status of bird species at county level Areas covered so far include Norfolk Suffolk Dorset the Shetland Islands and the Isles of Scilly with The Birds of Essex in press Each title includes a breakdown of rarity records and there are introductory sections describing the area s ecology climate ornithological history and conservation record as well as a gazeteer of the best sites to visit Gwent contains a wide range of habitats in a relatively small area including estuarine wetland in the south valleys in the west and uplands in the north with heavily wooded areas in the Usk and Wye valleys Major sites include the Newport Wetlands which attracts visitors from throughout Wales and the west of England to its wet grassland saline lagoons and freshwater reedbeds Other important sites include Peterstone Wentlooge along the Severn Estuary west of Newport and Llandegfedd Reservoir

Birds in England Andy Brown, Phil Grice, 2010-06-30 The Poyser avifaunas Birds in Scotland Birds in Ireland and Birds in Wales are all now regarded as classic works The series is now completed with Birds in England an avifauna for England s diverse birdlife past and present England marks the northwestern limit for many Palearctic breeding birds and is close to the southwestern limit for several others in particular several seabird species whose English colonies are of international significance It is the first point of arrival for new colonists from the south Little Egret and Yellow legged Gull are two recent arrivals and it is also of international importance for wintering and passage populations of various species which breed in the far north of the Palearctic A diverse and fascinating avifauna is augmented by visits from an impressive range of rarities from as far afield as Siberia and Canada Nearctic vagrants in particular are well represented on the English list This important new avifauna looks in detail at England and its birds analysing present and historical data to present a complete picture of the status range and abundance of every bird on the English list

Rare Birds in Britain and Ireland J.T.R. Sharrock, E.M Sharrock, 2010-11-30 Dr J T R Sharrock is uniquely placed to write about the rare birds of Britain and Ireland He is a member of all three bodies which adjudicate on such records honorary secretary of the British Ornithologists Union s Records Committee and a member of both the British Birds Rarities Committee and the Irish Records Panel He is already the author of a companion book which deals with a selection of the commoner rarities Scarce Migrant Birds in Britain and Ireland In this new much fuller book the enormous task of collation of over 8000 records and their visual display as maps and histograms was carried out by Mrs E M Sharrock The textual and visual analysis deals with 221 different species Between them the authors present a complete picture of rare birds in Britain and Ireland HOW MANY are seen WHEN do they occur HOW regularly do they come WHERE are they seen There are line drawings of all 221 species by well known bird artists Robert Gillmor P J Grant R A Richardson D I M Wallace and Ian Willis Jacket design by Robert Gillmor

Watching Birds James Fisher, 2010-11-30 This revised edition of the late James Fisher s much praised Watching Birds is the work of Dr Jim Flegg Director of the British Trust for Ornithology In his Preface Dr Flegg writes It is a daunting task to revise the bird book on which you cut your teeth it is the surest measure of the man who wrote it that what is needed after thirty odd years is an updating and not a sweeping revision Among James Fisher s deservedly popular writings Watching

Birds was probably the most read and consulted. After several reprints published by Penguin Books he planned to re write it and it is wholly appropriate that the work should now be done by Dr Flegg who like the original author has done much to help arouse and stimulate a widening interest in watching and understanding the life and world of birds. It is an indication of that interest today that radio and TV programmes in which Dr Flegg has frequently participated have audiences of millions. Such numbers are hardly surprising since few leisure activities offer as effective or as gratifying an antidote to the pressures of modern life as birdwatching and few can be as readily and inexpensively pursued at almost any time anywhere. Watching Birds has been an introduction and an item of basic equipment to tens of thousands of birdwatchers in the past and this new and revised edition is assured of an even wider audience. A Bird in the Bush

Stephen Moss, 2013-07-25 This journey through the world of birdwatchers is a wonderful book fascinating often hilarious anecdotes and information. Daily Mail Critic's Choice. Scholarly authoritative and above all supremely readable. Stephen Moss's book is the first to trace the fascinating history of how and why people have watched birds for pleasure from the beginnings with Gilbert White in the eighteenth century through World War II POWs watching birds from inside their prison camp and all the way to today's twitchers with their beeping pagers driving hundreds of miles for a rare bird. Proves that birdwatchers can be as instructive to watch as birds. Sunday Times Thoroughly researched and well written. The Guardian Moss knows his subject intimately and writes about it with just the right mixture of affection and occasional quizzicality. Sunday Telegraph It would be difficult to imagine anyone producing a more comprehensive thoughtful intelligent and entertaining examination of how people have watched birds at each point in history. In fact it is one of the few books which might prove such compulsive reading that even a dedicated twitcher might forgo a day in the field to stay at home to finish it. Birding World

Birds of Essex Simon Wood, 2009-01-01 The County Avifaunas are a growing series giving full details of the status and range of every species recorded in the county in question. Each title covers all species on the county list with a detailed breakdown of rarity records and each has introductory sections describing the county's general ecology climate weather patterns its ornithological history and conservation record. Essex is of national and international importance to many migrating and wintering wildfowl and waders which can be found on the estuaries. Further inland the Lea Valley harbours important populations of several species within the complex of reservoirs and gravel pits. Elsewhere the diverse habits of woodland and parkland heaths and commons agricultural land and urban areas mean that at all times of year there is the opportunity to see upwards of 100 species in a day with little effort. This book analyses and summarises all the data collated and documented over the last 200 years and includes available records to the end of 2004. Introductory chapters discuss the geology and habitats of Essex and the amazing fossil bird record. The individual accounts provide an up to date status of each species and patterns of occurrence within Essex. A distribution map is included for most breeding species. A breakdown and analysis are provided for all county rarities. Superb line drawings and photographs illustrate the book all by talented local artists and photographers This book is an essential reference for anybody who has watched birds in this amazing county Behind the Binoculars Mark Avery,Keith Betton,2015-07-20 Mark Avery and Keith Betton passionate birdwatchers and conservationists interview members of the birdwatching community about the lives of famous birdwatchers They take you behind the scenes and behind the binoculars of a diverse range of birding and wildlife personalities
