006-01-01 The history of the community and people of Conway County Arkansas New Racial Landscapes Malcolm James, Helen Kim, Victoria Redclift, 2016-03-17 The chapters in this volume examine the racial and ethnic landscape of Britain in a contemporary era of neoliberalism and financial crisis A key aspect of neoliberal thought is the belief that we live in a post racial in which the problems of racism and xenophobia have been overcome However cultural retrenchment and coded xenophobia have been sweeping the political terrain accompanied by new racisms and new racial subjects that only close contextual analysis can unpick The scholarship contained in this collection challenges those who suggest that we live in a post racial time By focusing on particular locations in Britain at a particular moment the volume explores local stories of race and racism across changing sociopolitical ground This book is essential reading for scholars and students of race racism diaspora multiculturalism post colonialism transnationalism and post race This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies The Freeman , 1921 The Disappearing Islands of the Chesapeake William B. Cronin, 2005 An appendix documents the many small islands that have dropped entirely from view since the seventeenth century

Historians on History John Tosh, 2009 A follow up to the bestselling The Pursuit of History this Reader brings together the reflections of a number of major historians on the nature and purpose of their craft They illuminate the different governing assumptions political social personal that have sustained these leading practitioners in their studies and show how different influences and methodologies have impacted on them In so doing the book not only gives an insight into the great variety of aspirations and convictions that animate History as a discipline but also brings into focus the key historiographic trends of the English speaking world since World War II from publisher's website Bread Winner Emma Griffin, 2020-04-14 The overlooked story of how ordinary women and their husbands managed financially in the Victorian era and why so many struggled despite increasing national prosperity. Nineteenth century Britain saw remarkable economic growth and a rise in real wages. But not everyone shared in the nation's wealth. Unable to earn a sufficient income themselves, working class women were reliant on the breadwinner wage of their husbands. When income failed or was denied or squandered by errant men, families could be plunged into desperate poverty from which there was no escape. Emma Griffin unlocks the homes of Victorian England to examine the lives and finances of the people who lived there. Drawing on over 600 working class autobiographies, including more than 200 written by women, Bread Winner changes our understanding of daily life in Victorian Britain.

Rifleman of the Raj: A Soldier's Journal British India 1919-1920 Ronald Bateman, 2018-09-09. In October 1919, Augustus Harold Stevens travelled to India on a three-year tour of duty with the 4th Battalion Rifle Brigade. Aside from taking us on an incredible journey to Baluchistan, Gus also describes the day-to-day life of a soldier stationed in Quetta Cantonment, culminating in his transfer to Chaman on the Afghan border. Gus's India Journal offers the reader a unique, active participant insight of the experiences of an underage soldier beginning a three-year tour of duty as a rifleman of the British Raj.

George Lansbury John Shepherd, 2002-09-19. The most lovable figure in modern politics was how A. J. P. Taylor described the Christian pacifist George Lansbury. At 73, he took over the helm of the Labour Party of only 46 MPs in the Depression years of the 1930s. Throughout a remarkable life, Lansbury remained an extraordinary politician of the people associated with a multitude of crusades for social justice. He resigned from Parliament to support Votes for Women and for the next ten years edited the fiery Daily Herald. In 1921, Lansbury led the Poplar Rates Rebellion when thirty Labour councillors went willingly to prison in defiance of the government, the courts, and their own party leadership. As Labour leader, Lansbury was known universally as a committed socialist, an implacable opponent of capitalism and imperialism. He never sought personal wealth, travelled everywhere by public transport, and made his home in impoverished East London. His final years were spent in a tireless international peace crusade to prevent the drift towards another world war. In this major new biography, John Shepherd draws on an impressive range of research to reconstruct the life of a charismatic Labour pioneer. He reaffirms George Lansbury's standing at the heart of Old Labour and his importance to British politics as a whole.

Working Class Cultures in Britain, 1890-1960 Prof Joanna Bourke, Joanna Bourke, 2008-01-28. Integrating a variety of historical approaches and methods, Joanna Bourke looks at the construction of class within the intimate contexts of the body, the home, the marketplace, the locality, and the nation to assess how the subjective identity of the working class in Britain has been maintained through seventy years of radical social, cultural, and economic change. She argues that class identity is essentially a social and cultural rather than an institutional or political phenomenon and therefore cannot be understood without constant reference to gender and ethnicity. Each self-contained chapter consists of an essay of historical analysis, introducing students to the ways historians use evidence to understand change, as well as useful chronologies, statistics, and tables suggested topics for discussion, and selective further reading.

Economically Important Trees: Origin, Evolution,

Genetic Diversity and Ecology Thomas K Uthup, Rekha Karumamkandathil, 2024-12-09 The edited volume deals with the origin evolution genetic diversity commercial and cultural aspects of selected tree species such as Rubber Pine Poplar Almond Cashew Teak Olive Eucalyptus Mango Jack Fig Sandalwood and Ashoka It covers major aspects of the altered gene pool of each tree species its impact on biodiversity the current scenario and the strategies to protect and conserve the wild progenitors of these trees Human interventions in the evolution and development of these economically important trees began at least four thousand years ago Over these years significant improvements in the traits of economic value were achieved for most of these tree species However the long history of domestication and the selective breeding pressure applied to their wild progenitors accelerated the loss of biodiversity resulting in reduced genetic diversity and shrunken germplasm resources of these domesticated species The book portrays the novel dimensions of the propitiousness of tree domestication and the interesting history behind it which is interlaced with the development of civilizations religions local traditions medicine and cuisine This book is of interest to teachers researchers biodiversity experts and policymakers It can be used as additional reading material for undergraduate and graduate students of forestry ecology genetics and environmental sciences The book also serves as an interesting and useful read for national and international agricultural scientists as well as historians and the general public

A Road Through the Mountains Elizabeth Cooke, 2015-02-17 An accident victim desperate to return to her family a child with Asperger's syndrome and a man discovering the daughter he never knew are brought together by love in this suspenseful moving novel by acclaimed author Elizabeth Cooke After a car accident single mother and painter Anna Russell lies in a coma in a Boston hospital Her ten year old daughter Rachel who has Asperger's syndrome a mild form of autism is in the next room with a fractured arm Botanist David Mortimer can name any tree or form of plant life but he can't commit to anything not even to writing his masterpiece about the rare flowers that fascinate him in the mountains of China But almost as soon as he gets the call from Anna's mother he's flying across the Atlantic to meet the daughter he never knew he had Anna left him eleven years ago when he was mapping out an exotic journey for them but David has never forgotten her With help from Rachel he comes up with a plan that might help Anna find her way back to them

Love and Toil Ellen Ross, 1993 The feisty warm hearted mum has long figured as a symbol of the working class in Britain yet working class history has emphasized male organizations such as clubs unions or political parties Investigating a different dimension of social history Love and Toil focuses on motherhood among the London poor in the late Victorian and Edwardian years and on the cultures communities and ties with husbands and children that women created Mothers skills in managing the family budget earning income and caring for their children were critical in protecting households from the worst hardships of industrial capitalism yet poverty or the threat of it molded intimate relationships and left its imprint on personalities This book is also a case study demonstrating the larger argument that the concept of motherhood is more socially and historically constructed than biologically determined Shaky household economics pressure toward respectability the close proximity of neighbors the precariousness of infant and child life and little chance of better lives for their children shaped the work and emotions of motherhood much more than did the biological experiences of pregnancy birth and lactation This beautifully written book embellished with Cockney slang and music hall songs addresses fascinating questions in the fields of women s studies labor history social policy and family history pub description
