Southeast Asia No index Distributed by Westview Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Nation-Building and Common Values in Russia Pål Kolstø, Helge Blakkisrud, 2005-11 Vladimir Putin has explicitly based his nation building initiatives on the assumption that there exists a vast pool of common values in Russia that cut across ethnic and regional divides Nation Building and Common Values in Russia explores whether Putin is correct in his assumption and to what degree a commonality of values among the citizens of a country is a crucial element in the establishment of a common identity among them The study raises two basic questions Which values are actually common among various groups in Russia's population And which nation building strategies are the Russian authorities actually pursuing centrally and locally Sociological and political approaches to the study of nation building and national cohesion in Russia are employed to answer these questions and the findings contribute to a better understanding of nation building processes in post Communist Russia in general and of Putin's strategies in particular Rethinking Ethnicity Eric P. Kaufmann, 2004-08-02 The impact of liberal globalization and multiculturalism means that nations are under pressure to transform their national identities from an ethnic to a civic mode This has led in many cases to dominant ethnic decline but also to its peripheral revival in the form of far right politics At the same time the growth of mass democracy and the decline of post colonial and Cold War state unity in the developing world has opened the floodgates for assertions of ethnic dominance This book investigates both tendencies and argues forcefully for the importance of dominant ethnicity in the contemporary world Strategies of Symbolic Nation-building in South Eastern Europe Pål Kolstø, 2016-04-01 After the conflagration of Tito's Yugoslavia a medley of new and not so new states rose from the ashes Some of the Yugoslav successor states have joined or are about to enter the European Union while others are still struggling to define their national borders symbols and relationships with neighbouring states Strategies of Symbolic Nation building in South Eastern Europe expands upon the existing body of nationalism studies and explores how successful these nation building strategies have been in the last two decades Relying on new quantitative research results the contributors offer interdisciplinary analyses of symbolic nation building in Albania Bosnia Herzegovina Croatia Kosovo Macedonia Montenegro and Serbia to show that whereas the citizens of some states have reached a consensus about the nation building project other states remain fragmented and uncertain of when the process will end A must read not only for scholars of the region but policy makers and others interested in understanding the complex interplay of history symbolic politics and post conflict transition By Force of Arms Paul Keenan, 2013-09-01 Burma has been racked by extensive ethnic conflict As numerous groups sought to secure their individual ethnic rights successive Burmese governments sought to destroy them through numerous counter insurgency measures negotiated ceasefires and by integrating them into Burma Army controlled Border Guard Forces or militias By Force of Arms provides background information on the numerous armed ethnic groups that have emerged in the country since independence It highlights the various reasons for conflict and argues that while military force has been successfully used in preserving ethnic rights as the country moves forward new methods have to be explored It states that for genuine peace to be attained armed ethnic groups need to reassess their methodologies and motivations and both the Government and Non State Armed Actors need to hold substantive political dialogue before there can be genuine peace Pennsylvania School Journal ,1916
