Population Conflict To Consensus:

Population Rafael M. Salas,2000 Routledge Handbook of Asian Demography Zhongwei Zhao,Adrian C.

Hayes,2017-12-14 Home to close to 60 per cent of the world s population Asia is the largest and by far the most populous continent It is also extremely diverse physically and culturally Asian countries and regions have their own distinctive histories cultural traditions religious beliefs and political systems and they have often pursued different routes to development Asian populations also present a striking array of demographic characteristics and stages of demographic transition This handbook is the first to provide a comprehensive study of population change across the whole of Asia Comprising 28 chapters by more than 40 international experts this handbook examines demographic transitions on the continent their considerable variations their causes and consequences and their relationships with a wide range of social economic political and cultural processes Major topics covered include population studies and sources of demographic data historical demography family planning and fertility decline sex preferences mortality changes causes of death HIV AIDS population distribution and migration urbanization marriage and family human capital and labour force population ageing demographic dividends political demography population and environment and Asia s demographic future This handbook provides an authoritative and comprehensive reference for researchers policymakers academics students and anyone who is interested in population change in Asia and the world Democratic Citizenship and War Yoav Peled,Noah

Lewin-Epstein,Guy Mundlak,Jean Cohen,2014-06-03 This edited volume explores the theoretical and practical implications of war and terror situations for citizenship in democratic states Citizenship is a key concept in Western political thought for defining the individual s relations with society The specific nature of these rights duties and contributions as well the relations between them are determined by the citizenship discourses that prevail in each society In wartime including low intensity wars democratic societies face different challenges than the ones facing them during peacetime in areas such as human rights the status of minorities the state s obligations to its citizens and the meaning of social solidarity War situations can affect not only the scope of citizenship as an institution but also the relations between the prevailing discourses of citizenship and between different groups of citizens Since 9 11 and the declaration of the war on terror many democracies have been grappling with issues rising out of the interface between citizenship and war This volume examines the effects of war on various aspects of citizenship practice including immigration and naturalization the welfare state individual liberties gender relations multiculturalism social solidarity and state civil society relations This book will be of great interest to students of military studies political science IR and security studies in general The new politics of population ,1994

Some Have Babies; Others, Regrets! Philip P. Eapen,2010-03-20 Some Have Babies Others Regrets examines the relevance of the creation mandate for human beings to multiply and fill the earth in today s world It evaluates popular notions about the world being over populated in the light of available scientific evidence Wars, Internal Conflicts, and Political Order Gad Barzilai, 2012-02-01 This is the first comprehensive research study to analyze and explain the influence the prolonged Arab Israeli conflict has had on Israel It focuses on the manner in which all of the Israeli Arab wars since 1949 including the Intifada and the Gulf War have affected state and society in Israel In addition it examines the influences of other more limited Israeli military operations These subjects are investigated within a broad theoretical framework based on a critical analysis of the literature The author suggests an analytic qualitative model for understanding wars and internal political order and makes significant corrections to paradigms that deal with political order and wars from the Marxist paradigm to the liberal paradigm

Environmental Change and Security Project Report, 1998 Participation, Representation and Global Civil Society Jane W. Muthumbi, 2010-03-18 This book focuses on religious fundamentalists mobilization efforts against abortion in three United Nations Conferences Using U S Christian and Egyptian Islamic fundamentalist groups as empirical cases this account highlights these groups efforts against the adoption of abortion in the 1984 Mexico Conference on Population the 1994 Cairo conference on Population and the 1995 Beijing Conference on Women The account which examines Northern U S Christian and Southern Egyptian Islamists anti abortion networks participation and representation within these forums provides a unique glimpse into their engagement within international institutions It also explores whether Northern and Southern groups growing involvement in decision making processes has lessened the inequality that historically characterized North South relations in the international arena and compares the strategies and tactics used by these groups as they attempted to influence the debate on reproductive rights within the conferences PrepComs regional forums NGO Forums and the state dominated plenary sessions It also assesses the extent to which these entities were effective in influencing outcomes in these arenas and comments on North South relations in a contemporary context Information on these groups was obtained from interviews with leaders of the U S Christian and Egyptian Islamic fundamentalist groups as well as secondary sources and official U N documents

An Ecological Theory of Democracy William Collins, 2012-12-06 There are a number of people I wish to acknowledge for helping me write this book First the idea of politics as a nonequilibrium process owes its origins largely to a series of ongoing conversations I have had with Father Richard Telnack o c s o Our discussions of Augustine s city of God and Hegel s Phenomenology in the hours before the night office led me to think about the world more as an ongoing flux than as a static rational order The use of structurally unstable dynamical systems to model democratic politics was greatly enhanced by my interactions with Professor Alex Kleiner department of mathematics Drake University Professor Manfred Holler of the University of Aarhus provided a detailed critique of an earlier version His insights and remarks were invaluable in improving the work s content and structure I also wish to thank Dr Werner A Muller director of Physica Verlag for his confidence in my work and his efforts on my behalf Miss Jane Blevins was a patient and thorough typist I thank her for her attention to the production of the manuscript Finally writing a book is in one way a moral act It requires committment to pursue a line of thought to its conclusion when the final results are not clear without the encouragement and support of my wife over a long period of time I would have certainly faltered Whatever good emerges from the work is due largely to her example and patient endurance

