Popular Religion and Liberation Michael R. Candelaria, 1990-01-01 El tema del libro es la ambivalencia de la religiosidad popular para la teología de la liberación y para la liberación misma Enfoca el asunto en dos posiciones de opuesta apreciación de la religiosidad popular la de Juan Carlos Scannone y la de Juan Mestizo Christianity Arturo J. Banuelas, 2004-10-29 Mestizo Christianity is the most comprehensive introduction to the work of the principle figures in U S Hispanic theology Protestant as well as Catholic Other anthologies exist but Mestizo Christianity provides the best and most representative writing by each of the fourteen first generation theologians in their areas of specialization Since by every account the Latino Hispanic church will continue to grow well into the twenty first century Mestizo Christianity provides a grounding in an area of increasing theological and pastoral importance Topics include affirming Hispanic culture and theological identity methodology popular religiosity women s voices social ethics spirituality and ecumenical perspectives Also included is a brief biography of each featured author and a comprehensive bibliography of Hispanic theology the only one of its kind Mestizo Christianity will be an indispensable resource for students clergy and pastoral agents Introducing Religion Robert S. Ellwood, Patrick Horn, 2024-08-22 Introducing Religion examines the different ways of looking at religion in the twenty first century Providing a broad overview to the discipline of religious studies this new edition continues to introduce students to engaging and contemporary topics such as sociology of religion psychology of religion history of religion religion and art religious ethics popular religion religion and violence Thoroughly updated throughout this sixth edition includes new coverage of current debates and hot topics in the field such as concerns about essentialism in religion the importance of categorization and the role of psychology in religious experience This textbook is fundamental reading for students approaching this subject area for the first time Local Worship, Global Church Mark R. Francis, 2014-02-06 How would the history of Roman Catholic worship look if it were viewed first from the perspective of the people in the pews rather than through the deliberations of popes and church councils or the writings of theologians How did the common people down through the ages understand what they were doing when they came together in worship and was this understanding always the same as the official interpretation of the church authorities In Local Worship Global Church Mark Francis explores the history of the liturgy from the bottom up rather than from the top down and comes to conclusions that complement our understanding of the history of the liturgy and its relationship to faithful Christians from the first century CE to our own time

An Intercultural Theology of Migration Gemma Cruz, 2010-01-15 Migration has long been associated with the social sciences However as a phenomenon that provides windows into possibly new forms of oppression and at the same time paths toward human liberation a systematic theological look at contemporary migration is long overdue Building on the emerging interest on migration in theology this book presents an intercultural theology of migration drawn from the experience of Filipino women domestic workers in Hong Kong in dialogue with theological ethics and liberationist theologies The result is a new look at the phenomenon of contemporary migration denominational boundaries lay theology is dominated by negatives the laity simply defined as the non ordained the alleged exclusion of the laity from full participation the sole focus on what they cannot or should not do and above all the total absence of an ecumenical lay theology In a unique approach this volume sets out to find ways of overcoming these negatives so predominant in current lay theology The author explores positions and perspectives put forward in Roman Catholic theology from Vatican II up to the present These are compared and contrasted with concepts and suggestions of present day Anglican Theology as well as with those of liberative theologies in Latin America and Asia Rethinking the content language and metaphors of lay theology in the final part of this volume the author proposes a new image for discussing the Church a model focusing on the interdependence and collaboration of all the people in the Church This is then used to sketch out the framework for a new type of lay theology Imbedded in ecclesiology in the concept of all believers together being the Church the author endeavours to suggest a lay theology that is indeed positive ecumenical and universal

Global Christianity, 2007-01-01 In 2002 Philip Jenkins wrote The Next Christendom Over the past half century the centre of gravity of the Christian world has moved decisively to the global South says Jenkins Within a few decades European and Euro American Christians will have become a small fragment of world Christianity By that time Christianity in Europe and North America will to a large extent consist of Southern derived immigrant communities Southern churches will fulfil neither the Liberation Dream nor the Conservative Dream of the North but will seek their own solutions to their particular problems Jenkins book evoked strong reactions a bit to his own surprise as the book contained little new In the United States of America the prospect of a more biblical Christianity caused reactions of alarm in liberal circles In contrast conservatives were delighted by the same prospect In Europe the book landed in the middle of the debate on Europe as an exceptional case It was detested by those who stick to the theory of ongoing and irreversible secularisation and welcomed by those who see a resurgence of religion also in Europe In the present volume scholars of religion and theologians assess the global trends in World Christianity as described in Philip Jenkins book It is the outcome of an international conference on Southern Christianity and its relation to Christianity in the North held in the Conference Centre of Radboud University Nijmegen the Netherlands

Religion explores the ways that Salvadoran Catholics sought to make sense of political violence in their country in the 1970s and 1980s by constructing a theological ethics that could both explain repression in religious terms and propose specific responses to violence. Drawing on extensive fieldwork, the book highlights the ways that progressive Catholicism offered a justification and tools for political resistance in the face of extraordinary destruction. Using the case of Catholicism in El Salvador, the book explores the nature of religious responses to social crisis and the ways that ordinary believers construct and strive to live by ethical systems. By highlighting the importance of theological belief, of narrative, and of religious rationality in political mobilization, it touches questions of general interest to readers concerned with the social role of religion and ethics. Ethnologia Europaea 26:1 Bjarne Stoklund,
