David Jenness,Donald Velsey,2014-02-04 Classic American Popular Song The Second Half Century 1950 2000 addresses the question What happened to American popular song after 1950 There are numerous books available on the so called Golden Age of popular song but none that follow the development of popular song styles in the second half of the 20th century While 1950 is seen as the end of an era the tap of popular song creation hardly ran dry after that date Many of the classic songwriters continued to work through the following decades Porter was active until 1958 Rodgers until the later 1970s Arlen until 1976 Some of the greatest lyricists of the classic era continued to do outstanding and successful work Johnny Mercer and Dorothy Fields for example continued to produce lyrics through the early 70s These works could be explained as simply the Golden Age s last stand a refusal of major figures to give in to a new reality But then how can we explain the outstanding careers of Frank Loesser Cy Coleman Jerry Herman Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick Fred Kander and John Ebb Jule Styne Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe and several other major figures Where did Stephen Sondheim come from For anyone interested in the development of American popular song and its survival this book will make fascinating reading

Music and the Making of Modern Japan Margaret Mehl, 2024-05-29 Japan was the first non Western nation to compete with the Western powers at their own game The country's rise to a major player on the stage of Western music has been equally spectacular The connection between these two developments however has never been explored How did making music make Japan modern How did Japan make music that originated in Europe its own And what happened to Japan's traditional music in the process Music and the Making of Modern Japan answers these questions Discussing musical modernization in the context of globalization and nation building Margaret Mehl argues that far from being a side show music was part of the action on centre stage Making music became an important vehicle for empowering the people of Japan to join in the shaping of the modern world In only fifty years from the 1870s to the early 1920s Japanese people laid the foundations for the country's post war rise as a musical as well as an economic power Meanwhile new types of popular song fuelled by the growing global record industry successfully blended inspiration from the West with musical characteristics perceived as Japanese Music and the Making of Modern Japan represents a fresh contribution to historical research on making music as a major cultural social and political force

Catullus in Twentieth-Century Music Stephanie Oade, 2024-08-24 One of the most famous voices to have survived from the Roman world Catullus's poetry is still amongst the most popular and widely read But what is it that makes this 2 000 year old voice so relevant so personal and so endlessly fascinating Reinvigorating discussions around the nature of Catullus's lyricism Catullus in Twentieth Century Music takes a completely new approach to Catullus and ideas of lyric It centres around four musical works from the twentieth century each one capturing the essence of Catullus in musical retellings and showcasing a very personal response to the original text Considering how and why these musical composers used Catullus's poetry as their stimulus allows us to uncover new ideas about Catullus's poetry By considering the very process of reception Stephanie Oade takes a broader view of lyric identifying traits and characteristics that are common to both music and poetry thus transcending the boundaries of individual art forms in order to consider the genre in larger interdisciplinary terms It offers insights into compositional processes and challenges audiences to think about ways of engaging with music and poetry More than anything it shows how ancient voices continue to resound in modernity and offer everlasting expression for our own experiences and emotions

The Music of Theology Andrew Hass, Mattias Martinson, Laurens ten Kate, 2024-02-01 This book reconceives theology as a musical endeavour in critical tension with language space and silence An Overture first moves us from music to religion and then from theology back to music a circularity that drawing upon history sociology phenomenology and philosophy disclaims any theology of music and instead pursues the music in theology The chapters that follow explore the three central themes by way of theory music and myth Adorno Benjamin and Deleuze language Derrida Rosa and Nancy space Schelling Hegel Homer and Cage silence In overdubbing each other these chapters work towards theology as a sonorous rhythm between loss and freedom A Coda provides three brief musical examples Thomas Tallis Gyrgy Ligeti and Evan Parker as manifestations of this rhythm to show in summary how music becomes the very pulse of theology and theology the very intuition of music The authors offer an interdisciplinary engagement addressing fundamental questions of the self and the other of humanity and the divine in a deconstruction of modern culture and of its bias towards the eye over the ear The book harmonizes three scholarly voices who attempt to find where the resonance of our Western conceptions and practice musically and theologically might resound anew as a more expansive music of theology