Computational Collective Intelligence. Semantic Web, Social Networks and Multiagent Systems Ryszard Kowalczyk, 2009-09-23

Computational collective intelligence CCI is most often understood as a subfield of artificial intelligence AI dealing with soft computing methods that enable group decisions to be made or knowledge to be processed among autonomous units acting in distributed environments The needs for CCI techniques and tools have grown significantly recently as many information systems work in distributed environments and use distributed resources Web based systems social networks and multi agent systems very often need these tools for working out consistent knowledge states resolving conflicts and making decisions Therefore CCI is of great importance for today's and future distributed systems Methodological theoretical and practical aspects of computational collective intelligence such as group decision making collective action coordination and knowledge integration are considered as the form of intelligence that emerges from the collaboration and competition of many individuals artificial and or natural The application of multiple computational intelligence technologies such as fuzzy systems evolutionary computation neural systems consensus theory etc can support human and other collective intelligence and create new forms of CCI in natural and or artificial systems

Alleviating World Suffering Ronald E. Anderson, 2017-03-01 This is the first volume on the subject of the alleviation of world suffering At the same time it is also the first book framing the fields of global socio economic development world health human rights peace studies sustainability and poverty within the challenge of alleviating suffering and improving quality of life Both international studies and global development have become specialized and fragmented whereas this work assembles all of these development fragments together in order to determine whether common ground exists to make headway in reducing global suffering Leading experts in these various fields of development and suffering have been recruited worldwide to give scholarly assessments of the major human problems and how they can be successfully tackled

HICOSPOS 2019 Purwo Santoso, Deddy T Tikson, Eiji Oyamada, Wilfredo Carada, 2019-10-21 We are delighted to introduce the proceeding of the 1st Hasanuddin International Conference on Social and Political Sciences HICOSPOS 2019 The phenomenon of climate change is avoidable since its effects are significantly on both environment and human beings live such as human health agriculture food security water supply energy ecosystem and Here human beings play role as the actors as well as the victim In addition we also face society 5.0 in which integrated system of digital technology brings humans to achieve a high quality of life ideally however this state requires hard and sustainable efforts from all parties such as community of social and political sciences Since every steps of society achievements also bring its consequences in terms of culture and socio political changes both positive and negative effects Complexity phenomena of climate change in one side and society 5.0 in other side it turns should be responded by providing collaborative works among scholars and decision makers International conference therefore becoming a scientific way to experts especially social and political sciences to share and contribute to solve the problems that arise from climate change and society 50 We hope that the proceeding will contribute to dynamic science discourse for responding social and climate changes challenges Current Awareness Bulletin, 1994 Inequality, Crime, And Social Control George S Bridges, 2018-10-08 This book brings together the most recent advances in theory and research on the relationship between social inequality and the control of criminal behavior exploring the ways in which social class race gender and age shape societal and organizational responses to crime The Oxford Companion to Politics of the World Joel Krieger, 2001-08-02 The world has seen dramatic changes since the publication of the first edition of The Oxford Companion to Politics of the World in 1993 In the post Cold War world globalization now offers wealth and opportunities on a broader scale as well as greater international harmony but threatens to reinforce the advantage gap between wealthy and poor regions and intensify environmental degradation Conflict and squalor expressed in brutal brushfire wars epidemics and chronic underdevelopment vie with equally dramatic accounts of growth and democracy associated with a liberal political order and the global diffusion of trade investment and communications Drawing on the breadth of the first edition this updated edition reflects the changing world with a reassessment of many of the core themes of the Companion and new articles on the people concepts and events that have shaped the world since 1993 The second edition includes biographies of Kofi Annan Tony Blair Bill Clinton and Gerhard Schröder articles on events such as the Rwandan Genocide and the war in Kosovo and coverage of international trade developments such as NAFTA and the World Trade Organization Eighty seven of the 672 articles in the Second Edition are completely new most others are thoroughly revised This edition also features a substantial new set of articles a dozen essays on critical issues written by influential figures Recognizing the importance of including varying viewpoints the editors have commissioned these essays to provide an informed and often passionate debate on controversial topics Discussions include Lani Guinier and Glenn Loury on Affirmative Action Francis Fukuyama and Milton Fisk on the Limits of Liberal Democracy and Lloyd Axworthy and John Bolton on the United Nations The contributors discuss nearly every nation in the world including extensive information on institutions political parties leaders and the sources of political mobilization and conflict The volume also includes biographies of more than seventy five political leaders and thinkers who have shaped the contemporary political world Articles include detailed discussions of critical historical developments and events concepts international law and organizations The Oxford Companion to Politics of the World Second Edition is an accessible timely thought provoking and comprehensive reference that captures the complexity and vitality of contemporary world affairs Constructing White-collar Crime Joachim J. Savelsberg, Peter Brühl, 1994 In Constructing White Collar Crime Joachim J Savelsberg a sociologist and Peter Brühl a lawyer have provided an interdisciplinary case study of the construction of new German laws against white collar crime relating their results to internationally comparative findings Madness in International Relations Alison Howell, 2011-05-30 Madness in International Relations provides an important and innovative account of the role of psychology and psychiatry in global politics showing how mental health governance has become a means of securing various populations often with questionable effects Through the analysis of three key case studies Howell illustrates how such therapeutic interventions can at times be coercive and sovereign at other times disciplinary and at still other times benevolent though not benign In each case a diagnostic competition is traced that is a contestation over how best to diagnose and treat the population in question The book examines the populations of Guant namo Bay post conflict societies and western militaries identifying how these diagnostic competitions ultimately rest on shared assumptions about the value of psychology and psychiatry in managing global security about the value of achieving security through mental health governance and ultimately about the medicalization of security This work will be of great interest to all scholars of International relations critical theory and security studies

Crime and Disrepute John Hagan, 1994-02-14 Advances a new sociology of crime and disrepute that focuses on the criminal costs of social inequality Connects the diversion of capital away from distressed communities in the U S to increased violence and lack of social mobility for disadvantaged groups which result in the development of deviance service centers and ethnic vice industries Shows the important link between crime in the streets and crime in the suites and the differences between the two in eluding punishment

Encyclopedia of Immigrant Health Sana Loue, Martha Sajatovic, 2014-06-20 There is increasing interest in the scientific literature on immigrant health and its impact on disease transmission disease prevention health promotion well being on an individual and population level health policy and the cost of managing all these issues on an individual institutional national and global level The need for accurate and up to date information is particularly acute due to the increasing numbers of immigrants and refugees worldwide as the result of natural disasters political turmoil the growing numbers of immigrants to magnet countries and the increasing costs of associated health care that are being felt by governments around the world

Format and Scope The first portion of the encyclopedia contains chapters that are approximately 25 to 40 manuscript pages in length Each overview chapter includes a list of references and suggested readings for cross referencing within the encyclopedia The opening chapters are Immigration in the Global Context Immigration Processes and Health in the U S A Brief History Alternative and Complementary Medicine Culture Specific Diagnoses Health Determinants Occupational and Environmental Health Methodological Issues in Immigrant Health Research Ethical Issues in Research with Immigrants and Refugees Ethical Issues in the Clinical Context The second portion of the book consists of alphabetical entries that relate to the health of immigrants Entries are interdisciplinary and are drawn from the following fields of study anthropology demographics history law linguistics medicine population studies psychology religion and sociology Each entry is followed by a listing of suggested readings and suggested resources and also links to related terms within the whole book

Outstanding Features The book adopts a biopsychosocial historical approach to the topics covered in the chapters and the entries Each entry includes suggested readings and suggested resources The chapters and entries are written graduate level that is accessible to all academics researchers and professionals from diverse backgrounds We consider the audience for the entries to be well educated but a non expert in this area The primary focus of the book is on the immigrant populations in and immigration to magnet countries References are made to worldwide trends and issues arising globally In addition to the comprehensive subject coverage the text also offers diverse perspectives The editors themselves reflect the multidisciplinary nature of the topics with expertise in psychiatry law epidemiology anthropology and social work Authors similarly reflect diverse disciplines

Transforming Ethnopolitical Conflict Alex Austin, Martina Fischer, Norbert Ropers, 2013-04-17 Preface

Confronted with a wide variety of conflicts the international community has attempted to respond through humanitarian assistance development aid crisis prevention and conflict resolution programmes To date many of these activities have exacerbated conflict dynamics as much as they have enhanced the opportunities for sustainable development and peace In an effort to understand what works lessons learned and best practices are being collected usually in the form of evaluations of individual projects or programs Although the number of studies undertaken has increased few lessons have been systematised or accumulated for broader discussion in the academic field or for practitioners use The Berghof Research Center for Constructive Conflict Management produced this Handbook in response to the contemporary challenges which have to be faced by those who are working in and on violent conflict The intention is to give an overview of recent developments in the field of conflict transformation from various perspectives from academic analysts and practitioners as well as from experts representing different areas of work inside and outside of conflict zones
